

7 THE MOST excellent, profitable, and pleasa- nt booke of the famous doctour and ex- pert Astrologien Arcandain or Alean- dyin, to fynd the fatal destiny, constellation, complexion, and naturall inclination of every man and childe by his byrth: with an addition of Physiognomie very delectable to reade. Now newly touned out of French into our vulgare tongue, by William Warde.

*Richard
 Lister*

M. 12. 86

Printed at London by Iames Rowbotham and are to be solde at his shop in Cheryn-syde, vnder Bowe church.

1. The first of these is the fact that the
 2. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 3. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 4. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 5. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 6. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 7. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 8. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 9. of the world is not a uniform one, but
 10. of the world is not a uniform one, but

Printed and Published by James Rowlandson and sold by all the Booksellers in London, under New Street.

217:99

To the ryght honorable and vertuous lord the Carle of Shrovesbury, knyght of the moſte noble order of the Garter. &c.
James Rowbothum wyſheth longe lyfe, with the increaſe of godly honour.

Doubt not (right honorable) but the mynde of man is free, and hath the rule and power of him ſelfe throughte the vertue of hys libertie, and that the wiſe man by his reaſon, and reaſonable ſapience, hath dominion over the ſtarres and their impreſſi-ons, namely over all naturall inclinations, and celeftiall deſtinies, withoute any forced neceſſitie to do this or that, which commeth by the grace and gifte of God, the gouernour of the vniuerſal worlde. Euen ſo Solon (by reaſon ruling him) auoyded whoredome, although he were naturallie endyned thereto, yet not withſtanding it is moſt

The p[re]face.

most certayne, that men haue some inclinations and complexion[s] by nature which some men knowe either by Astro-logie, or by coniecture of their nature, called Physognomie, and thei that con-iecture are called in Greeke Physognomonei, which tell by coniectures, notes, signes and tokens, the inclinations of mens affections. The Philosophers indeed haue inuented and found out physionomy to the great commoditie of men, for to knowe to what vertue or what vice yong children were enclined to the end thei might amend their vicious and faultie nature with good education, & not to geue the bydle to thei affections, but to moue them to sciences, studies, and other qualities, whereunto nature moste calleth them and maketh them moste enclined. So Apelles and Zeuxis folowed and learned naturally the arte of painting. So Polypletus and Parricetes folowed the art of making pictures & images.
So Demosthenes & Cicero chose the art

The preface.

art of Oratorie and eloquence, in pleading matters in the law: So Homers and Virgil folowed poetrie: So Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle handled Philosophie. And now all is altered and chaunged and almost cleane ouerturned, and goeth (as I might saye) ouerthwartly lyke the Crabbe. For he that should be naturally a plowman, is forced to the study of pleading, and to be an Oratour or Philosopher, or elles of some higher learning, snoozing on his booke, turning and returning himself this way and that way, as though he sat vpon coales or hoate embers. Contrariwise, they that are well borne, and called by the benefite of nature to all honesty often times are constrained to scruple doynge. The knowledge then of Physiognomy is requisite & profitable to men, so that men abuse it not, as some fond people do (commonly called Egyptians) which are as it were raui-ning Harpies, hunting after the gaine of money, which haue brought to passe

The pface.

by their lyes, that this parte of philosophie is now in no estimation, which is to be lamented. seying that euen Hunters know by cōiectures, notes, signes, draughtes, lineamentes, & sight of the body, the nature and propertie of dogs: And by the lyke meanes Horsecofers do knowe the nature of Horses, as the Poete Wergill describeth in the thirde booke of his Georgykes saying.

The good Colt by and by marcheth high vpon the grounde, & orderly extol- leth himself, or elles setteth down often tymes his soft thighes the one after the other: And first he dare goe in durty wayes, or into great riuers, and enter vpon a brydge whiche he knoweth not neither feareth he any vaine noyse or cry. The good horse hath a high neck, a lytle head, a short belly, fat behinde, & faire before, hauinge a full mane. The red is faire, faire also is the speckled, faire is the browne baye: and euill is a whyte colour in a horse. And worse is the colour betwene whyte and red.

The preface.

A good horse can not stande still at the sounde of a trumpet that he heareth a far of. The eare we see waggeth vp & dowen, euery member moueth, soming at the mouth, he bjeatheth out and ga-thereth in vnder his nostrils fier & hote bzeath. A thicke mane hangyng on the syde alonge downe all his necke; and a double chyne ending broad vpon his back. He treadeth deepe in the ground, and in treadinge he astonisheth it. His hard hoofe of horne soweth, with other qualittes belogging to a good horse.
But nowe a dayes no man careth to conferre, or to know by coniectures, or to referre mans naturall inclinations to such a profit. And though there were no other profite risynge by it but only to make a troubled mynde merry (whereunto we oftentimes see mistake applied which is one of the sciences commonly called liberall:) this art of phyllogomy ought not be contemned.
And therefore wayninge w my selfe the pleasauntnes of this part of philosophy
and

The p[re]face,

and hauing occasion to publishe in one bulgare tongue this litle booke of Ar-candani or Aleandri doctor & mosse expert Astrologian, treating of the predictions of the birth & fatall disposition of young childre. I was so bold as to dedicate & fruite of this labour vnto your lordship, and to honour it with the honourable style of your honours name; most humbly beseeching your lordshipp fauorably to accept it as offered of one who wisheth vnto you and yours all health, wealth, long life, and much en-crease of vertue & honour, nothing dou-tinge but that after your lordshippes mergitt and serious affaires, you shal not be greued to recreate your self with the reading of some pleasaunt parts hereof, whiche maye ease such tedious exercises as your lordship may vpon occassions take in hande.

Your honours most humble,

James Rowbotham.

A brieue declaration moſte certaine and profitable, for to fynde out (as much as the art of Aſtronomie can certifie) mans ſate and conſtellation indicative, touching the naturall inclination of man: Made by Arcandani the learned and expert Aſtrologian.

The maner to fynde oute the deſtine and conſtellation is this. Firſt, if you ſhall knowe the conſtel-lation of any man, take his natural name which is commonly called his proper name and the proper name of his mother, in ſuche ſort as neither of y<sup>e</sup> ſaid two names in any wiſe be chaunged or depraved from the vulgare or proper callinge (as often tymes it chauneth by the common apellation of mens names) but that they be perfect and not diminiſhed. And for two cauſes the name of the mother is A.1. taken

Arccandam.

taken and not of the father. First, because the mothers syde is moze apparent then the fathers. Secondlye, although the father be the originall of the conception and generation of the childe yet the chylde touchyng the bodey hath moze of the mothers matter and substance then of the fathers. Yea and as oftentymes it happeneth, some parte of the fathers seede doeth not entre nor serue touchyng the materiall composition. For man is verely a thyng actiue, and by no meanes passiue, and touchyng him selfe can haue no action. Whereby it consequently appeareth that the child concernyng the bodey hath moze of the mothers substance then of the fathers. Wherevnto a thyrde cause maye be added, that so: as muche as the chylde is nourished of the mothers substance and not of the fathers, that then the constellation enforseyng hys effect & signe in the chylde's body, doeth rather conuert the same with the mother & the bodey of the mother, then with the father and the bodey

Armandam.

body of the father. And therefore truly and determinative to know and learne the childes fate and constellation, bys proper name muste be taken togethers with the natural and proper name of the mother. When diligently consider every letter of the said two names, and amon-ges the same gather y numeral letters, suche as signifie a number, which accor-dyng to the auncient accompt are seven as. I. signifieth one. II. two. III. thre. IV. four. V. a hundreth. VI. five hundreth, VII. signifieth a thousand.

Taking all and singular letters of the sayde two names, as well the number as such as signifie a number. Then gather the whole summe, which summe so collected, divide if it be possible by. xiiij. because of the, xiiij. constellations of the heaven, or because of the particuler signes celestiall whiche after the auncient manner is the firste division of the signes. And hereby it appeareth that the principall partes of the particular names and signes celestial in number A.ii. are

Arctandam.

are.rrir.as here after shall appeare. So that the number signified by the nume-rall letters of the two proper names aforelaid ought to be deuided by reason of the sayde signes. And sometymes the sayde number doth amount fuste to the summe of .rrir. and sometyme it erredoth the same. wherein is to be noted that either the number doth errede or elles is equall.

If it errede, then the number ought to be applied and diuided by theyr vnties to the sayde signes appoynte to euery of the signes their vnties begynnyng at the first signe which is the head of Aries and so of the reste successiuelye. And where so euer the last vntie shall faile or shall be placed, there and in that signe and in the parte of that signe, the Infant (whose constellation you seeke to knowe) undoubtedly is borne, and thereby you shal geue iudge-ment and truly pronounce that in that signe the fate and constellation of the Infant consisteth. Not withstanding that

Alexandam.

that peradventure, accordyng to the maner and course of the starres, tymes and monethes, some other signe shoulde seeme to haue dominion ouer that natiuitie. And because that the signe where in certaynely the Infant is bozne doeth not alone beare rule in the tyme of the byrthe, but all and singuler effectuallye doe concurre accordyng to the more or lesse in euery nautie. So that oftsones it chanceth that some signe distinct from that signe appropziat to the moneth doth more effectuallye rule and more excel-lentlye expresse his effectes. Wherefore to the intent you maye perfectly beholde the fate and constellation of the partie that is bozne, you must not onely looke vpon the signe allotted and appropriate to that moneth wherein determinatiue any is bozne; but chiefly you must haue respecte to that signe whiche speciallye hath dominion aboue others in the tyme of the byrthe, not withstandinge that signe appropriate to the moneth hath the principall effect.

A.iii.

And

Arcañdair.

And whether one signe is more excellent or effectuell then another you may moste certainlye and truly knowe by this arte.

Let vs retourne then vnto our former proposition, and saye that either the summe of the number signified by the numeral letters of the names aforesayd doth not amounte to .xxix. or elles that it doth principally atteyne to that summe, or is equall, or elles exceedeth the same. But nowe after the agreement and concord of the number, take also the conuocation and assemble of the signes celestiall, whiche are touching theyr particular partes. xxix. as is aforesayde, or xxx. as shalbe sayde hereafter, begynnynge at the first particular signe, which is the head of the signe Aries. And wher so ever the laste vntie of this number shall reste or remaine, that is the speciall signe and is of most force in the tyme of the nauitie. But if this number dothe not surpasse the number of .xxix. but therevnto is equall, then the laste signe which

Arctandain.

whiche is the taylor of Pisces is the chiefest signe at the natiuitie. Semblablye of this number doeth excede the number of .xxix. then this number is to be diuided so manye tymes by .xxix. till the number of .xxix. be founde out. And then for euerye vnitie one signe must be accounted yeldyng to euery signe his vnitie: and then the laste vnitie, whiche is .xxix. is attributed to .xxix. and to the last signe whiche is the taylor of Pisces, as was sayde a lytle before, and that signe chiefly hath dominion in the natiuitie of the infants. But if that number lastly remainyng be within the number of .xxix. then euerye vnitie of this number ought to be distributed to euerye particular signe beginninge first at the head of Aries, and wheresoeuer the laste vnitie of this number doth remaine the same is the principall signe, and chiefly hath gouernement at the byrth of the infant.

Here also oughte diligently to be noted that the celestiall signes maye be taken two wayes, that is to saye totally or

A.iiii.

touchyng

Armandain.

touchyng the whole effectes of the same and are in number but twelue. What is to wete: Aries (and is the first signe, at whiche you must begynne, and then fo-lowe successiuelly tyll you come to the signe of Pisces whiche is the twelfeth) Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagitarius, Capricornus, Aquarius, Pisces. Nowe eche of these signes in his whole effecte doeth especiallly beare rule in that moneth whiche is appropriate to the same. And euery signe intierly hath dominion ouer euery moneth suche as therevnto is appointed. As for example: Aries hath dominion in Marche which is the first mo-neth accordyng to the computation of Astronomers. Lyke wyse Taurus in Aprill, and so the rest consequently succedyng. And although the foresayde signes singulerly and appropriatlye haue their monethes speciallly assigned as is aforesayde, yet all these twelue signes in euery moneth at all tymes, euery day and houre, euery moment & minute of

Accandant.

of an houre, do concurre in the nauitie of euery byrthe, although not equallye yet accoꝝdyng to the mooꝝe oꝝ lesse. And that signe whiche chiefly hath Dominion in the natiuitie, the same is the constellation of the Infant. Moreover the signe wherein the Infant is boꝝne, although it be not that signe which is ap-propꝛiat to the moneth but some other, yet it is easie to be knowen frō the signe perticularly appoynted to the sayde mo-neth, Likewyse the sayde signes maye be taken tivo wayes not intierly but specially touchynge their partes and by acceptyng the same in suche perticular wise (chiefely after the reconing of aun-cient Astronomers) they be nyne and twentye, for syue of them that is to saye: Taurus, Gemini, Leo, Scorpio, and Aquarius are euerye of theym diuꝝded into thre pꝛyncipall partes. As into the Head, the Beallye, and Tayle, and is as muche to saye, into the begynnynge, the myddle, and the ende.

A.b.

Where.

Arcaudain.

Whereby it foloweth that these fyue figures so deuided doe include systene particuler sygnes whiche are there. .xv. principall partes for thre tymes v. make systene. And the other seuen sygnes. That is to saye Aries, Cancer, Virgo, Libra, Sagittarius, Capricornus and Pisces, emongs whom thre partes are containned in Virgo for his taile is diuided into twayne as shall bee saide hereafter, althoughe here it hath but. ii. partes. All which seuen are deuided but into two principall partes, to wete into the heade and taile and so include. xiiii. particuler sygnes for twise seue is xiiii. Whereby it manifestlye appeareth by the premysses that the sygnes particulerye accepted are in number. xxii. because .xv. and. xiiii. make. xxix. Further it is to be noted that in all and euey the aforesaid signes being wholly accompted according to the maner before remembred al these. xii. are concurrents eyther more or lesse in the natiuitie of euey infante. For eche man hath in the foresayd signes

Arandain.

signies a parte & proprietie as for example. The infante that is bozhe in Aries, disposeth his lyfe in that sygne and in that parte of Aries which is most pliant to his natiuitie. And specially the parte whiche accordyng to the quantitie hathe cheifest dominio in that sygne, and is the syfte house of his natiuitie whiche is a signifier of lyfe. &c. And also placeth in the sayde sygne his speche, wysedome, augmentation of al his workes, his begynnyng, his name, and the originall of his lyfe and yeres.

Aries.

In Taurus is conteyned the substaunce of the infante, his gaine or losse his liuing, Debtes, Gyftes, Seruauntes, Helpers, such as be obedient to his commaundementes, his witnesses and treasure. And this sygne because it is the seconde house signifieth the ende of hys youth.

Taurus.

Gemini are bretheren. This sygne because it is the thyrde house is a token of bretheren, systers, scendes neighbors bretheren of husbannes and suche as pro-cede

Gemini.

Arctandall.

cede of the mothers syde, and signifieth the mother her selfe. Lykewyle it is a token of sayth, religion, commaundementes, embassadours, newes, mutations, small iorneyes, and a space of lyfe before death appoche.

Cancer.

In Cancer the Infante dispolet hys father, graundfather, and all his parentes on hys fathers syde, to wete, all his auncetours ascendynge from the ryght lyne males, and his sisters and othre inheritours, except such as are inheritours by the succession of the dead. Also it signifieth houses landes, rightes, treasures, and what so ever is hid vnder grounde, prisons, and prisoners, and all suche as happeneth to the dead beyng buried, after the buryall, or without burial, as eft soones it chaunceth to such as be hanged, beheaded, or otherwise slaine. And because it is the fourth house it signifieth death before he growe to mans state and the ende of thynges.

Leo.

Leo betokeneth Infantes, loue, messangers, nouelties, giftes, rewarde, saye

Arcandam.

sayre promyses, or myrthe, goods by the father & such as shall happen after death whether it be praise or infamie.

In the vi. sygne whiche is Virgo are conteyned infirmities, and thyngs contrary to health, seruantes, maides, hy-nge, accusation, bntighteousnes, plases prisons, mutation from place to place, Catayll of small stature. And because this sygne is the sixth house it doth infi-nuate ende of life and all suche thynges as shall happen before olde age.

Virgo.

In Libra whiche is the seventh sygne marriages are conteyned, mischief and peryll in marriage, contencions, open enimies, warres, enimities, theues, partakynge and opposition and euerpe thyng opposite, participation of marchandise, expedite and small voyages, and because it is the seventh house it noteth the moitie and ende of lyfe towarde olde age.

Libra.

In scorpio is conteyned death, feare, labour, labour, dispeyre, seperatio, aide of aduersaries, pollicies, witte, letall, poyson,

Scorpio.

Arcandain.

poppon, substance of hereditamentes as well of straungers as of affinite suche as the heyers oughte to possesse after death and signifieth because it is y<sup>e</sup> eight house ende of lyfe after the appochement of olde age.

Sagittarius.

In Sagittarius beinge the .ix. house are expessed longe journeyes, & farre pegrinations and all thinges thereunto incident. Also it signifieth faith, religion, wisdom, Philosophie, writings, Bookes, Epistles, Jewes, interpretations of dreames and thynges to come great wonders, muche honour and lope.
And for as muche as this figure is loze of the nyth house it signifieth a beginnyng and enterance into halfe of the lyfe.

Capricornus.

The .x. house is Capricornus which presygurateth kingdome, government, auctorite, dignities offices and all artes that maye be exercised and wherby a man maye be a pastor it signifieth also ecclesiastical iurisdiction, thyngs done of carrieth alwaye, prayse and fame it pronostica

Arctandam.

pronosticateth also mothers, graunde mothers, & ancestors of feminine kinde, mothers in lawe, and halfe the tearme of lyfe.

In the eleuenth sygne which is Aqua rius the birth appointeth his proper and prosperous constellation, and it beto: keneth praiſe honour, greate fortune, saythefull frendes ayde of kynges and princes, treasour, and societie and sygni: feth half the yeares of mannes life.

Aquarius.

Pisces being the twelfth house doth demonstrate significations of twerines, sadnes, pouertie, priuyc hatred, deceipt feare, sorowe, lamentacion, blasphemye ambushmentes, houses, prisons, captiue bandes, rebuke, and beastes meete to ryde vppon.

Pisces.

In maner aboue expressed is intrea: ted onelye of the infante borne in Aries althoughe the same must be diuided and spoken of euery sygne ascending in the natiuitie of euery byrth and of all other sygnes folowing the sygne of the natiui: tie til by recours the number of .12. be at:
tayned

Attendant.

tayned whether anye be bozne in Taurus oꝛ in Gemini whiche is in order, is wꝛitten the thyrde signe oꝛ in any of the twelue signes. And therefore you shall diligently note that euerye of the aforesayde houses is in him selfe the first, and hath his seconde, thyrde, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eyght, nyenth, tenth, eleuenth, and twelfth house. And this I remember because the lyke wherof we haue sayde of the signes, the same I woulde shoulde be vnderstanded of the houses. And euerye house accoꝛdyng to their qualities hath eleuen other houses beside him selfe of whome their significations be derliued.

¶ All which (wellbeloued reader) maye through the dexteritie of thy witt be easely vnderstanded, whether the infant be bozne in Taurus, in Gemini oꝛ in Libra, as before. And so euerye man maye learne to knowe by this art determinatly his owne fate, his proper and passiue constellation, not forced of necessitie, but by the naturall inclination.

Because

Armandam.

because as Ptolemeus sayeth, a wyse man shal rule the starres. As muche to saye. A wyse man maye let and prohibite the very future effectes, which procede of the starres and the influences thereof. And so yf he wyll he maye rule the sayde starres and heavenly motions. And therefore so; a monition vnto thee, the sayde starres doe not enforce and constrain thee to any thyng, except it be suche as are proclpyue and readye to be obeyed by them, and suche as wyll folowe nature rather then reason after the maner of brute beastes. Wherefore for a more euident doctrine and instruction of the premises, the Scheme or figure ensuwyng is placed.

The heavenly inclination be no increase to the wyse.

13.1.

The

The fyrst celestia principall and entier sygne called Aries.

The Figure,

(Proonetyde.)

The house cadent.

not
of a dial-into princl partes aining chap-fyrste ular

and og of dy.

The Figure,

Arcandam.

In the fyfte treatise the sayde signe of Aries is discribed with the efficacie and power thereof. Which Aries is diuided into two pꝛincipall partes. What is to saye, into the head and tayle. And this treatise conteyneth. v. Chapters.

Aries diuided into two pꝛincipall partes containing fyue chapters.

In the fyꝛst the head of Aries is described with the efficacie and fortune thereof. In the seconde the tayle and force thereof. In the thyrde the special iudgement of Aries accordynge to the male. In the fourth, the iudgement speciall after the female. In the fyfte and laste the generall and totall fortune of Aries.

10. 1000
3000

The fyꝛst Chapter which is the head of Aries, being the fyꝛst particuler signe celestiaall is called Aluathay, & after some mens opinions Salhay, haupnge foure starres disposed in this maner. Where is to be not vnderstanded that who so euer is boꝛne in this signe touchynge the disposition of the boꝛde, accordynge to the effect of þe signe shalbe somewhat ruddy or the fyꝛst particuler sygne.

colour and making of the body.

B. ii. j

yellow

Place this figure next before the signe of Aries.

Arcaudain.

In the fyfte treatise the sayde signe of Aries is discribed with the efficacie and power thereof. Which Aries is diuided into two principal partes. What is to saye, into the head and tayle. And this treatise conteyneth. v. Chapters.

In the fyyst the head of Aries is described with the efficacie and fortune thereof. In the seconde the tayle and force thereof. In the thyrde the special iudgement of Aries accordynge to the male. In the fourth, the iudgement speciall after the female. In the fyfte and laste the generall and totall fortune of Aries.

Aries diuided into two principal partes containing fyue chapters.

The fyyst Chapter which is the head of Aries, being the fyyst particuler signe celestiaill is called Aluathay, & after some mens opinions salhay, hauynge foure starres disposed in this maner. Where is to be not vnderstanded that who so euer is bozne in this signe touchynge the disposition of the bodye, accordynge to the effect of y<sup>e</sup> signe shalbe somewhat ruddy or the fyfte particuler sygne.

colour and making of the body.

13.11.

yellow

place this figure next beate the uigne of Aries.

Arctandam.

Marke or sygue.

Inheritance

Good fortune.

Significations of the mynde.

Infirmities

pellowe colour, and shall haue a smale bealy, nymble and straitte, thynne and leane of body, and shall also haue vpon his left foote a sygne or marke, and the lyke vpon the left elbowe. And if fortune fauour he shal haue a mutable en-heritaunce. That is to saie beyng once obteyned shall sodenly be losse, and yet in shoyt tyme shal recouer it again. And this parte of fortune is by a certaine nature indifferent. Likewise touchyng the good fortune, the same shall haue many frendes, and shall hate the euill and followe the good, imploying good tournes vpon ingrate and vnthankesfull men.
Touchyng the disposition of the mynde he shall be subtille, politike, and craftye.
And concernyng infirmities, and sick-nes, the same shall be moze prone to paynes in the head then to anye other disease, wherewith he shalbe behemently vexed, besydes whiche disease the healthe shall bee good and prosperous.
And for a moze apte aduertisement of the fortune of this signe, I referre to

Arcandam.

The vniuersal chapter of this signe Aries where is entreated the entier effects and generall fortune thereof, and is the last Chapter of thys treatise.

The seconde Chapter mencioneth the taile of Aries, or the latter part ther of, accordyng to the signe particuler is called Allothayn and of some Albuthou.

the.ii. peri
culer signe

This signe hath foure starres, one in the tayle and thzee in the loynes or bel lye figured in thys maner. Where is to be noted that who euer is borne in the tayle of Aries or in the seconde particu lar sygne celestiall.

* * *

*

Fyrst touching the disposition of the bo dye shall be very hearpe, and shall haue a greate bearde, coloured eyes, whyte teethe, a sayre nose, greate eye Brow es, and shall bee of colour Redde mixte wth the Croceall or Safferon colour.

the body.

B.iii.

And

Arcaidain.

the mynde
and qualities therof.

the terme
of lyfe.

ill fortune

And touchynge the disposition of the mynde,shalbe eloquent,solitarie in life, prodigall in necessitie ,deceyptfull , and many tymes shall folow after ambushments, and prone to hurte others. If the same be bozne in the seconde houre of the nyght, there shalbe a white oꝝ pearle in the eye, and in the ende shalbe starkelynde , and touchynge the myndes inclination shalbe a searcher of wordes, factes , and other secretes . Lyke wyse shalbe irefull , enuious , and yet shalbe rather enuied of others, then greatly given to that vice. Whereof it wyll come to passe that he shall haue many enemies which wyll seeke after his destruction. And touching the lyfe and maner thereof, he shall lyue fourtie yeres and then shall ware sicke , but if he shall chaunce to recouer that sicknes he shall lyue foure score yeres , and then dye in his bedde . Moreover touchynge ill fortune , he shall haue a strype in the face either with a sworde oꝝ stone, and shalbe afflicted with many miseries. So that he

Arcaidam.

he shall receyue no commoditie wythoute losse and some hynderaunce. Good fortune.
And concernynge prosperous fortune, he shall be happye in tillage.

The thyrd Chapter wherein the iud-gement of Aries is remembred touchyng the male, and bothe partes of this signe because both do concurre in all the effectes determinatly, especially concerning the sayde male. What so euer male therefore, that is borne in this signe and the body. in euery part thereof, after the disposition of his body shal haue a certain marke in his shulders, and in his lefte foote as is sayde before. Secundarely touchyng the mynde his mynde, he shalbe of good stomacke, Audious, proude, inconstant and lyuely.
And in his fyrst degree of youth he shal-be very contencious, irefull, and shame-fast. He shalbe very couetous, and shall attayne to great authoritie in bying and selling, by reason he shall deny that he hath any substance, affirmyng hymselfe to be very poore & worthe nothing.
He shalbe glotonous, and in all meates shall

Accandam.

shall fynde lacke, that is to saye, not satisfified, whereby hys rauenous & greedy stomacke shall continuallye murmoure and grudge. Inwardely he shall create wyth anger, and can not keepe it secret, but vtter and disclose the same. Lyke wyse he shall bee a lyer and fals in wordes, saynyng fayre speache, amiable countenaunce and obedient gesture, and thereby hyde his dissimulation and falsehood, he shall speake one thyng and doe another, promysyng golden hylls, but performe nothyng. Wherby, touchyng his lyfe and maner thereof, he shall passe parte of hys lyfe in great authoritie. And shall suffer payne in the stomacke, and for a womans sake shall susteyne muche sorowe. Also he shall receyue woundes of foure footed beastes as of hoxses, and suche lyke, whereby he shall bee in daunger of death. Also aboute the thre and twentye, and fyue and therty yeres of hys age he shalbe in peryll of popson, wherouer, yf he escape certayne diseases, he

Chauces
in the lyfe syme.

Arcaudain.

ses, he shall lyue tyll the age of foure score and seven yeres, and three monethes. And the Mondaye shall be hys contrarye daye. And therefore lette him not walhe hys head nor putte on any newe apparell, or begynne any notable thyng vppon that daye, because all suche thynges hauynge respecte to misfortune and maner of lyuynge are infortunate.

Diseases.

Contrarye

Fourthlye, touchynge the good fortune, he shall haue good lucke to other mens goods. He shall be made ryche by his wyfe, and shall attayne to great substaunce. He shall enioye great store of cattaille, and shall daylye encrease to further wealth. He shall wander into far countreys, for saking both his owne countrey & parents. When he cometh to xliiij. yeres of age he shal attaine to better things & shall haue to do with a masse of monei. And being .xl. yeres old he shalbe of great wealth & amout to great dignitie: such things as he goth about to take in hand shalbe brought to great perfectio.

Good fortune.

B. b.

Dis

Arctandain.

2
Marriage.

His promotions or offices he shall exercise with much fauour . He shall not marrye his fyrste wyfe whiche shall be allotted vnto hym , but another of whome he shall haue noble and worthy Chyldren . He shall lone and be dayly conuersant wylth the Catholicke Church. And to speake vniuersallye suche as are borne in the tyme of the daye, shall be fortunate and in great fauour with Prynces and noble men, but if in the myght they be vnfortunat.

description of the bo-
dye.

The fourth Chapter discourseth the iudgement of Aries, concernynge bothe partes and the efficacie of the same, especially touchyng the female . Wherefore the mayde that is borne in thys sygne shall haue in the myddest of her bodye before or behynde, or vppon her feete, certayne naturall markes, and a heare dependynge downe to her feete.

the minde.

Lyke wyse touchynge the disposition of her mynde , she shall be diligent and paynesfull. She shall be fayre, curste and curious of thynges newe . She shall haue

Accandam.

haue a certayne honourable shamefast-nesse, that is to saye, endued wth chastitie and bashfulnes, and therefore called honourable. She shall be merpe, and her my<sup>g</sup>the shall daylye encrease.

Lykewys that thyng which is done by her aduise shall haue good perfection. And after the vnicitie and lyuely-nesse of her spryte, she shall be curste and tauntinge in wordes. And touching her lyfe and maner of her lyfe, she shall be full of syckennesse from the age of foure yeres to seuentene yeres, and then let her beware of marriage.

Lykewys she shall suffer a certayne infirmite called the lunatyke passion, whiche is a great disease, and yf she escape the same, she shall lyue tyll she be thye score and nyne yeres of age.

Touching her good fortune, she shall enioye the goodes of her parentes and shall trauaile in places vnknownen, and after .xxiii. yeres of age, she shall arriue in places of better aduenture. She shall haue manye Chylzen by her husbande

and

Sicknes,

Marriage.

Length of
lyfe.

Good fortune.

Arcandam.

All fortune and shall bee called a mother of other menne's chyldren, but her first begotten shall dye. And touchynge her euyl fortune, she shall be hurte of a foure footed beast and subiect to many perilles.

Forreyn menes. The fyrte Chapter of this treatise, mencioneth the generall fortune of Arieries. Where it is to be knowen that the signe of Aries touchynge bothe partes, signifieth fortune in warrefare, and the service of others. Lyke wyse fortune in all kyndes of marchaundise especially in redde thynges, bloudye thynges, and in fyre and bloode, in the shambles, and in euery facte done by fier, it signifieth fortune in hospitalitie. Infantes Infirmities bozne in this signe, males or females, shalbe boyde of head ache, but greatlye troubled with the strangullion, grauell and stone. The fortunat daies be Mon-daye and Tusedaye, wherein they may attempt anye newe enterpryse. Lykewise the Infante bozne in this signe about the East parte is moze fortunate then aboute anye other parte. Therefore

What parte of the worlde is best.

Arctandam.

foye of the same wyll prosper in anye al, sayes he oughte to directe his doynges thereunto, yea if it be aboute marriage.
Let him also haue the dooze of his house open towarde the East and his bedde standynge towarde the same parte also. Let his garmentes be blacke and Garments redde. His nature is bothe whote Nature, and drye, and therefore Choler is mooste abundant in hym.

Laurus

Taurus the seconde and principall signe celestiall.

The

Arcandam.

The seconde principall treatise of this booke entreateth of the princi-pall signe called Taurus, whyche signe is divided into three chiefe partes that is to saye into the Head, Bealy and Tayle. This treatise is divided into. vi.
Chapters, The fyrste conteyneth the head of the sayde sygne. The seconde the bealy. The thyrde the tayle. The fourth the iudgemente of the same touchyng the male. The fyfte touchyng the female. The syxte and laste entreateth of the generall fortune of the sayde Taurus.

Taurus divided into thre partes containing
vi. chapters

Concernyng the fyrst Chapter of this treatise, wherein the head of Taurus is spoken of which is the thyrde particular signe called Adoldaya, hath. vii. starres disposed in this sort. And is to be noted þ whosoever is borne in this signe fyrst touchyng the disposition of the bodye and vniacitie of this signe shalbe of colour pure, of bodye fatte, sayze and without the bodie spotte

the thyrde particuler.

	*
*		*
*		*
*		*

Accandain.

spotte, his lippes thicke and hangyng downe his stature shorte. He shall haue a beautifull face, his heare longe, but berye faire, and shall haue manye markes in his bodie. But the speciall marke shall be in his necke because he shall be very hearpe. He shall haue great eyes of colour lyke a Catte or blacke. Touchyng the disposition of the mynde, he shall be much ayded and succoured, and of his aiders shall receyue no hurte, he shalbe aduenturous and of good co-rage. And touching his life and the maner thereof, he shalbe greatly troubled with paine of his heart. The first termes of his lyfe shabe at. xliiii. The second at lxx. in either of these termes he shall be wonderfull sicke, but in the seconde terme he shall suffer an infirmitie of the Apostume Cynanches commonly called the Squinsie, whiche breadeth in the throate, whiche if he escape, he shal lyue to foure skore, but in the ende he shall die of the sayde apostume. Touchyng the influence of this signe, he shall be bitten

of the bo-
dye.

Infirmities

terme of Sicknes,

Markes.

Arctandain.

bitten with a Dogge, and shall haue a notable strype with a Stone, or Prion. Likewyse you shall vnderstande, that yf it chaunce the Infant bee borne earlie in the mornynge, he shall bee thicke and grosse. And tou-chynge the disposition of hys mynde, Qualities he shall be pleasaunte, apte, and bolde, and chieselye in hys youthe, but he shall bee of an vpryghte conscience, and a good Companion. Yf he be borne in the fyrste parte of the wyghte, he shall haue a greate nose, and a smale head. He shall haue manye frendes and shal haue a dilectation in sundry kindes of pleasures.

In the seconde Chapter of this treatise the Beallie is describied, whiche is the seconde parte of Taurus, and the fourthe particular sygne. There, the .4. pēti-culer signes fore it is to wette, that thys sygne hath seuentene starres, of thys forme and fashion folowynge, and is called Cotebjan. And who so euer is borne in C.i. this

Arcandam.

the body.

The qual-
tie of the mynde.

this signe. Fyrst touching the disposition and quantitie of the bodye , he shall bee narowe betwene the sholders , and in the Arme booles berpe hearye , hys face indifferent rounde, and his eyes berpe sayre. he shal haue a marke in hys bodye , ey-ther vpon his parde, loynes, or the priuy partes , or elles betwene his Armebooles. One of his armes shalbe hurte, and shall receyue a wounde vppon his head . And touchinge the disposition of his mynde, he shalbe smylng , merce, artificiall , and shall take good aduisement in his doynges. He shall be liberal and willpng and shall geue hys enheritaunce to one of his owne familie. Hys mynde shall be fired vppon the goodes of Fortune, and vppon theyr happye or vnhappye aduentures.

De

Armandam.

He shall loue contention and embrace women, and especiall he shall loue two aboue others in hys lyfe tyme, to the whiche he shall vse carnall ye; he shall be verie ritous, but not so muche as he that is borne in the fyfthe parte of the signe. Touchynge hys lyfe and maner thereof he shall haue two speciall diseases whiche is the cough and payne of the galle. In the fourth yere of his age, he shall be affected wyth a greate disease, but yf he shall recouer the same, then shall he be free tyll twen-tye, at whiche tyme he shall be sycke agayne. But yf he escape that sicknesse; he shall continue to foure skore yeres o2 foure skore and tennie. He shall dye in a straunge countrey alone, naked and wythoute ablequies at hys buriall. He shall not bee buryed. No man shall mourne for hym. And there shall be no man that wyll saye, he was my neyghbour. Concerninge his good fortune, he shal amonge straungers at teyne either vnto good o2 euill successe.

Diseases.

Death.

Buriall.

Good fortune.

C.ii.

He

Arctandam.

He shalbe entangled and subiecte to diuers troubles, and as is aforesayd shall dye in a straunge countrey, and at the tyme of hys death shall depart wythout companye. If he be bozne in the firste parte of the nyghte he shalbe inconstant and mouable, hauynge smale regarde to hys owne familie. If he be bozne in the daye tyme, he shalbe wounded vpon some parte of his bodie. And touchynge his minde, he shalbe a good man and of a good disposition doyng his affaires after a simple and plaine sort without any regarde of diuinations or knowledge of thinges to come.

And the thirde Chapter entreateth of the taile of Taurus whiche is the fiftē
The 7 perti-
cular signe
of the bo-
dye.
signe celestiaall and hath two starres shaped in this forme, and is called Aliuiferi. Whereby you maye knowe that who soever is bozne in this signe first touching the disposition of his body and quantitie thereof, he shalbe of an indifferent forme and stature,

Arcandam.

ture, he shal neyther be whyte noꝝ black but of a colour like honny oꝝ nuthzoune but his head, face and heare, shall bee beutifull. In his face he shall haue a naturall signe oꝝ marke, oꝝ in his left eye, oꝝ elles in his bealy, oꝝ righte thigh, and shalbe balde. Touching his mynde he the mindc. shalbe solitarie in his busynes doyng the same without cōpany of others, in so much as if it be possible he will haue no man to knowe of it, because he trusteth no man. He shalbe ware in his do-inges soꝝ that he mistrusteth all men.
He shall be couetous daylye musyng howe he maye get other mens goodes.
He shalbe stronge and prone to angre, but it shall not continue, he shall also be verie inconstant. All whiche notwithstandinge in the ende he shall indenuour him selfe to walke bprightly. And tou-chinge his life and maner of his lyfe, he shall lyue in trouble, and continue to sūe and twentie yeres before he be sicke and Sicknes, if he escape that sicknes then, he shall attemp to courtie. He shalbe luckie in tillage,

Arcandam.

tillage, and happye to the female kynde as well foules as beastes, and amonges others fortunate to women. But not withstandyng that felicitie, he shall not kepe anye number of seruauntes.

Marriage.

He shall marrye a wyfe, and for a cer-teyne space shalbe withoute Chyldezen.
He shall susteyne enuye and malyce, he shalbe bitten of a Dogge, and stroken vppon one of hys sydes, and hurte wyth a stone. One of his bones shall be broken. And yf it chaunce that be he borne in the nighte, then he shall haue a naturall signe vpon hys arme. He shall be swifte to iorney or trauell. He shalbe wyse crysotous, and notablye beloued of women, although in other thynges he is of colde nature, whyche chaunceth by reason of the totall effecte of thys sygne.

The iudge-ment of the male.

The fourth Chapter describeth the iudgement of Taurus, touchyng all & euery the parts thereof concernyng the male. And what so ever male chyld is borne in thys sygne Taurus in what parts

Arcandain.

parte so euer he bee bozne after the disposition of the bodey, he shall bee wounded or marked in the stones or yarde. He shall bee riotous and stronge, dealinge wpyth thynges of great force.

And after hys mynde he shall be wyse, and sigulerlye presume in hys owne wytte and force, whereby he shall greatlye ppolonge the terme of hys lyfe.

He shall gyue no heede to the counsell of hys neyghbours.

He shall be carefull and bigilant aboute hys owne affayres.

He shall bee beautifull, liberall, and wylfull, a liberall geuer, and soz that cause beloued of all men. Concernynge hys lyfe and maner thereof: He shall haue seuen diseases, or seuen principall termes. In the thzee and twentie yere of hys age, he shalbe affected wpyth a notable maladie, & if he escape al hys infirmities, and attayne to olde yeres, then he shall acquire greate substaunce and much money, and by his diligence shall haue great fortune to goodes.

Infirmitie?

Wandering in fourteen countreis,

C. lxxx.

He

Arctandain,

He shall be a great traualer, and shall passe to vnknown places, he shall not abide in his owne countrey, but wander from place to place, and from cytye to cytye. And by reason of such alteration obteyne great riches. When he is thye and thytie yeres of age, he shall see his money and substance encrease,

Marriage.

At thye and twentie he ought to marry, but if he marrie a maide, she shall die.

And she being dead he ought to marrye another maide by whome he shalbe made more riche and welthie. He shall be verie fortunate and happie in van-quishing his enemies. Touchinge his euill fortune, in the fiste yere of his age he shall haue a wounde on his head, arme, or beake, and bitten with a Dogge he shall haue a marke with a sworde or elles with fier, and sometimes in danger of drowning. Monday is his contrarie daye, and therefore vpon that daye let him attempt no new enterpasse.

All fortune

Contrarye
daye.

The fiste Chapter mencioneth the iudgement of Taurus touchinge the woman

Arcandani.

Woman. What soeuer female or woman that is borne in this signe after her bodie's disposition shalbe marked in the face legge or thigh. She shalbe of a good vnderstanding, doubtfull, carefull, murmuring. She shalbe be painfull and obsequious, and married to many husbandes by whome she shall haue many Chyldren. She shall haue a naturall paine in her eyes & feete. And ouercom-myng al her diseases which are thertene in number, she shall attayne to foure skore yeres: and accordynge to her good fortune she shal obteyn a certein promotion. She shall encrease in ryches by occasion of husbände men and straungers.
 She shall susteyne a notable infamie or slander, because in her youth she shall abuse her bodie. Other mens goodes she shall make her owne, whereby she shall vse thefte. She shall continuallye be reprovied of lyke offence, and in the ende deliuered from the same, and then chaunge her dwelling place.

The iudge-
ment of the female.

Husbandes

Diseases.

Substance,

Infamie.

The sixte Chapter maketh mention

C.b.

of

Accandam.

The general fortune
of taurus.

Good fortune.

All fortune

Friends.

of the generall fortune of Taurus.
Wherefore it is to be knownen that this signe hathe a singuler and notable fortune in all inequitabie beastes that can not be ridden, be they sayre or not sayre, especiall ye suche as are of colour whyte.
Moreouer thys signe hath fortune in all thynges that maye be geuen. It hath also fortune in thynges that belonge to womens apparell or fortune and other delectations. It hath also fortune in all feminine kynde. It hathe fortune in whyte garmentes. The bozne in this signe hath a speciall lucke towarde the southe, and therefore let him direct his chamber doore and bedde towarde that parte. Lyke wyse let hym dispose all hys busynes that wayes. Concernyng the euyl fortune, the bozne in this signe from the middes of September tyll the middes of Marche is mooste fortunate aboue other tymes of the yere. He is also unhappie amonges frendes, because he is naturally colde and drie, and thereby melancolyke, & so consequently sadde
and

Arcandain.

and of sadde conuersation, to hereby lyke as he procureth frendes in haff, euen so he loseth and forgoeth them againe. He shall be fortunate in harde enterprises, Sicknes, and shall banquish his enemies, yf he passe foure and thirtie yeres, he shall be very longe lyued. He ought to beware of popsons, Collickes, Squinies, Apo, Diseases stumes, Ulcerations whiche growe in the Throte, wherewith amon-ges others he shall be vexed.

Gentil.

Gemini the thirde celestiall and principall
sygne.

Accandam.

The thyde treatise of this booke, hath a discourse of the thyde principall and entier signe celestial called Gemini, and is divided into syre Chapters lyke unto the other whiche immediatly before precedeth. Whereof the first entreateth of the head of Gemini, the seconde of the bealys, and the thyde of the tayle. The fourth of the iudgement of Gemini touchynge the male: The fiste concernynge the female, and the sirtre treateth of the generall fortune of Gemini.

Gemini is divided in to 3 partes
containing 6 chapters.

The first Chapter entreateth of the head of Gemini, beyng the fire signe particuler, and includeth five starres disposed in this forme. Whosoever is bozne in thys signe touchynge the inclination of hys bodye, and first accozdyng to the quallitie and quantitie thereof, he shalbe sayre, means of stature, beautifull in the face, and hath his eye browes comely and all his members well ppozcioned and his sight

the 6 peris
cular signe

the bodye

Armandain.

light clere and sharpe. But touchynge the qualittie his heare is blacke his voyce thryll and pleasaunt. He hath a sygne or stype in his body. That is to saye vpon on his head, in his eyes, handes or knees and his mouthe hurte. He is of great strength and force, heare, and naturally slowe. And after the disposition of the minde. his mynde: He is geuen muche to prayer, fearefull and not prone to anger. He Infirmitie is naturally riotous, although with women he shall not be very fortunate.
Length of lyfe. Concernynge his lyuynge and maner thereof he shall be troubled with the payne of the backe and shall be vexed with an euill spirite. He shall lose cer-tayne of his teeth, and shall lyue tyll he be. vii. or twelue yeres old. xl. or lxxiii. and shall dye in his bedde. And after his good fortune he shall haue much goods, and shalbe greatly praised of men. His honour shall with better successe happen in age then in youth. And touchynge his euil fortune he shall haue. y. wyues, but that directly hath not respect to the euill

Arctandam.

evil fortune but indifferent. He shal apply with diligence his owne affaires, yf he be borne in y<sup>e</sup> latter part of the night, he shalbe a seller of flesh & a marchaunt of Cataill which are apt to be eaten and saleable in the shambles. And so consequently shalbe a shedder of blood.

The vii. Chapter entreateth of the belly of Gemini, whiche is the vii. particular signe, and hath foure starres disposed in this forme, and is called

Alcava. Where is to be no ted that whosoever is borne in this signe, first touchinge the disposition of the bodye, he is nat urallye blacke, hearpe, of shorthe sta ture and straunge. He hath sayre eye browes, and a blacke spotte vppon hys Elbowe or pymppe members. And af ter the disposition of hys mynde, he shall be mooste happely gyuen to prayer.

He shall be timorous and fearefull.

His wordes swete and pleasaunt, not withstandynge he shall be riotous and vncharyte.

the 7 parti cular signe

of the bo
dye.

the mynde

He

Alcandarin.

Length of
lyfe.

Diseases.

He shall lyue tyll he be tenne yere olde, and yf he escape hys sicknes then, he shall lyue tyll he be thyrtye, and yf hys lyfe be prolonged any further, then he shal liue til he be. xliiii. & if he reuine his sicknes, then he shall liue. lxxii.

He shall be troubled with the payne of the backe and bered with an euill spzite.
He shal haue much substaunce and rule ouer his owne affayres. If he be borne in the seconde houre of the naturall day; then after his bodie's disposition, he shal be hearie and haue a spotte in his eyes, and shall leaue many of hys teeth. Like-wyse yf he be borne in the thyrde houre of the daye, he shalbe happy and of nature whote and moyste. But if he bee borne in the nyght, then he shalbe a seller of fleshe, or a shedder of bloode, and shall lyue of suche substaunce as happe-neth to him by marriage.

The thyrde Chapter of this treatise,
The 8 perti Describeth the latter parte of Gemini, & culer signe is the. viij. perticular signe celestial, hauing. ij. starres

* *
disposed

Abundant

disposed in this fountaine, & is called Alsaman; to be noted that who so ever is borne in the sayd signe touching the body; the disposition of the body, is naturallie colick and drye, his Galle ascending tri-to the head by his sinuositie. His eyes semyngs to be eaten of disdayne, and his face changing colours, sometime white and pale and sometime reuerteth to his own naturall colour, that is to say, like to honey, & yet not withstanding handsome and well made in his members & body sayng that his eyes are somewhat lytle. His voice great, and upon his forehead by face, hath a marke of strepe, or rilles the same upon one of his hands, his brest, playn pannes, or yards. And after the mindes inclination hath a good and honest hart, a beneuolant will, a fine & pregnant witte, by reason whereof he shall learne many thinges in so muche that through the vniuersitie of the same, he shall perceyue and thoroughly understand the thinges that he heareth, applying the same as though before they D.I. touched

the mynde

Good for same

caution in

Amandant

by bodi

by bodi Sicknes,

Good fortune.

All fortune

touched hym selfe. He is merie and pleasaunt, not withstandyng of cholericke nature. And as he is soone angrie euen so he is soone reconciled. He is bolde of spech & words, before the presence of his prince, by reason whereof he wil not spare to touche any man. Like wise he is beryne prone and apte to swearing, beinge or speakinge nothyng withoute an othe. He is lyght of suspition, and thereby wyl utter wordes unsemelye.
 He is a great dissimulatour, and spreder abroad of fancies and trydes or tones. He is a great drunkarde, and beryne riotous, and by reason of muche bibbing and dwellinge of wyne greatly geuen to lecherie. His first sickness shall be at, by veres of age, which if he escape then the second shall be at, run, lerr, or lerr, and shall dye of a discaie in the throte. Accordyng to his good fortune he shal finde money and treasure hidden in the earth. He shal haue two chyldren at onc by the. And after his euyl fortune, he shal lyue briglytly with his wyfe.

154001

1.6

154001

Acandain.

Wyle, who is all yue but a shorte space.
Hys parentes shall not be ryche, whom he shall burye, and shal haue no brother lyke vnto hym self but one.

The fourth Chapter determineth the iudgement of Gemini touchynge the male. And whosoever is borne in Gemini, in whether parte of the same soeuer he be borne, first touchynge the disposition of his boode, he shall haue an indifferente and comely nature, beautifully, and fayre of face, stronge and of greates force. He shall haue great authoritie and thynges of muche value to be solde. Hys boode shall be naturally married. And after the disposition of the mynde, he shall be an ingenious and cunnyng Artificer, and muche geuen vnto excellent Artes.
He shall bee naturallie wyle, and shall scusse muche therein, and by reason of the same, what so euer he enten-deth to goe aboute and accompysh, he shall bynge it the sooner vnto good issue.

the iudge-
ment of the male.

the body.

the mynde

D.g.

Lykes

Scorpius.

Wherofse he is pleasant and merciful, easie to be spoken unto, and by vertue of this constellation shalbe acceptable to al men. He shall not be much curious ouer his owne affaires, he shall be sobre and moderate in meate and drinke, and yet not withstanding luxuriose and generous to women. He shall be contrarious and vnquiet with his neighbours by reason of his prone disposition to anger and choler. And for his said promptitude to choler he shall susceyne much perill and blame, and yet not withstanding a profitable man and beloved of all men.
Touchinge his lyfe and manner of hys lyfe, he shalbe entangled with manye troubles by reason of his wyfe. And concernyng his euill fortune, he shal suffer much pain in hys backe or guttes within, and about the stomack. But if it happen that he escape his first diseases, he shal lyue tyll he be an hundredth and ten and thre monethes. Wherofse touchyng his good fortune, he shalbe wth care greatly enriched. He shall finde money that hath

Englished
ad: to the same

Whod on

shown vnto
All fortune

Diseases.

Good fortune.

Whod on

Whod on

hath

Mercurius.

hath bene by in the ground, and shall triumph ouer his enemies. His chiefest fortune shall be towards the East; and therefore towards the same let him dispose all his affaires. In the fiftie yere of his age towards the sayde East part he shall finde kinney. And touching his euill fortune, he shall trauell muche vpon the sea, and when he is xxxii. yeres olde, he shall be in danger of the fier e shipps, but yet deliuered from that peryll and shall receyue hurt of some foure footed beast. The Twelth daye is his vnfortune daye, and therefore vpon that daye let him attempt no enterpryse, nor walke his head or feete, or put on any nede apparell, or suche lyke.

The fift Chapter entreateth of the iudgement of Gemini touching the female. Whereto it is to be noted that what soeuer mayde chylde that is borne in this signe, first touchynge her body, she shall be very fayre, and haue a wound vpon her body. And touchynge her mynde she shall of nature be very wyse and ingenious.

to be done

the Evil dayes.

to be done

the nature met of the female,

to be done

the

Arcandaria.

genious. she shall be merry and content like, diligent and ready to obey. she shal be very wylfull and whote of minde and by reason of the sayde heate of will, complexion, or nature, somewhat angrie, which wil not lōg cōtinue. And because she is free of speche, she shall be muche boastynge of her selfe, and a great lye speakyng one thyng and sayng the contrarye. If thys mayde or woman doe escape the force of her diseases, she shal lyue till lxxxij. yeres of age. she shall susteyne many notable infirmities and diseases of her bodye within the tyme of her age of xxxij. and chiefely aboute fiftene yeres the phrensie or Lunatique passion by the space of four tye dayes, whiche disease is commonlye called the Moneage, or infirmittie of the moone, whereby the patient is called Lunaticus. Scemblably, till she be xxxij. she shall passe ouer many sowles, but by reason of whiche whiche shal be inflicted vnto her she shall recovere. Like-wylse, touchynge her good fortune, because

Length of lye.

xxxij liii

Lunatic or Moneage.

and 10 35 07

31 12 07

Good fortune.

and 10 35 07

31 12 07

cause

Strandain.

cause of many troubles whiche she shall suffer; at length she shall obteyne to greate honoure and muche seruyce, and obedience shall be done vnto her; and through her husbandes fortune she shall serue muche reioyce, and through him attayne to great promotion. And at thre & fourty she shall begyn to loase reche.
She shall see reuengement ouer her enemies, and after xlv. shall be called a mother of Chylde. And her first begotten shall be no male but a female; accor-dyng to the force of her naturall constellation. And touchyng her cyll fortune, she shall be labourious and painfull; and xlv. yeres of age, she shall be embraced with muche paine and sorow. She shall be hurt with whote water, and shall haue a fall from an hie place. She shall be bitten with a Dogge. Tuesday is her contrary & infortunate day, therefore let her not wash her head vpon that day, or do any newe fact or enterpryse.

The .viij. chap. mencioneth the common fortune of gemini, wher is to be noted 73/115

D. 114.

this

Chyldren.

ill fortune.

Euil dayes.

The general fortune
of Gemini

Accidentum.

this signe hath the his singular fortune in learninge & knowledge, and specially in the by liberall arts & sciences, chiefly in philosophie in the lawes, & in physick the like in erigation & bestowing of things, also all beasts not meete to be ridden, in tillage, & in beasts apt for tillage, & shall diligently apply himself in the service of his elders. This signe to them that be borne in the signe, is a great occasion of the strangurie & stone, & of paine in the armes. He hath, in good payes, that is to say, Monday, Tuesday, & Wednesday.
His evil dayes, Thursday, Fridaye and Saturdaye, & yet Friday & Saturday be indifferent. Like wise from the middes of the moneth of March until the middes of September the borne in this signe is fortunate. His chief fortune is towards the West, & therefore let him dispose his doings towards that part, & turne & doze of his house & his bed & way. The borne in this signe is naturally sanguine, & therfore so soone as he shall obtaine frendes, even as soone he shall lose them againe.

Cancer

Cancer the fourth

celestiall and principall
sygne.

and the fourth sign of the zodiac D.b. The

Arcandam.

The fourth signe called Cancer being the fourth treatise is divided into .v. partes or .v. Chapters. The first entreateth of the head of Cancer.
The .ij. of the taile hauyng no mo partes but thos twayne. The .iij. of the iudge-ment of Cancer touching the male.
The .iiij. touchinge the female. And the
v. of the vniuersall fortune thereof.

Cancer is divided in
to 5 partes
containing 5 chapters.

the .x. particular signe

of the body.

the mynde

The firste entreateth of the head of Cancer, and is the .ix. particuler signe called Albacra, & hath .x. signes shapen in this forme: where is to be noted, that who so ever is borne in this signe, in y day time, touchinge the bodies disposition shalbe leane of body only, & of beare come, ly. His eyebrowes narrow. His nostrylles ample, wyde, brode, or large. He shall haue naturall signes in hys brest or side, in hys arme or ryghte Elbowe, in hys Legge, and sometymes vppon the face.
Touchyng the disposition of the mynde this partic shall bee verye iresfull, and thereby

*
* *
* * *
* * *

Arcaudain.

therby a great lye, a Chyder, and fight ter euen against his owne frendes. He shalbe blacke of coloure, muche resemblyng the colour of Bonnye. He shall be eloquent, expert and witty, a Carier of tailes, and reporter of wordes. He shall be glorious, reuengynge and a great drynker. But yet in all the premises he shall bee glad to receyue aduertisment of his frendes, for the aduancement of those pices. Touchyng the good fortune, he shall bee of a good inclination, Whereby recontryng a number of fren-des. He shall lye thyrty yeres, and then shall susteyne a great sickenesse, whiche ys hoekape, he shall lye to the age of fourtie and cyght yeres, and then shall be sick, whiche ys he recouer, he shall lyue forty. He shall bee payned in the raines of the back, in his knees and cyes, he shall be bitteen with a Dogge. And touchyng his indifferent fortune he shall marry thre wyues, but the thirde wyfe of those thre shall bury him, & before he die he shalbe bitteen with a dog, as is aforesaid.

Good fortune.

Sicknes.

Arcturum.

If he be borne in the night, then after his myndes disposition he shall be herye angrie, wicked and madde, & ready to stryke. And concerning his diseases, he shalbe payned with the headache, in the harte, or backe, or els in all. Touchynge his good fortune, his ende shalbe better then his beginninge. And touching bys euyl fortune, he shalbe in y<sup>e</sup> thraldom of a great man. Likewise he shall possesse the goodes of his kynred.

The seconde Chapter of this present treatise describeth the the taylor of Cancer, whiche is the tenth particular signe cald Alcarf, and hath twoo starres in this foyme. Where is to be knowen, that who so euer is borne vnder this signe (except there be any spectall or bygent cause y<sup>e</sup> contrary.) Touching the bodies dispositiō, he hath a smale body & short, but not so extreme smale, but y<sup>e</sup> it shalbe of an indifferēt bignes: the same shal haue twoo markes, that is to witte, vpon his legges and priuy parts nere the guttes,

Armandam.

guttres, and shall haue a styppe vpon his huyppes. His eyebrowes shall be very heary, and his face swolne and puft vp. He shall haue a marke vpon his right hand in his fore head, beellie, beakke or guttles.
He shall receiue sucke of two nourices.
His colour is very blacke, but his bodie shall be somewhat white (chiefly his face) and bearie, and yet after the course of this parte of the figure, he shall be redde.
After the disposition of the minde, he shall be wise and discrete. He shall not be a searcher of many matters; but rather dulle and slack. He shall be freful, wrathfull molestious or greuous, and wicked or betracious in stryking. And although he be wrathful, yet his angre shall be pri-uie and hidden from anye man; in so much that when he is angrie, no man shall knowe any cause why but himselfe only, and therfore desperat in stryking.
He shall be prone to adultrie, by reason of the beate which hath dominion in him in whome the spere beareth the chief rule. He shall be a great offender,
and

Armandam.

and shall commit muche mischief, and shall be soon angrie. Lyke wyse touching his lyfe and maner thereof, he shall hve forty yeres, and shall dye in a straunge lande. He shall suffer great paine in his backe and head. And touching his good fortune, for his diligent and pleasaunt conuersation, he shall be beloued of all men with whome he is familiar, and shall haue many Chyldren. He shall gayne much by his lands and Myrardes, and his end shal vaine, He shal not tary long in his way and so-ner, but hauyng accomplished his purpose shal soone retourne, Concocting his euill fortune, that although he haue many Chyldren, and in the same shall be fortunate, yet his stone brethren shal not hve longe, but shall remayne brotherlesse. He shalbe hurte by fyre, and depryued of some bone, and shall haue a wypp upon his head. at the end of the 71 The third chapter of this treatise discourseth the iudgement of Cancer touching the male. Wher note that whoe loouer

Arcaidam

Soeuer male childe is borne in this signe first touchyng the disposition of the bo-dye, he shall be naturallye mightye and stronge, whose body shall be grosse, and touchyng the disposition of the mynde, he shall be wyle, wittie, somewhat gentle, a great and manifest scorner and pocker, and shall speake playnelye. He shall be naturallye Cholericke, and a great Threatur, but his anger wyll be soone appeased, and shall be well beloved of all men. And touchyng his lyfe and maner of his lyfe, This man withyn the space of two and therty yere especially aboute the ende of that tyme, he shall susteyne sickness. And the wyle in thre yeres folowynge, that is to saye, about. xxvj. yeres old, he shall be in great danger of life. Semblably he shal haue his diseases or notable infirmities, which if he escape, he shall liue according to the efficacie of this signe. lxx. viij. yeres. & if. iij. monethes, & shall die of the disease of the belly. Concernyng his god fortune, medytate after he be. xliij. yeres old:

Armandam.

He shall see his riches beginne to encrease, & such thinges as he is bothe bound to be shall possesse aboute the middle of his age, that is to saye, when he is thirtie yeres old. He shall have the gouernment of some Castel or Hold, & shall haue authoritie in the common wealth. His fortune is to haue .iij. maisters, & by fortune of one man he shall attayne vnto great promotion. He shall trauell farre & shall haue to doo many affaires, & receiue much sorow by meanes of a stranger. He shall purchase maners & farmes & shall finde money that is hidde, he shall be enriched by his wyfe. And touching his euill fortune he shall vndoubtedlye susteyne diuers and sundry troubles and daungers. He shall be hurt with a sworde, in daunger of drowninge, he shall fall from an high place, and shall be in perill of liue. He shall receiue hindrance by his owne children, and shall be poore till he be twentie yeres old, his seruice and good tourmes shall bee counted ingrate, displeasing, & annoyed to

ArRANDAM.

to bithenfulnes. He shal haue victorie ouer his enemies. A great mā shal rule ouer hym and of him, accordinge to the force of this signe, he shalbe exterminated and banished for some notable facte.

Wednesday is his contrary, and moſte unfortunate, and therfore vpon that day let him not walke his head, nor put on any newe apparell or doe any notable thyngs.

The. liij. Chapter diſcloſeth the iud-gement of Cancer touching the female and is to be noted that the maide borne in the ſaide ſigne after the diſpoſition of her bodye, ſhalbe laſty and of ſtronge complexion. She ſhalbe well proportioned, neat, ſomewhat fatte, nimble, and wel made. She ſhalbe very wittie, wiſe prouident and ſubtile, treſfull, diſigent, ſhamefaſt, double minded, painfull, bold whole of mynde, and ſpitefull, but her angre wyl be ſoone appeaſed, & through the beheimencie of her angre wyl ſpare for no talke, but bitter her ſtomack. And ſhe is vnnmerciful and wyl haue no com-paſſion

Accandain.

passion vpon one that wepeth. She shall haue a great flure before she be. xxxij. yere old, and at. xxxij. she shalbe in danger of death. Lykelwyse at. lxxx. yeres she shalbe in lyke daunger of death, because through the force of her constellation she shalbe subiect to great peryll.
And at. lxxx. vii. yeres she shall dye.
Touchyng her good fortune, when she is. xxx. yeres olde she shall haue a sonne, and after. xxxviij. she shall attayne vnto great promotion. She shall haue Chyldren by. iij. husbannes, and by all thre shalbe in great honour. She shall continually be enryched, and shall possesse much Cattail. And touchyng her euill fortune she shall be greatly enuied and shalbe hurt with a sworde. She shalbe troubled with water, & suffer displeasur in her body by fier, & shalbe very much bered with the collick. In the 38 yere of her age she shal suffer much perill through her nieghboys, she shall lese her first husband, & her husband shal loue another mans wife. In the. viij. moneth of her xxx. yere, she shall by her parents negligence suffer some danger by a whot burning iron, where by she shalbe in danger of death.

Armandam.

The .v. chap. entreateth of the indifferent fortune of Cácer, wher is to be noted y<sup>e</sup> the bozne in this signe is fortunat in his affaires, & chiefly marchandise, & in cattel not apt to be ridden, especiall ye such as be of colour of whyte, his fortune shalbe better vpon land then water & in such things as may be caried or tráspozted by water chiefly y<sup>e</sup> colour beig whitt. He is likewise verpe fortunat in tillage & in ambassage, when y<sup>e</sup> Mone is growing, or befoze the ful, for when it decreaseth then he is infortunat. The bozne in this signe shall suffer muche coughing, consumption in the lungs, plurisie, breaking out, the skapes, & such like, if it be a maid y<sup>e</sup> is bozne in this signe beside these inward diseases she shalbe in danger of drowning. His weke dayes whiche are good be Mōday, Thursday & Friday. His euil day is Tuesday. As for Wednesday and Saturdaye be indifferent.

C.ij.

His

Accandam

His better fortune is towarde the South, and therefore let him direct all hys affayres that waye, and that waye also place his chamber doore, and bedde.
He that is borne in this signe, is naturallye sanguine, muche disposed to Cholor mists wpth phleame. And therefore let him weare his apparell of colour Redde and White.
Redde because of Fyer and blood, and White by reason of Phleame.
me.

Leo the fyfte celestiall and principall sygne.

E. 14.

The

The .v. treatise discloseth the effect of Leo being the fiftē total signe and is deuīded into thre partes . That is to saye, into the head, belly, and taile, and hath sixe Chapters . The first entreateth of the head of Leo. The seconde of the belly. The third of the taile. The fourth of the iudgement of Leo touching the male. The fiftē of the female.
And the sixte of y equal fortune of both.

The firstē entreateth of the head of Leo , whiche is the eleuenth particuler signe, & is called Algebachac hauing sig. starres disposed in this foyme. And note that who foeuer is borne in this sig. ne, first touchinge the disposition of the bodye hath a comely face, plain and corpulent, a fierce loke & terrible . A litle nose & brode , but yet comely, and a body proper . His mouth shalbe hurt, hauing thereupon a scrope, but yet notwithstanding his teeth faire & great eares . His shulders great & brode, but his back wel made. He shal haue certē naturall

Arcandani.

naturall markes, & the firste in his face, the rest vpon his thigh, brest, legges, and p<sup>r</sup>sup parts. Touching his colour, his body shalbe white, his face neither black no<sup>r</sup> white but indifferent. Touching the disposition of the minde, he is naturally genē to be notably proude & of such stomacke that in hys heart, he woulde wishe him selfe comparable to Kinges, yea and them to excell, yf it were possible. And he is of suche and so greate pyde, that by reason of his haughty co-rage, as well in value as dignitie, o<sup>r</sup> other sufficiencie, he wyl suppose no man in the wo<sup>r</sup>ld (be he neuer so great) to be hys equall o<sup>r</sup> matche, o<sup>r</sup> at least wylse greater then he, and also in hys heart iudgeth hym selfe to surpassse o<sup>r</sup> is able to excell in humaine felicities all and singular other persons. He is also co-uetous and very iresul, and yet that notwithstanding, of much myzth & pastime in so much y<sup>e</sup> continually he wold be me-ry & plase he wyl be a wise man & proper, & the Magik sciēce wyl do him great stede.

C.iiij.

Lyke.

Strandall.

Lyke wise touching his lyfe and manner thereof, he shalbe muche vexed with the headache, in such sorte as he shall be straughte of his wittes by reason of the fumes, whiche ascende from the Gallie. He shalbe pained in his thighes chiefly in the vpper parts thereof. He shal haue thre principall diseases, the firste when he is. xij. yerres olde. The seconde when he is. xl. yerres olde, yf he escape the first. If he also escape the second, then the. iij. he shall fele aboute. xlvij. which also yf he recouer, then shall he attayne to the samme of a hundred yeres. And either he shall die vpon hys woordes point, or elles by some greuous infirmitie of the body. And accordinge to his prosperous fortune, he shall passe from one promotion to another, in so much as amonge kings and princes he shalbe familiar and well beloued. He shall get muche treasure, and bring it heaped together. He shall lose them againe, and at length shall fall in daunger and displeasure of some p[er]son or noble man.

The

Arcaudam.

The .ij. chapter entreateth of the be-lye of Leo, & is the .xij. perticuler signe, being called Alcomenon, and hath .iij. starres formed in this maner. Where note that who so euer is borne in this sygne, hathe a marueylous euil and infortunate constellation. First touchynge his body and maner thereof, whether he borne in the nighte or daye, hath a broude breste, a longe face, smale stones, and slender legges, and hath a natural marke in the raines of his back.
Touchinge his mynde, he is of hearte proude or irefull. For estsoones he is angrie, and is of speche very rusticall.
He is very doubtfull and suspicious in his doynge. Touchynge his good fortune, he shall haue no good fate, but by vertue of this signe shall be moste infortunate as is also relaid. For he that is borne in this signe is subiect to man petroubles, yf he be borne in the daye he shal-be very fearefull and timorous when the .xij. perti-

culer signe

Accandain.

he frauaileth, yf he be boorne in the night what houre so euer it be, saving the seconde, then he shalbe of a mery countenaunce, and shall haue a rounde nose, a stripe vpon his head, and a naturall marke vpon his fete. He shalbe wittie, fearfull and carelesse. He shal haue three diseases. The firste shall chaunce when he is .xj. yere olde. The seconde when he is .xxij. And the thyrde when he is .lviij.
And shall dye vpon the sworde, or elles of some other great infirmitie of the body. He shall haue two wyues whych shall faythfully loue hym, but them he shall not loue, but rather shall hate to the uttermoste. He shall haue a strype in hys head, or Wypppe, whych shall happen by syer, or shall haue some other sygne. He shall be depriued of hys speche after the disposition of the sygne, and influence thereof, vnlesse the same by some perticular cause bee wythstanded or elles interrupted by the diuine clemencie, or elles by the libertie and wyll of the Lady of thys Science whose libertie

Arctandain.

libertie this Søgne, not withstandynge maye bee applied to god, and to vertue, and to woorkes godlye, who also maye appease and mitigate the influence and malice of the sayde Søgne. Semblably yf he be borne in the seconde houre of the nyght, ouer and besydes the premisses. Touchynge his euyl fortune, he shall lese his Infantes and Children, and fewe shall remayne on lyue. Lykewise he shalbe curious in searchynge of Parables and Mysteries. His firste Chylde shall be a female, and the seconde a male. Duryng his lyfe he shall susteine much trouble and perylls.

The thyrde Chapter mencioneth the taylor of Leo, or the latter parte thereof, whiche is the tenth perticuler Søgne. And hath one onelye Starre in this forme. And who so euer is borne in this Søgne, tou-chynge the bodys disposition, is sufficiently bygge of stature, whose voyce is debeement and bygge.

Arcontan

He shall haue thre naturall markes in his brest, & shalbe marked in the throte, legge, or middle of the hande. And shall haue a strepe vpon his bellye, his colour shall be whyte, mirtle with a roseall colour. His heares shalbe of colour somewhat reade, but his eyebrowes somewhat blacke, and shal haue much beare.
Also concerning the mynde, he shall be lowly, gentle, not ambitious, but paci-ent. He shall suffer infirmitie, but the same he shall tolerate wth muche paci-ence. In eating he shalbe very moderat after the qualitie of this signe. Likewyse angrie he shall be and lecherous, in so much that although he marry a wyfe of his owne afinitie, yet he shalbe disposed to lecherie. He shall haue two maner of sickenneses. The firste at .xliij. yerres olde, at what tyme he shalbe sicke of the smale poxe or of an ague. The seconde, shalbe at .xliij. yerres olde. Both whiche yf he escape, he shall lyue .lxxx. yerres and shal die in exile and out of his owne Countrie. Likewyse, concerning bys good

Abundant.

good fortune, he shall raigne and beare rule ouer his owne Countrey, and shall haue authoritic to iudge either suche as is a thefe or malefactor, or of another man, or els such as was his owne fugitine as Warlet. Whereouer he shalbe of powre to do many thyngs with Lords & Miers of Kexines. He shalbe very hap-pye in matters of husbandrye. He shall haue a verie fayre and beautifull wyfe, whose colour shalbe salowe lyke to one that hath the greene sicknes, and she shalbe one of hys owne kynred, whome when he hath marryed, GOD wyll gyue vnto him muche substaunce according to the efficacie and influence of this signe. He shall auoyde many perylles and shall enioye goodes abundaunt. He shall haue paines in one his of feete and shalbe bereft of both. He shalbe depri-ued of one of his bones. And vpon hys belly shal be hurte, either with iron or fier. In his assayes he shal not accom-plishe his wyll, except it be in Wynter tyme or in the Spring. Howe manyethes
he

Arccandam.

he shalbe fortunat in hys busynes, euen accozdyng to hys Hearts desire: That is to saye, in September, October, No-uember, December, January, and Febuarpe. In Sommer & Autumne he shall not be so fortunate. He shall lese much goods, and his labour shall little a-uaile, by reason of the threer markes in his hreste. Let him not passe from one Countrey to another, because chaunge is not profitable to him. If therefore he will be fortunat, let him continue in one place certeyne.

The. iij. Chapter mencioneth the iudgement of Leo touchyng the male.
Where note, that what soeuer man Childe is bozne in this signe. First touching the vniuersal disposition of the body. serch the. iij. perticuler signes of Leo aforesayde, and there sec the condicions equall of the same. And touchyng the disposition of the mynde, he shalbe naturally wittie, subtile, eloquent, coragi-ous, irefull and sullen. For he wyll be soone angrie, and soone pleased againe.
His

Armandam.

His stomack and sudden angre is such, that by reason of his natural animositie he shall susteyne much contumelie and displeasure. He shalbe very conetous, arrogant bold & wilful to al thyngs, which he seeth or heareth, in so muche as what soeuer he eyther heareth or seeth, al that doth greatly please hym, and that he embzaseth and despyeth to enioye and do the same, accordyng to the exigence and maner of the thyng he heareth or seeth, and specially, yf the thyng heard or seene be stable and able to be suffered, but within a whyle after he wyll be werpe thereof, and care nothyng for it. Lykelysse he is bountifull and liberall, because he can not keepe secrete the thyng he possesseth, and althoughe he woulde keepe it secrete, he can not but with great difficultie. He is naturally gentle and quiet, but yet a rider and mocker. And touching his life and maner therof, he shall haue by termes or special sicknesses, whereof the firste thre shall be verry vehement.

The

Armandam.

The first shalbe when he is. x. yeres old.
The second when he is. xx. And the. iij. when he is. xl. And yf he passe and scape the sayd. iij. diseases, then naturally and with happines enough, he shal attayne to. lxx. and. viij. yeres. In lyke maner touchyng his good fortune, he shal with good successe abyde the brunttes of malyce, and the state of hys lyfe. He shall haue dominion ouer his Countrey, and shal vanquish his enemies, although he shal object him self to many afflictions & daungers, from the whiche he shall by Gods helpe right well escape. From xxx. yeres upwarde he shall aspyre to his better fortune, and then shal see his substaunce augment. Of honourable personages he shal purchase muche welth, and thereby hys house shalbe plentifull of money and abundaunt of ryches.
Concernyng hys euill fortune, he shall haue a fall from an hygh place, and shal haue payne in one of his fete, and by water shal susteyne trouble. He shall not kepe his first wyfe. A wedday shalbe his

Accandam.

his contrary daye, wherein if he be wise, let him doe no newe matter or beginne anye enterpryse.

In the.v.Chap. is entreated the iud-gement of Leo, touching the female.

Who accordinge to the maner and state of her body, shall haue a broad brest and small thighes which are tokens of boldnes and stoutnes of stomack. She shall be verye menstruuous and fertile inough, not withstandinge she shall haue but few Children, with certein other conditions of her bodye befoze declared in the ij. perticuler signes. After the disposition of her mynde she shall be naturallye subtile wittie, & desirous of learninge.
She shall be chaste, shamesfast, courtlike diligent and of good stomack, by reason whereof she shall be verye prone & sudden to angre & yett shall be soone again appeased. And not withstanding her angre, yett in her owne houlholde very liberall, by whose meanes the house shall be plentiful of meate & drinke. And because of her natural subtiltie, she shall be very bolde,

Armandam.

foz as muche as what soeuer she heareth oꝝ seeth if it seeme to comprize anye subtilltie oꝝ difficulty of matter, immediatly she wil desire to know it. She is liberal because she can not keepe close suche things as she hath. She is very lowly & humble, & if she chaunce to be spotted w any sinne, immediatly she will fall downe prostrat vpon the ground, & humbly aske mercy & foꝛgeuenes of her Creatoꝝ. Concerning her lyfe and maner thereof, she shall suffer the lunatike passion & a notable payne of her hart & stomack, which if she escape, she shal liue till she be. lxxxv. yeres of age. She shall also be pained in her toes. She shall haue sufficient reuengement vpon her enemies. And after her euill fortune she shall haue many fortunes. Foꝝ first she shal haue a fal from an high place, and her body hurt w iron oꝝ fier. When she is. cccij. yerres old she shalbe married, and by her husband atteyn to promotion. Her husband shall not lyue long, but shall die by meane of poyson oꝝ witchecraft. And at length shal

Accandam.

shall marry another who shall loue her derely. Of her neighbour she shall receyue damage in her treasure. When she is. xij. yerres old vnlesse she take good hede shall be deceyued by oppression vpon on her bodye, and shall lese her maidenhead. She shalbe troubled in the water and in daunger of lyfe. Thursday is her contrary day, and therefore let her do no notable thyng vpon that day, washe her head or put on any apparell. And here is also to be noted, that the best remedy to auoyde all her misfortunes, is first to ad-dresse her selfe, by prayer to our Lorde GOD onelye, with all her heart. And to carye aboute her precious Stones suche as be ozient and glisterynge. And then easily she shal ouercome al her misaduentures by gods helpe.

The. vi. Chapter determineth the general iudgement of Leo, & is to be noted that this signe hath a singular fortune in warfare & dominion: besides which they y be bozne in Leo, haue pains in the stomack, apostumes, & pestiferous agues

J. ij. Such

Arctandain.

Such as be bozne in the seruice of great men, the same this signe presenteth to their seruice. He shalbe fortunat to gold brasse, hoyses, and to suche marchandise as be of colour red. Fro the mid of October to the mid of Aprill, & from the mid of Iuly to the mid of August, he shall prosper other wise not. And touching the weke, he shall haue. iij. happie dayes, to wete, Sonday, Twesdaye, & Wednesday. Saterday is his infortunat daye. But Sunday, Thursday, & Friday, be indifferēt. Likewise his fate is towarde the East, and therefore let him place his chamber doze, bed, windowes, and all his affaires into that parte, espeeiallye yf they be notable.

Virgo

Virgo the syxte
celestiall and principall
sygne.

Accandain.

The.vi.treatise of this booke entreateth of the.vi.entier and celestiaall signe called Virgo, with the thre principall partes thereof. The first being the head of Virgo. The seconde the first parte of the tayle, and the thirde the seconde part of the same. And is diuided into.vi.Chapters. The firste Chapter mencioneth the head. The.ij.the firste part of the taile. And the.ij.the.ij.part.
The.iiij.the iudgement of Virgo, touching the male. The.v.the female. And the.vi.the common and indifferent soztune of Virgo.

The firste Chapter determineth the head of Virgo, being the.xiiij.perticular signe called Lacra, and hath.vi.stars in this forme disposed. And he that is borne in thys signe, shall be fayre and beautifull, and of comely stature, whyte vpon his breste, but his heares shalbe redden. And by the soz

Accandain.

force of this constellation . He is naturally enclined to haue curled heare and redde , and by nature loneth the same, in so much that if he haue not such heare of that colour , yet he will seeke to haue the same coloured by art . He shall also be naturally marked in the face , bellye , thigh and legge , and vpon his right Elbowe , and the said mark can not by any meanes be put away . Concernyng the disposition of his mynde , he shall be honest , skilfull , apte , shamefast , a lover of iustice . His minde shalbe good and hys hope behemente and loude .

He shall bee as synple as a Lambe , hauynge no regarde or care vppon the goodes of the worlde , or the the goodes of fortune . He shall knowe nothyng that is good , nor shall take heede of anye man , but shall trust all men . He shall take no regard of harmes wherewith he myghte bee infected , and that by reason of the foure naturall markes vpon hys Face , Bellye , Thygge , and Legges , also sayde .

Arcondain.

And by force of the same, he shalbe very negligent, imploying more care vpon his owne affaires as is aforesayde. But yf he woulde take heed, no doubt he might bying them to good effect. He shalbe desirous and couetous. He shalbe frefull and subden, and by reason of hys souden foresyght of offence, he shal preuent the angre of his brethren. Touchyng his life and maner thereof, if this man be borne in the.iiij. houre of the naturall day, he shall dye without any sickness, but if he be borne in the fift houre, then before his death he shall be verys sick. He shall haue.iiij. termes or principall sicknesses. The first, when he is xv. yerres of age. The.ij. at. xxiij. The.iiij. at. xxxvj. And the.iiij. and laste at fiftie, which if he escape, he shall attayne to. lx. Alike wyle touchyng hys good fortune, the man so borne shall haue a good fate, and by reason thereof shall be exalted, and haue great preferment. He shall haue many Chyldren, and yf he woulde vse diligence vpon his owne busynes, he

Arcaudaun.

he shoulde profite very much, especially in tillage. When he is. xxxvj. yerres olde he shalbe preferred to honour and dignitie. But if he be bozne in the first houre of the naturall daye, then he shall be a great kyng or lord. But if in the thyrde houre then kyng of all kynges, a might-ty Soueraigne. He shall haue great prosperitie, and shall cragarat to hym selfe infinite treasure. Lyke wise touchynge his euill fortune, when he is married his wyfe shall lyue but a short space, and he him selfe shall dye with her, or wythin a whyle after. And although he shalbe a bundaunt in Childzen, yet few of them shall lyue. He shall fall into many miseries, because he shalbe payned in the belly or some other place. He shal more-ouer be marked in his priuie partes.
If he be bozne in the. iij. houre of the naturall day, then shall he dye soddenly wythout any disease. He shalbe dinorsed from his wyfe, whereof he shall haue great heauines and sorow.

The. ij. chapter entreateth of the first

f. v.

part

Arctandain.

part of the taile of Virgo, called Alecameth, and hath .v. stars shaped in this forme, & is the .xv. perticular signe. Who soeuer is the .xv. perticular signe borne in this signe, after his bodies disposition, & first according to the quantitie. He shalbe high in stature. He shal haue a broue and large face and a beautiful, a long and great beard, a faire nose. After the qualitie of the same he shal haue faire hear, narrow eyes, and al his body shalbe white. He shalbe naturally marked in the forehead, in the vp-per hip, vpon his shulders, the paulme of his hand, in his belly & guttes. After the disposition of the minde, he shalbe wise, his counsell shalbe heard & apte to euery thing. He shalbe lowly, good, deuoute, & shal loue to be praised. He shal by nature attempn to liue to .lxx. yeres, and shall dye before he be olde. And touching his good fortune, he shal haue two wiues, which shalbe very substanciall and riche, in so much as by them he shall possesse great riches.

Arcandain.

riches. Lykewyse he shalbe very apt to euery thing whiche hath a good ende.

Concerning his euill fortune, he shalbe bitten of a Dogge in the face and on his body. He shall haue fewe Childzen, and they shal not be long lyued, but shall die in short space. Further, all such thynges as are spoken of in this Chapter are generall, and generally belong to all suche as are bozne in this signe. If the partie bozne in this signe happen to be bozne vpon the Fridaye, then he shall haue great misfortune. If he be bozne in the nighte, then he shall haue a naturall marke vppon the Crowne of the Head, the Bellie, the Face, or foote, and shall haue greate Feete.

And touchynge the disposition of the mynde, he shall bee an vpryght man walkynge iustelye, seldome erre adynge the pathe of equitie. Lykewyse he shall haue two dysleases especiall, wherof the fyrste shall bee when he is fouretene yerres of age.

The

Arcandain.

The other at .lb. 02. lxxx. viij. and shall dye in hys owne house, but the cause of hys death shall be a stroke wth Iron or a sword. After hys good fortune he shall marry two wyues, and one of them shall haue a very small necke. Lykewise he shall haue muche by meanes of hys Children. Also touchyng his euill fortune in olde age he shall fall into the thraldome of a man of honour or power, and shalbe stroken wth Iron, and in his owne house shall dye of the sayde stroke. In gettinge of riches shall take muche paynes and labour, and straungers shall enioye the frutes of his trauell.

the 16. perti
euler signe

The .iij. Chapter entreateth of the .j. and last part of the taylor of Virgo called Aliena, beyng the .xviij. signe particular. Where is to be noted, that whosoever is borne in this signe, touchyng the disposition of hys bodye and the qualitie thereof. He shall haue a sayre stature and a simple countenance. He shall haue a naturall signe not able to be put awaye vpon hys ryght Elbowe. Accordenge
to

Arccandain.

to the disposition of the mynde, he shal be honest, apt to learnynge, wysc, good and shamesfast. He shalbe very coue-tous in tillage, but in other assayres he shalbe remisse and negligent, whereas if he would take hærde he should greatly profite. Lyke wysc touchyng hys lyfe, he that is bozne in this signe, and specially yf he be bozne in the. v. houre of the day, he shall naturally haue. iij. sickenneses whereof the firste shalbe when he is. xij. yeres old. The ij. when he is. xxxij. yeres olde. And the. iij. and last, when he is xl. yeres olde. If he chaunce to eschape the first, which wylbe very dangerous, then he shalbe afflicted with the. ij. whiche yf he also eschape, then he shall attain to the. iij. And touchinge his fortune before he be. xxxvj. he shal obteyne to a cer-teyne of honour and office. He shal haue many Chyldren and shall profite greatly in tillage as is aforesayd. And if he wold be careful and diligent, he should greatly profite in all matters. Hys euill fortune is, yf he shal fall into many troubles by

Accandain.

by reason he shalbe muche payned in the bellye, or by some other meanes shall be extremely vered. He shall haue a sryppe vppon hys Head, or hys Face, or vppon bothe, but notably in his pryncypall partes, where he shalbe greatly pained. And although he shall haue many chyldren, yet fewe shal remaine on lyue, and in that poynt shalbe very infortunate. He shal-be a great Hoarder, and a greate gatherer together of money, but by myschaunce shall lose hys money so gathered. If he be borne in the .iij. houre, then he shall be moste pynsaunt a kynge of Kynge, & consequently most fortunat, yf he be borne in .ij. houre he shalbe infortunat, because he shal die soddenly. If he be borne in .i. houre then in his body he shalbe very foule & deformed, but in riches he shalbe very abundant plentiful.

The fourth Chapter discourseth the iudgemente of Virgo touchynge the male, and first touchyng the disposition of the body, he shalbe beautifull, of good behaviour, and shall haue a naturall marke

Arctandam.

marke in his sholders and loynes, and in none other place. He shalbe longe liued. He shall haue.iiij.fortunate and speciall dayes in the weeke. That is to saye: Sonday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. His infortunat day is Friday. And that day euer is somewhat infortunate. His good fortune is toward the South. And therefore let hym dispose his affaires that waye, together with the dooze and bedde. The same is naturally of the Melancolyke complexion, and is of nature cold and drye. Therefore his apparell ought to be of some darke or blacke colour.

The fiftte Chapter toucheth the iudgement of Virgo, concerninge the female. Wherefore note that the mayde or woman borne in this signe, shall be marked in the said places as is described in this Chapter precedent. Touchyng the disposition of her mynde, she shall be witty, shamefastte, chaste, gentle, beneuolent and glad to please al men, wherby she shalbe beloued of all men.

But

Accandam.

But she shalbe somewhat curste, and that only belongeth to her euyl fortune. Aboute. xviij. yerres of her age, she shall marry, and her first husband she shall not loue, who shall dye, and afterwards marry to. ij. Her first Chylde shalbe of excellent beautye. She shalbe enraped with many sozowes. She shal suffer diuers maladies, which yf she scape she shall lyue. lxx. yerres. .viij. monethes, & .v. dayes. Her fortunat dayes bee Wednesday and Sunday. Her infortunat day is Saturday. Therfore vpon that day let her begynne no new worke, but abstayne from all notable busynes. They that be borne in this signe as wel men as women shall suffer much payn in their thighes, fete, and head. Her fortune is towards the South, &c. as in the former Chap. And both kynds shalbe liberall.

The. viij. Chapter compriseth the common fortune of Virgo. Where is to be noted that the borne in this signe haue their fortune in tillage, and in al things generally generally therunto apperteyning, especially in all things that be solwen. They be subiecte to paines of the thighes and feete as fistulas or such like, ache in the head, dropsie, the sicc or collick, besides others before mencioned. And amongstes other countreys thei shal visit the cite of Jerusalem, the riuer of Euphrates, Spaine, & other countreys adioyning. And their good fortune or chief dominion is towards the South. Their fortunate dayes are Sundaye, Tuesday & Wednesday. Their infortunate is Fridaye and Saterday: but Friday to them that be borne in this signe is euer infortunate. He that is borne in this signe, as is aforesaide is melancholike, colde, and drie. And therefore let him weare black apparell, or such as be of darke colour, and of no lyght colour, because this signe is altogether melancolick that is to saye: earthe.

Arvandann.

Libra the seventh

celestiall and principall
sygne.

Arctandam.

The .viij. treatise doeth demonstrate the effect of the .viij. Celestiall signe called Libra, and is diuided into .vi.
Chapters. The firste determineth the head of Libra. The .ij. the taylor of Libra. This signe hath but onely the sayde two principall partes. The .iij. Chapter mentioneth the iudgement of Libra touching the male. The .iiii. touchinge the female. The .v. and last the generall and common fortunes of Libra. The first Chapter of this treatise entreateth of the head of Libra, whiche is the .viij. celestiall and perticuler signe and hath .iiij. starres disposed in this fome. Be it knowen therefore that who to ever is borne in this signe first touchinge the proportion and disposition of his body, he shalbe faire in face, well favoured, painefull, and learned. Concerninge his lyfe and maner thereof, he shall suffer payne of his head, heart, and galle. He shall haue a C.ij. payne

the 17. perti-
culer signe

the 17. perti-
culer signe

Arctandam.

paine in his neck, and in his ioyntes. He shal haue thre speciall diseases. The first when he is .xv. yerres olde, which if he re-couer, he shal haue the .ij. at .xxvij.
Which if he lykewise escape, he shal at-teyn to .lxxx. yerres, and then shal suffer his last and final infirmitie. Touching his good fortune, beyng borne in the second houre of the naturall day, he shalbe the chiefest of all his kynne, although he be of power and authoritie yet the execution thereof shal not be profitable & prosperous. He after his euill fortune shal lose his first wyfe. He shalbe in danger of a sworde, therefore let him take good heede thereof.

the 12. perti-
cular signe

the 12. perti-
cular signe

The second Chapter of this booke treat-tise argueth of the taile, and latter parte of Libra, whiche is the .xviij. perticular signe called Alcabenech, hauinge two starres, disposed in this sorte. Where note that who soeuer is borne in this signe, touchinge the disposition of the body, shalbe beautifull

the 12. perti-
cular signe

the 12. perti-
cular signe

Arcandani.

full, and shalbe naturallie marked in the head and mouth; or nere the mouth; he shalbe hurte vppon the mouth; and his face shalbe redde; his heart smothe and redde. After the disposition of the myrde; he shalbe meary, thistle, specially for hym selfe; he shalbe of good stomack, knowen and honoured amonges hys kynned, and shalbe of wyll feruent.
Wherby he shalbe greatly payned in the heart, and shall haue thye speciall diseases. The first shalbe when he is. xviij. yeres of age. The secorde when he is xxviij. The thyrde and laste when he is xlviij. Touchynge his good fortune, he shall enioye greates patrimonies and riches by his parentes. And by reason of a naturall marke whiche he hath in hys head after many euill fortunes, he shall possesse muche good; and shall be full of children. In his youth he shall lye with a woman of excellent beautie. He shalbe a Chauunclore or head of the people: but losing his euil fortune, he shalbe stroken with a sword. He shal lese one of his bones.

¶

G. lvi.

¶

Mercurian.

He shal die either by the stripe of a sword or elles of the payne of the belly. He shal fall into a ryust, but shal ryle agayne, and shalbe in daunger of fier. And in the ende of his life shal suffren povertie.

The. iij. Chapter entreateth of the Iudgement of Libra, touchyng the male.
Where note, that who so cutt shalbe borne in this signe, first touching the disposition of the body, he shalbe wel made & proportioned. He shall haue a naturall marke vpon one of his armes. . Touchyng the disposition of the mynde: He shalbe a great fornicator, merpe, holde, fortunate especially vpon the water. He shall excogitate and serche out many secretes, & shalbe verie perylous. He shall be very desirous to wander in the world to vieue the fashions therein, and the kind of vanities and conditions thereof, and so; that cause shall traueill into many countreys: He shalbe freatyng inwardly by fittes, and by fittes also shal-be quiet. Towarde straungers he will be flatterynge wordes and sweete communica-

Ireandam.

munication, but towarde his olme seruauntes, if thei be euill, he will vse Sharpe and croked wordes. He shalbe suspected of a great crime, but it shalbe so close as it can not be proued. He shall suffer great paine in his necke, toyntes, and bellye, and shall haue.iii. especiall sickenesses. The firste shalbe when he is.xx. yerres of age. The.ii. when he is xxviij. And the.iii. when he is.lxxxv. at what tyme he shall dye. Concernyng his good fortune, in his yowth he shall be neyther poore nor ryche, but after wardes he shall accumulate vnto hym selfe great substaunce. He shall occuppe and haue to do with other mens money.
He shall triumph ouer his enemies.

Touchyng his euill fortune he shall be wounded with yron, a clubbe, or wyth a stone, emonges the rest of his misfo: tunes. He shalbe in daunger of a sword, and therfore let hym beware thererof. He shall continue in the place where he was borne, not withstanding for a time he shall trauell into farre countreys,

C.iiij. whiche

Arandain.

whiche fortune maye be to him indifferent, he shal forgoe his first wife, whiche also is a fortune indifferent. Thursday is his contrarie day, and therefore vpon that daye, let him not washe his head, and put on no new apparel nor beginne any notable enterpryse.

The.iiij. Chapter declareth the iud-gement of this signe touchinge the female, where note that the maide borne therein, first touchinge the disposition of the bodie, she shalbe faire, and of excellent beautie. Touchinge the disposition of her mynde she shalbe frendlye, amiable, wittie, and a louer of her owne familie. Concernynge her lyfe and maner thereof, she shall suffer a naturall payne in her stomacke. She shall haue two diseases. The firste shalbe daungerous, and when she is two yeres olde.
And the seconde when she is. lxxviij. yeres of age. After her good fortune she shall haue in occupynge a great masse of money. In her seconde husbande she shall greatly reioyce, and shall triumph ouer

Arctandain.

ouer her enemyes . Accordyng to her euyl fortune , she shall haue a strype or wounde in some place of her bodye .
Shee shall haue twoo husbandes, and by the deathe of her first husbande she shall bee vnfortunate.

Thursdaye is her vnluckye daye . And therefore let her not washe her head vp on that daye , or begynne anye thyng notable.

The fift Chapter describeth the com mon and vniuersall fortune of Libra.

Where note that Libra hath hys for tune in beastes equitable or apte to be ridden , especiall ye if thei be of colour white . Likewise Libra hys fortune is in al faire things , & in the bargains thereof especiall ye if thei be white , & generally in al beautiful things , belonging to world ly delectatiō , chiefly in womens aparel , & in al things proceeding frō the water , & in al things y be transported frō a far , and that be of smalest weight . The bozne in this signe are aboue others giuen to em brace lerning , & the study of the sciences.

G. b.

The

Accandam.

The good and fortunat dayes, are Son day and Fryday. The infortunat daye is Wedneseday. The borne in this signe shall be troubled with infirmities & diseases of the belly, as with y<sup>e</sup> dysenterie, hienterie, grypplings, and other paynes proceedyng of wynde, and chiefly about the backe bone. They be naturally of sanguine complexion, and thereby whote and moyste. And because he is fortunate in things that be whyte, therfore let hym vse whyte apparell. The good fortune of this Signe is towarde the West. And therefore his house, bedde, and all his affayres, suche as bee notable are to bee directed that way.

Scorpio

Scorpio the eyght
celestiall and principall
sygne.

The

Arcandam.

The .viij. treatise entreateth of Scorpio, the .viij. signo celestial, and conteyneth .viij. Chapters . The firste speaketh of the head of Scorpio . The .ij. of the bellye of Scorpio . The .iij. of the taile . The .iiij. of the iudgement of Scorpio touchynge the male . The fyfte touchynge the female . The .viij. and last of the common and generall fortune therof.

the 19 perti
culer signe

The firste Chapter entreateth of the head of Scorpio, which is the .xiiij. celestial and particuler signe called Alchapt, and hath .viij. starres in this maner . Where note that what soeuer as well male as female, beyng borne in this signe, firste touchynge the disposition of the body, is well coloured and hath muche heare. Hys bodye fayre and whyte, sayunge that hys nose is foule and deformed. Hys eyes browes narrowe, and hys Chekes small. He hathe a marke naturall not farre from hys nose, vpon his lefte foote and

Arcaidain.

and shulders. Also the lyke bypon the paulme of hys hande, and bypon the legge. He shall be curteous of speache discrete and profitable in manye artes.
He shall be beloued with his parentes, neighbour, and frendes, and espe-ciallye with his parentes, and such as he loueth, he shall liberallye enrich the wyth muche goods and honoure.
Towardes women he shabe of a myght and inconstaunte mynde, and yet shall bese no decepte or malice towardes them. But yf he were of smale conscience, he myghte dooe with them and vse them as he lysted, because he shall be greatlye beloued wyth them.
Wherby he touchenge Blottome, wherthe is the verye handmayde of Lecherye, the partye boync in this signe about all meates shall loue bread, espe-ciallye cruste bread, wherof he shall be a greate eater. He shall bee verye fresfull, and therevnto sodenlye dysposed.

Arcaidant.

He shall be a greater talker. He shall be faynte harted and fearefull. And although his angre be vehement, and yet the chiefest effect thereof shall consist in words. One of his familie he shall greatly hate. His first wyfe shall be faire and a cleare of cōplerion. Concernyng his lyfe and maner thereof. He shall lyue honestly and quietly with his wyfe. He shall naturally be full of diseases, but yet thereof verie patient. He shall haue .ij. speciall maladies. The firste when he is xiiij. yeres of age. The .ij. when he is xliij. The .ij. and last when he is .lxx.
Concernyng his good fortune. He shall be a man that shall vse correction, and shall be very discrete. He shall be honorable and from one degree of estate shall ascende to another. And accordyng to his euyl fortune, he shall be stricken vpon the head, and shall be bitten with a Dog, or some other beast. He shall dye vpon a sworde's point. He shall be greatly affected with self wel, and with vehemencie of wordes and tauntes. He shall be naturally

Attandain.

naturally enclined to haue paine in hys bellie, wherewith he shalbe much troubled. He shall fall into the hands of great men. He shall haue carnall compaignie with .iiij. women, whereof the .iiij. shal be marked vpon the cheeke.

The .ij. Chapter maketh declaration of the bellie of Scorpio whiche is the .x. parti- * * * culer Signe hauinge three starres shaped in this forme, for whosoener is borne in this signe, shalbe fayre, and yet not pure whyte, but mixt, somewhat disposed to redde, and shalbe redde headed. His mouth and head shal-be great, and shalbe of a meane and comely stature. He shalbe a great pratler, and notable lecherous, angrie, and therein very debement. His angrie shal-be disposed to mischief, and ready to reuengement, muche lyke an Adder. And although he be one day merye, yet another daye he shalbe sadde. He shall doe much mischief. Lykewyle touchenge his lyfe and maner thereof. First in his backe

Arctandain.

backe he shall suffer muche payne. He shall naturallie be affected with an infirmitie in his heart and stomack. Thre speciall sickenneses he shall haue duringe hys lyfe. The first when he is .xv. yerres of age. The seconde when he is .xxvj. The thirde and lasse when he is .xlir. Concernyng hys euyl fortune. He shall incurre into manie troubles and misaduentures. He shalbe marked wth hurte wth some tooke or instrument of yron vpon hys head, face, breste, right side and priuie partes. And here note that all y<sup>e</sup> thynges aforesayde, are general & spoken generalli, & touch al & singular such as are borne in y<sup>e</sup> belly of Scorpio, whether it be in the day or nyght, or what houre soeuer it bee. But yett here further is to be considered, that the borne in this signe, whether it be in the daye or night, ouer & besydes the premisses touching hys bodie, shalbe effeminate, and touchyng hys lyfe and maner thereof, he shalbe flatterynge, snappye, and shall haue a payne in one of hys feete, yf he be second

Attendant.

he borne in the thyrde houre of the daye it signifieth good fortune, for he shall bee luckye in tillage of grounde, but in marchaundise lytle fortunate. But yet not wythstandynge in those traſiques, whych he shall attempte he shall receyue muche profite. Semblablye tou-chynge his euill fortune, he shall dye of a ſtrype wyth a ſworde or elles in his iorney trauelynge and ſhall haue a marke vpon his knee and backe.

The thyrde Chapter deſcribeth the taylor of Scorpio called Elezah, whiche is the one and twentie particuler Sygne, * *
and hath ſyre ſtarres in this maner, where note that who ſoeuer is borne in this Sygne. * * *

Whether it bee by Daye or Nyght, in what houre ſo euer it bee.

vj.

First

Armandam.

First touching the disposition of the bodye shalbe beautifull, neate, hauyng saire, eye browes, cleare eyes and smale leane checkes and thinne and vnder his chawe shall haue a marke. If anye be borne in this signe in the tyme of Winter, then his complexion shalbe cffermi-nate. If he be borne in the Sommer then touchinge the disposition of his body he shalbe beautifull, but yet grosse and fatte vnder his apparell. Also if any woman be borne in this signe, she shall be of an indifferent stature and beautie, her face saier, of smothe here and by reason of her coloe complexion she shall de-syre to weare much clothynge. She shall haue a blemishe in her eyes, and shalbe marked vppon her arme, fingers, and knee. If he be a man, he shalbe of sanguine complexion, and mischieuous in geynge a blowe. He shalbe naturally enclined (not, withstandynge it seeme merueylous) to contradictories, that is to saye, to iustice and vnrightheousnes, to losse and gaine, to truth and falshold,
and

Armandam.

and all by reason of the concurrence of the opposites and contrarie signes, and yet not withstanding the signe that is of greatest force, shall beare the chiefe rule touchyng the premisses. Touchinge iustice, he shall be naturally geuen to honestye, he shall be iuste and of muche equitye, and in all his affayres greatly inclined to iustice. And touchinge the contrarie he shall be a greate Inuenter of newes, a Talebearer, a Lper, deccrypt, full, enuious, and false, prone to deccypte as well by his looke as by hys laughter. He shall be full of discorde and a sower of debate, chetelye amonges brythren and frendes, Inhereby it appeareth that he is naturallye inclined to iniquitie and vnrightheousnes, craftie and deccypte not withstanding his nature also to the contrarie. But yet the signe of mooste force as is aforesayde doeth principallye beare rule in this natiuitie. And to saye anye thyng touchyng his lyfe, and maner thereof, touchyng his future inclination, we can not. For as muche as the concourse of the starrs in this nativitie are dyuers. Lykewylse concerning his good fortune or indifferent fortune, this man at one tyme shall want, and at another tyme shall haue sufficient. He shall haue three wyues, whereof the firste shall bee a wydowe. The seconde and thyrde shall bee virgins, but the thyrde shall bury hym. And here is mete to bee knowen that by reason of the generalitie of this signe, and of the concurrence of the signes, this nativitie shoulde bee coupled to foure wyues, but yet the chiefest shall preuaile. He shall bee of power and libertie to doe and accomplishe hys owne desires. Happye shal he be to the femine kynde, that is to saye, to thinges of that kynde, as cattail and such lyke. He shall bee twise bitten with a dogge or other beast vppon the shulder and on his nose or nostrils shall haue a marke. He shalbe in daunger or thral of men of power or authoritie. Hys laste wyfe shall burye hym by reason of the marke vppon his arme, of the bytte of the Dogge as hys constellation doeth thereunto chyeselye enclyne.

H. ij. concourse

Arctandain.

Arctandain.

The fourth Chapter describeth the Iudgement of Scorpio, touchynge the male. Where note that the Chylde borne in this sygne (touchynge hys bodye) vppon hys feete and handes shall haue a naturall marke. And touchynge hys mynde, he shall bee bountifull and liberall, so that he shall not keepe secrete hys substaunce.

In the seruyce of others, he wyl be mearye, trustye, bolde and pleasaunt. In his conditions stronge, stable, and not wauerynge, not desistynge or leauynge of from hys affayres beyng once begonne. Touchynge his lyfe, he shall haue three principall diseases the tymes whereof hee not here noted, whiche if he chaunce to escape he shal lyue .C.x. yeres and .x. monethes. And accordynge to the vertue of this signe ther shalbe no impediment in the constellation, except it happen by some perticular cause.

V.ij.

His

Accordant.

His fortune shalbe good so: that in hearyng and sepyng his lucke shalbe prosperous. He shall attayne to greate wysedome and learninge, and to the magike science he shal greatelye applie himselfe, and the mysteries thereof diligentelye serche out. And yet his diligence so taken doeth include a certeyne doubt or duplicittie, by reason of the force and effi-cacie of the worde. For it maye signifie greate inuestigation and diligence and that perteyneth to his good fortune, or elles it maye signifie a causable in-firmittie procedyng of the sayde Magike science, whiche belongeth to evyll fortune. He shall haue greate abundauce of money, and the same daylye shall encrease and multiplie. By mea-nes of a woman he shall be greatelye enriched, and ouerhys enemyes he shall haue the victorie. In forreigne places he shall exercise tillage, and at length shall retourne home into hys owne countrey with gayne. Of his betters by wage of seruice, he shall receyue bozles,

Scandam.

Hoxles, Shepe, Oxen and other beastes. Whys natue shall bee in greate daunger, and excepte he take heede, he shall be hurte wpyth a sworde. Water-daye shall be his contrarye daye, and therefore vppon that daye, let hym not wash his head, or put on any new garment, or elles attempte any straunge enterpryse. And some affirme that he that is borne aboute the ende of thys wygge, shall be of neyther kynde, or of bothe, that is to saye, as well male as female.

The fiftte signe declareth the effecte of Scorpio concerninge the woman.

Who hath her recourse to the partes of thys signe before mentioned in eche Chapter. Not withstandinge ouer and besides the premises, thus much is to bee spoken. For by the, you shall note that she shall bee of a frenche condicon, obedient seruicable, fearefull, and shame-faste. She shall bee wythfull and haue him in deadly hatred that doth her anye displeasure. She shall haue Chyldren

Arctandam.

by thre husbandes , and wth them shall lyue in greates felicitie . She shall banquyshe her enemies , but yet telle she her thyrtye yeares of age she shall susteyne muche sickennesse.
Netherthelesse , of Cattayle she shall haue haboundaunce , and manye people shall bee vnder her gouerne-ment. But yet in her youth she shall abuse her bodie in playinge the Harlot, yf the force of the imminent constellation do take his effecten, bitte she shall bee with a Dogge, and in the ende shalbe blinde.
Of her brethren and parentes she shall receyue much trouble. Saturday shalbe to her infortunat day, therefore vpon that daye let her not washe her head , put on any newe garmentes, or doe any other straunge acte.

The syrte Chapter entreateth of the generall fortune of Scorpio. Therefore the borne in this signe is na-turallge moyste , Phlegmaticke or

Humid .
Sanguine .
The .viii. .

Secundain.

Sanguine. And suche shall bee fygurlerlye fortunate of all thynges that bee of colour redde, and in byng and sellynge of all suche. The lyke fortunate in all thynges factible, or to bee foryged wyth or in the fyre, extrahible or belongynge to the same, and in marchaundyse of unknowynge thynges. And therefore as muche as he can, lette hym weare suche garmentes as bee Redde. The lyke fortunate in Warrefare and Tillage, and in all Beastes belongynge to the same.
Fortunate in Hospitalyte, whether it bee doone for money sake, lucre, or for Goddes sake.

The vnforsunate Dayes bee Thurs-daye and Saterdaye. The reste bee good, especialllye Twelldaye. He shall bee affected wyth the Chyragre or Coute in the Handes. Wyth the Sciatica and payne in the Head.

H.b.

And

Arctandam.

And yf Saturne be founde to be afscendent, than he shall haue great payns in his toes. Hys fortune is towards the South, and therefore let hym dispose hys affayres that waye, and conuert to that part hys chamber Dooze, Bedde Wyne-dowe, and the lyke.

¶

Registarius

Sagittarius the.ix.

celestiall and principall
sygne.

398

The

Arcandam.

The .ix. treatise maketh relation of the .ix. celestiall and principall signe called Sagitarius, whiche is divided into two partes, that is to saye, the head and the tayle, conteynynge fise Chapters. The firste entreateth of of the head of Sagitarius. The .ij. of the taile. The .iij. of the iudgement of Sagitarius concernynge the male. The iiij. of the female. And the .v. and laste of the generall fortune therof.

And ouer and besydes the sayde fyue Chapters, there is a generall rule nexte after the second Chapter, not withstan-dyng the generalitie mencioned in the ende of this treatise.

The firste Chapter entreateth of the head of Sagitarius called Alabam, being the .xxij. particular signe, which hath the 22. particular signe starsfashioned in this maner. Where note
that who so ever is borne in this signe, firste touchynge the disposition of his bo-

*	*	*
*	*	*
*	*

Armandam.

eye, hath a beautifull bodey, comely to beholde, longe and talle, and throughout beautifull, a lytle head, a thycke face, a fayre nose, whyte teeth and short.
Vppon the lefte parte of hys Head he shall haue a strepe, and the lyke vppon the Crowne of hys Head, hys left Hand hys Fingers, Armes, Teates, and a gaynst hys Heart. He is nymble, swifte on hys fete, and verye expedyte in run-nyng. He shall haue a naturall marke vppon hys pryue members. He is of colour blacke, whose face shalbe lyke to them that haue the greene sickennes.

Touchnge the disposition of the mynde he shall by nature haue a good wytte, and a sharpe, and therewithall constant and firme. He shall loue wyse men, and shall embrace all suche as bee of discretion.

Wherefore touchynge thys parte of nature, and the naturall constellation bea-ryng rule in this natiuitie, he shall acquire vnto hym selfe possession wyth wyse men.

And

Accandam.

And although he haue a conetous mynde naturally disposed to auarice, by reason of the concourse of certain starrs, yet by meanes of the dominion of this signe, he shalbe studious of good thinges, and shalbe inclined to vertue, and especially to the vertue of liberalitie.

And therefore he shall not be muche inclined to the opposite or contrarie, nor yet to extorte other mennes goods. And because principally he is bent to vertue, it will folow that he shalbe of great authoritie, & exalted in hygh degree of honour. Moreover although he be naturally inclined to liberalitie, and not to rapine or extortion, yet he shalbe prodigie and giuen to many vices, that is to say, to pryde, conetousnes, lecherie and glotonie, and chieflie to pryde lytle esteemyng other mennes doyns or sayings, very haultie, in so muche that what so ever question any do aske of him, he shal get no answer at his handes. And by reason of his pryde aforesayde, he shalbe a great Caillour, Lier, Chyder, and full

Arcandam.

full of contentiou. He shall haue a verye pelliferous and benemous tongue. And although he be naturally inclined to a certeyne spice of liberalitie, for that he wyl couet to possesse nothyng vniuersally, yet he shall bee desirous to gette substaunce, and conetously to enioye it.

Wherby consequently it appeareth, that wholly he is not gyuen to conetousnes, but to a certayn spyce therof to a desire to haue. I yhetwyle he is inclined to Leshery. For with thre women specially he shall haue to do, but some tymes (by natures impedimēt) he shal not pro-sect his seed, although he be very desirous therevnto. He is much disposed also to glotting chiefly to eatyng of herbes and in his meate doth greatly loue them.

Furthermore note here that the premisses do not only belong to the man, but to the woman also subiect to that constellation. Concernyng hys lyfe and maner therof. He shall bee long sick, and shall haue a payne in hys heart. He shal haue thre speciall sickenneses. The first

Arandaun.

first when he .xx. yeres of age . The .ij. when he is .xlvj. The .ij. and last, when he is .lxxx. Touchyng his good fortune, he shall bee in great estimation and honour. He shall haue manye children, & amongs al he shal haue a twinne or two boyme at one byrthe, and of them he shall see the thyrde generation. He shal atteyn to his fathers enheritaunce. In all hys affayres he shall prosper and day-ly he shall see his goods encrease. He shal come into the worlde wyth his owne starre, that is to say, he shall enjoy all thyngs accordyng to the influence of his signe. He shall haue much trouble in the water. He shall fall into a river but he shall eschape drownyng. He shall lose the most part of all hys goods and shall fall into the hands of his enemye and sometymes into handes of a woman a she enemye. He shall bee bitten wth a beast in the myddest of one of his fingers of hys right hand, and shall dye an exile out of hys countrey. His most dearest frend beloued aboue others he shal lese,

and

Arandam.

and he shall bee wonderfully troubled with deuilles and euill spirites.

The seconde Chapter describeth the condicion of the taylor of Sagitarius, whiche is. xxiij. particular signe called the 23 partic Albeyda, and hath by. Markes fired in thys maner. He that is bozne in thys signe, firste touchynge the dis position of his bo dy. He shall haue a body comelye, a ruddye face, redde heare, narrowe eyes browes, eyes lyke a Catte, he shall bee balde, and beautifull to beholde, natu rally marked vppon the head, his left eye, and vpon hys ryght nostrill.

After the disposition of the mynde he shalbe very ready to anger, and therein also shalbe very sonnbden, and the payne beyng past, he wyll soone be appeased.

He shalbe of an excellent witte, and na turally geuen to the exercise of rydynge

Appendant.

and shoyng. He shall not be circum-spect in hys doynge, no; yet foresyng in thynges that maye happen. He shall hane muche payne in his guttes, and in hys head, especially he shall suffer three seuerall sickenneses. The first when he is. xxj. yerres olde. The seconde when he is. lxxj. yerres of age. And the thyrde when he is. lxxx. And touchyng his good fortune, yf he doe not take away o; remoue the naturall marke which shal bee vppon his ryght buttocke, o; right nostrell, then his Constellation shall bee prosperous. But yf the sayde marke bee violently remoued from the place, then his fate shall bee hindered and empe-red. He shall bee valient in armes, and therein also victorions. But if the houre of Saturne doe concurre with Sa-turne in hys natiuitie, he shall be impotent by reason of the influence of that planet, and therefore shal with great labour attayne to anye commoditie, and with muche difficultie acquire his former good lucke. But yet not withstan-dyng

Arctandam.

dyng the impediment of Saturne, yf the marks aforesayd be not taken away yet he shall obteyne the victorious seates aforesayde. But yf his mother par-happes do take awaye that marke from the places aforesayde, some euyl happe may chaunce vnto hym. For he shall haue much a doe to repell the influence of Saturne. The sayde markes doe ve-hementlye resist the malyce of the planet by reason of theyr notable vertue.
So that Saturne shal do no great hurte although he doe some hynder. And touchyng the euyl fortune of the boyme in this sygne of Sagitarius. He shall bee in manye troubles. He shall bee hurte wyth whotte burnynge yron.
He shall bee in daunger of Theues not onelye by traueyllynge by the waye, but also in Cyttes. He shall also lose and forgoe manye possessions purchased by hym selfe, whiche shall bee confiscate and taken from hym through the malyce of certeyne naturall markes, whereof one shall bee in his stones.

Attendant.

And another vppon hys lette shoue, by force wherof, he shal not long after lose hys syght.

Lyke wyse thou shalt haue intremembraunce this rule folowynge, touchynge the taile of Sagitarius, generally apperteynynge to all men borne in this signe.
And first thou shalt know that if it happen he be borne in the seconde houre of the daye, not withstandynge the premisses he shall be foule and euill fauoured.
He shalbe balde, and his Children also shalbe balde, by reason of the markes aforesayde, whereof the one shalbe vppon his ribbes, and the other vppon his left syde. Also by force of this constellation, he shalbe very lecherous, and shalbe diseased with a great infirmitie. but he shal recouer. In lyke maner touchynge hys good fortune, he shall haue two Chyldren borne at one byrthe. Hys possession and lyuynge shall bee indifferent, for sometymes it shall bee diminished, and sometymes encreased. All these thinges thou shalt diligentlge note, ouer and besides

Arcaudin.

besides the things conteyned in the two Chapters also: said.

In the thyr<sup>d</sup> Chapter entreatyng of Sagitarius iudgemente touchyng the male. There is to be noted that he that is borne in thys sygne, shall haue a merke and pleasaunt countenaunce.

Lykelysse, touchyng the disposition of the wynde, he shall bee gentle, faithfull, meeke, liberall myrte wyth subburnesse, by reason whereof, he shall bee of greate authoritie, gentle, kynde, courtelyshe, and a great bankettour, by reason of whiche hys curtesye manye well repayre vnto him, and he gettes at hys table. And by meanes of his liberalitie he wyll bee a bountifull geuer of horses and other fourefooted beastes. He shall bee verie ingenious, wyttie, artificiall, sobre, graue, paynesfull, and carefull of his affayres. He shall bee subtil and very inare aboute his doyngs. So that he wyll not disclose hys secretes to no man, but secretely wyll keepe them to hym self, & the same wyll

Arcaudain.

very finely keepe hidde in his breste, for that almost he is mistrustfull all men.
He shall be with manye vices encom-bred, because he is naturallie gyuen to be a great fornicatour, and one that will be soone angrey, and yet soone appeased againe, and when his anger is once done, then he wyll utter muche fayre and gentle talke somewhat ioynd with couetousnes. He shall be skabbye and very full of ytche. He shall bee affected wyth two notable & strong sickenneses.
The one when he is .xxvij. yeares of age, whiche shall bee so vehement that he shall stande in greate hazarde of lyfe, whiche yf he eschape, then shall he haue the seconde, whiche shall happen when he is foure score and eyght yeares of age, whereof he shall dye. Semblablye, touchynge hys good fortune, The first Chylde that he shall haue, shall bee a sonne. He shall haue to his friend a pier of a realme, with whome he shall dwell in householde and shall possesse other menyes gooddes. In lyke maner touchyng

Arcandam.

change his euill fortune, he shall bee in daunger of thre seuerall prayes, and her that shoulde bee his firste wyfe he shall not enioye. And by the malyce of others he shall bee in displeasure wth his frende aforesayde, and yet in the ende he shall ouercome theyr malyce, and bee reconciled to his frendshyppe agayne. He shall be hurte wth Iron vnlesse warely he take heed thereof. Sondaye is his contrarye daye, therefore vppon that daye let hym attempte no newe enterpryse, nor washe his head, or put on any newe apparell.

The fourthe Chapter of this present Treatyse describeth the Iudgemente of Sagitarius touchyng the female. And here to learne for to knowe the disposition of her bodye, you muste repaire to the Chapters of the head and tayle of Sagitarius (whiche is before recited) where you shall finde manye thynges spoken of the female boine in this sygne.

I.iiij. And

Arccandain.

And touchynge the disposition of the mynde, she shall bee verpe muche gyuen to the Artes of Magicke, and to Witchecraftte, and by reason of the subteltie of her mytte, she shall putte the same Artes in practyse. She shall bee verpe curste, carefull, mercyfull, chyldbearynge and a great Lper. She shall incurre great peryll, especiallpe for one offence that she shall comynytte, for whiche offence she shall be brought to Judgemente: Whiche peryll of she escape, then she shall lyue tyll she be thre score and .vij. yeres olde. She shall fullpe accomplyshe her fate.

And althoughe she bee subiecte vnto muche malyce and daunger, yet she shall obteyne the vyctorye ouer them all. She shall haue twoo husbandes, whereof the seconde shall be the better. Sondaye shall bee her vnforsunate daye, and for that cause, lette her attempte no newe enterpryse or other notable or newe thyng.

THE

Arccandam.

The fiftē and lastē Chapter maketh rehearsall of the generall Fortune of Sagitarius. And firste the borne in thys Sygne shall bee Fortunate, bothe in the lawe of G D D, and also in the lawe of the Worlde.

He shall bee happye in all kyndes of Marchaundyse, especyallye in that Arte that chyeselye vseth the Presse, and in Taylours crafte. Also in the Dyapers science. Chyeselye in clothes of sayeste Coloure, yf they bee retayled percelle meale by the Parde, or Elle.

Also in the Bouchers occupatyon, and Beastes whiche are accustomed to bee solde in the Shambles. Thys Sygne is also Cholerycke by nature, and therefore the borne in thys Sygne is naturallye Cholerycke, by reason wherof he is whotte and drye. And he shall haue a great payne and gryefe by meanes of a soore Impostume in the Lunges. And also of a consuming and beheading Ague, whiche is called Pectica.

I.b. And

Armandam.

And also of an inflammation that shall proceede from the Lounges, acro: dyng to the qualite of thys Sygne.

The apparelles and the coloures whi: che oughte to bee moste vled of the borne in thys Sygne, is Grape, Browne, Pelowe o: Redde, whyche Coloures by reason of the heate and Fyer, are moste apte, moste necessa: rye, and conueniente.

The one halfe of the lyfe shall bee for: tunate, and the other halfe unfortu: nate, not onelye in dayes, and houre, and in Monethes, o: Weekes, but al: so in whole yeares by the number of fyre. What is to saye: by fyre and fyre.
Fyre good yeares, and fyre badde yeares.

The Male o: Female that is borne in thys Monethe, hath his special For: tune placed in the Weste. And there: fore towardes that parte of the Worlde lette hym dyspose all his doynges, concernynge his House, his Doore,
and

Arcandam.
and hys Bedde, and all hys speciall assayes, and notable actes, &c

(:)

Capricornus

Capricornus the .x.
celestiall and principall
sygne.

The

Academi.

The .x. treatise entreateth of the .x. principall and celestiall signe called Capricornus. This signe is diuided into .ij. principall partes, that is to saye, the head and the tayle, for that cause it is diuided but into .ii. Chapters whereof the firste entreateth of the head, The .ij. of the tayle. The .iii. of the male. The .iiii. of the female. And the v. and laste of the common and generall fortune of Capricornus.

The firste Chapter entreateth of the head of Capricornus beynge the .xiiij. particular signe the 14. particular signe and is called

Antares whiche hath thre starres disposed in thys maner,

Where is to be noted that the borne in thys

signe touchenge the disposition of the bodde, hath a fayre bodde and comely well fashioned, specialllye in youth

Accandann.

It shall not bee properlye Blacke nor Whyte, but some what gyuen to bee Redde. Lykewyse, he shall haue certaine naturall Sygnes in the Head, the Breste and the Knee. The eyes loose, and full of payne. He shall bee naturallye simple, learned, and wyse, and yet not wythstandynge, verie incredulous and hardc of belyefe. In so muche, as he wyll beleue no man, although he sweare. He shall bee angrey and Chollerycke, and in hys angre be-rye nopous and hurtefull. A man of bloode, and greatlye thyrstynge after the bloode of hys enemyes. So that yf he chaunce to haue the superiourtie ouer hys enemyes, he wyll destroye them all, or the most parte of them, if not wyth hys owne handes, yet he mea-nes of others. He shall bee verie craftye and subtile, and that vnfaynedly. And yet in hys doynges trewe dealing and verie iust, and a great louer of trueth, doynge the thyng that he goeth about wyth much thought, although there wyth

Accandam.

With some craft be included. His gate and goyng very crafty althoughe outwardly it shall not appeare. Who in his age shall be very profitable and good to many. This man doeth naturally loue the trymmyng of his bodye, and hath so great delgtht in his owne beautye, that he shall thynke none to bee lyke vnto hym selfe. And his speciall respects shall bee towarde his Head, his Beard, and Heare.

Lyeuyle, by reason of the bementye of his naturall Complexion he is by nature muche enclined to ticepe after meate, and at the Table, wheche commonly he putterh in practyse.

Lyeuyle, touchyng his lyfe, and manner thereof. Touchyng diseases and syckenneses, there is nathyng to bee founde certeyne in this Chapter. And yet in the fourth Chapter where the Iudgemente of Capycornus is entreated concernyng
the

Arctandam.

the woman, it is reade that the borne in this signe, shall haue one speciall and principall disease when he is. cccij. yerres of age, whiche yf he escape, he shall lyue tyll he be. Cvij. yerres of age. And touchyng sicknes. He shalbe naturallye diseased and singulerlye affected wyth the payne of the heart and stomacke, wherof he shall dye. Also touchynge the euyl fortune of this signe, ye shall vnderstand that the borne in this signe, that is to saye, in the head of Capricornus accordyng to the force of the constellation he shall be depriued of one of his members, and some of hys teeth.

In the. v. Chapter of this. r. treatise is expessed the taile of Capricornus, whiche is the sygne and twentye particular wygne called Astaldabo; havyng two starres placed in this sorte. ¶ There is to be noted that whosoener is borne in this signe after the disposicio of his body, he shalbe beaufiful white

and

Arcondam.

and smothe heared, fayre eyes, hys eye-browes, well made, hys colour yelow, and shalbe naturally marked in the face and also in hys body, with manye sundry markes. That is to saye: aboute hys necke, and neare vnto hys eye. He shall haue short lippes, in so much that for the shortnes thereof, when he speaketh, he shall shewe all the teeth in his head. He shall bee well learned, and somewhat bent to bee proude, whiche shall happen even by nature. He shalbe a sower of Corne vppon other mens labours; that is to saye: he blsith other mens doings to the commendation of hym selfe. He shall dispise all men, and bee a great praiser of hym selfe, dyspylinge others, and greatly standinge in his owne conceyte. He shall bee irefull, and verye fierce in angre, in so much that he shall bee greatly offended with hys owne parentes. He shall bee verye lecherous and a louer of all sortes of women, and speciall ye he shall committe adultery wyth nyne sundrye woman, besydes

B. j.

all

Arccandam.

all other syngle and common women, and not withstanding this his great desire and affection to women, sometimes by witchcraft and sorcery, he shalbe letted from committynge fornication with diuers women. Lyke wyle he shalbe a notable great drynker. But not withstanding the vices aforesayde, wherevnto he shalbe much apte and inclined, yet he shalbe a iuste man and much inclined to iustice, a despyser of guyll and a great louer of hys companions. And where he shalbe naturally geuen to be a drynker, yet in hys meate and dyet, he shalbe very spare and temperat. He shall feelee great payne in hys head. But yet the seconde payne, that is to saye, the payne of hys belly, shalbe greater in hym. He shall also in his going bee troubled wth a payne in hys Legge. Also he shall haue eyght special sickenneses.

The firste, when he is fourtene yeares old. The seconde, when he is twenty. The thyrde, when he is one and twenty. The

Arcandam.

The fourth, when he is thyrtye.

The fiste, when he is sire and thyrtye. The sirte, when he is foure and fourtye. The.vij. when he is sire and fourtye. The.vij. when he is .x. And then by force of his constellation. He shall dye through the weakenesse of hys members.

Howeuer, touchyngc hys good fortune he shall haue two sonnes, and shall receyue inheritaunce from his Progenitours. And hys ende shall bee better then his begynnynge. He shall bee naturallye gyuen to the marchaundye of Goates, and therein shall bee both fortunate and luckye, yf he wyll diligently folowe the same trafficke.

Lykewyle, touchyngc hys euill fortune, he shall bee subiecte to the hands of hys enemies. He shall bee depriued of one of hys members, and thereby shall bee maimed. And before the tyme of hys death, he shall suffer manye and sundrye great troubles at the handes of a noble man.

h.y.

The

Accandain.

The thyrth Chapter determineth the iudgement of Capricornus touchynge the male. And for the man chylde borne in this signe, there is nothyng sounde certayne, touchynge the disposition of his body in this Chapter, and therefore recourſe muſte be made, to the Sygne wherein the male Chylde is borne.

That is to ſaye, to the head of Capricornus, or elles to the tayle, and there the truth concernynge hys corporall diſ-poſition maye bee ſounde.

And yet not wythſtandynge (ouer and beſyde the premiſſes) ſuche one hath a lytle head, holloſne eyes, and a ſofte ſpeache. And touchynge hys mynde he ſhall be very incredulous & harde of beliefe, in ſo muche as them that ſweare, and confirme theyr ſayinges wyth othe, he ſhall not credite. And therefore lyke as he ſhall not beleue others, euen ſo it is as meete that other ſhall bee as harde of beliefe to hym, and ſhall not credite hys wordes though he bynde them wyth othes. He ſhall naturally bee

Accandam.

bee verye subtell and secrete in all hys affayres, and therein shall bee a subtell and crafty deceyuour, and a bolde sufferer and bearer of aduersitie. Lykewyse he is naturally couetous, irefull, and therein verye souden and mischeuous, bysnge a mischeuous and vngacious stomacke, and therefore with greate difficultie he shall retourne to hys former quiet. And not withstandinge the aforesayde vices he shall bee naturallye geuen to be ciuile, honest, amiable, and pleasaunt. Moreover, touchyng hys life and maner thereof, he shall bee full of sickennes. But yf he eskape one verye beement sickennes (whyche shall happen when he is twentye yeres of age) he shall lyue by force of thys Constellation, eyght and fiftie yeres vnlesse some naturall impediment of anye perticuler or vniuersall cause opposite doe occurre and happen. His lyfe shall bee shortened by reason of the truncation and cuttyng of some of hys members.

He shall be married to two wyues, and

L.ij.

the

Armandain.

the seconde he shall marrye, when he is one & thytty yeres of age, whych he shall bee hys better Wyfe, by whome he shall bee greatlye enryched. He shall enter into other mennes laboures, and enioye gooddes gotten by others.

He shall treade the grounde of manye Countreyes, and at length shall retourne to hys owne Countrey, and to the place of hys nautie wyth greate gayns and substaunce. He shall haue to doe wyth muche treasure, and shall enioye parte of the same.

Toucheinge hys euill fortune, he shall suffer muche aduersitie in the place where he was borne. And for that he is naturallie subtile, and of myschietious mynde. He shall suffer muche trouble and yet shall ouercome it well pnowghe. Hys fyrste Wyfe shall dye before he bee one and thytty yeres olde. Mondaye is hys contrarpe and vnfortunate daye. Therefore vppon that daye lette hym attempte no newe face, or anye notable enterpryse.

Arctandam.

He seemeth to be of a melancolycke or earthye Complexion . And therefore he hathe hys Fortune cheselye dyspo-sed towarde the South parte.

And here thou shalte diligentely note, that he whiche is borne in the ende of thys Sygne , shall be borne in Adul-terye . And thys Sygne hath no power in the natiuite of women , but onely of the males.

The fourth Chapter of thys tenth Treatyse describeth the Judgemente of Capricornus, touchynge the female.
And thou shalte note that the woman-borne in thys Sygne , hathe nothyng in thys presente Chapter that is certaine touchynge the dysposition of her bodye . And therefore looke in what parte of this signe soeuer she be borne, there thou shalte fynde her naturall and corporeall disposition . And therewith also thou shalte haue recourse vnto the nexte Chapter ensuyng, and the difference shall be founde to be greate be-twene both the kyndes.

R.iii.

Fo.

Arctandain.

For as muche as the bodily disposition, as well the stature as the other composition of either kynde is indifferent and equal. Moreover touching the disposition of the mynde. The woman Chylde borne in this signe shall bee very wyse, and a geuer of good counsell, in so much as by reason of her great wisdom and consideration she shall bee acceptable to all sortes of men. She shall attayne to a good fate and constellation toynd with muche love, and meane of her lwyte. She shall bynge her deuises to good effect. She shall be naturally geuen to bee of curste heart, verie whotte and wylfull specialle in those thynges touchynge the disposition of her lwyte and pollicie and thereby verie desirous to knowe suche thynges as bee mooste pleasaunt vnto her wyth her neygh-bours, and specialle suche as be mooste acquainted with her. She shall bee cur-teous and frendly. She shall be soone abashed and desirous to see the world, & therfore shal trauell in vnknowen places.
She

Arctandam.

She shal receyue hurte of a foure footed beaste , whereof yf she escape she shall lyue foure skore yeaeres. Lyke wyse touchyng her good fortune, she shalbe called a mother of Chyldren for that by force of her constellation , she shalbe chyldebearinge and apte to Chyldren especially to sonnes. She shall also be a bundaunte in foure footed beastes, and after she is passed the age of fourtye yeres , her tyme folowynge shalbe more prosperous . And concernynge her euyl fortune. She shall be hurte of foure footed beastes , and shalbe very fearefull vpon the water . Her lucke over her Cattell shall not be very prosperous.
Sonday is her vnforsunate daye , and therfore vpon that day let her attempt no speciall matter , especiall ye of anye great effect.

The.v. Chapter of this .i. treatyse hauynge his title of the generall and vni-uersall fortune of Capricornus , is chiefly prosperous in husbandrye , and in all kyndes of Beastes and Cattell,

B.b.

con,

Arctandain.

concernyng the same, and in all weighty and ponderous matters touching earth, and that whiche is possible to bee done wyth earth, with stones with wodd, and wyth the hydes of the beastes before remembred. Likewise, in bying and sellyng of grayne, and other heauye matters abundant vpon the earth, and especially growing in the same. This signe is prosperous in dull and heauy beastes as Asses, Swine, Oren, and such lyke, and in all kynds of woakes possible to be done with great and painefull labour. The boyme in this signe shall bee more healthfull in trauell then in doyng nothing. Likewise this signe ouer and besides the particuler euentes, is muche disposed to Impostumes of the Romaine, to the Cough, and to inflammations of the Lyuer. Also hys tyme touching his indifferent Fortune, is diuided into two principall partes, not only in dayes, weekes and monethes, but also in yeres, for the tyme is diuided by the number of syue, because continually there

Arctandam.

there shalbee syue good yeaeres and syue badde . This signe also extendeth hys Fortune towarde the Southe . And therefore let hym dyspose all hys wholle affayres (yf he mynde to prosper) that wayne. And from tyme to tyme let hym vse to weare Blacke garmentes.

(?)

Aquarius

Aquarius the.xi.

celestiall and principall
sygne.

The

Attandain.

This. xj. Treatise makinge mention of the. xj. Signe called Aquarius, is diuided into three principall partes, comprehendynge .viij. seuerall Chapters. The. i. conteyneth the head of Aquarius. The. ii. part the belly. And the. iij. the tayle. The. iiij. the male. The
v. the female. The. vj. and last, the common and generall fortune therof.

The. i. Chapter makinge declaration of the head of Aquarius, being the. xxvj. particuler Signe, hathe two starres framed in this sort, * * and is called Astrad. Where is to be noted, y who so euer is borne in this signe, shalbe beautifull in the face and bodye, haupnge a naturall marke in the head, the brest, and left foote. The colour not altogether whyte, but somewhat disposed to black, & to the colour of Honny.

Touchyng the disposition of the mynde very well learned, but naturally vnjust & a doer of much wrong, very desirous
to

Secundam.

to walke after meales. And not with-standyng the naturall inclination to the doynge of wronges, yet he is of nature godly, pittifull, pacient, and a louer of companions, and yet somewhat inclined to the contrary, as to impietie and god-lynes, iniquitie and right, vnrighteousnes, iustice and mercye. He shalbe so pi-tifull that he shall accuse no man, but rather be an excuser. He shall naturallye suffer an ache in the Head, and a payne of the Heart. He shall haue two naturall sickenneses. The first, when he is twenty yeres of age. The seconde, when he is fiftye. He shall bee greatlye honoured, and from manye troubles, which he shall suffer, almighty GOD shall mercifullly deliuer hym. And hys Fortune shall bee indifferente. That is to say, some tyme hauynge sufficient, and at other tymes also he shall lacke.
Also, a Dogge shall greuously bite hym vppon hys Thyghe or Legge.
He shall wander into a straunge lande, and in the myddest of hys wealthe and sub:

Arcandam.

substaunce muche adueruersitie shall happen.

The seconde Chapter of thys present Treatise describeth the Bellie of Aquarius, whiche is the.rrvij. particuler Signe called Alcadabza, and hathe xij. starres formed in thys sort. Who so euer is boꝛne in thys signe shall haue a good body well complexined and made.

* * * *

* * * *

* * * *

And thys bodie shall bee Whyte naturallie, and shall haue some naturall marke in hys Face, Backe, and Elbowe. Hys Bodie shall bee naturallie full of holes, & shal haue vpon his head a blowc oꝝ strype with a sword oꝝ dagger.

Thys man shall bee verie wysse, meeke chaste, and shamefast. And shall loue no vanities, but rather shall embrace trueth and vertue.

He

Accandam.

He shall feare G D D , and desire to do rather good then euill, to which good qualities he is naturally gyuen. And by reason he is tender, he shall haue no naturall foze to do anpe actual o2 corporall labour, and consequently not geuen to walke much. He shalbe much payned in the raines of his backe. He shall haue iij.p. principall discales . The .j. when he shalbe .rrir. yerres of age . The .ij. when he is .rrrbij. The .ij. and last when he is lrrrr . Concernyng hys good fortune, that although he shal enioy in his owne countrey no kynde of office o2 promotion, yet in a straunge countrey he shall attaine to much honour . Concernyng his euill fortune , he shall suffer much trouble , and sundry discommodities ouer and besides the bityng of a Dogge o2 some other beast , either bypon hys arme o2 legge. He shal haue much euill fortune by meanes of hys Parents , for they shalbe taken from him by death, and from them shall receyue no kynde of inheritaunce o2 substaunce . And by foze

Arcandain.

force of thys Constellation, he shall end hys lyfe in a straunge Countrey, and in the water.

The thyrde Chapter of this treatise describeth the Tayle of Aquarius, being the .xviij. particuler Sygne of Heauen called Algassarall, whych hath two Starres placed in thys maner.

There is to be noted that who so euer is borne in thys Sygne. Fyrst touchynge hys bodys disposition, shall bee sayre of bo-dye, and of a ruddye face, shorte in stature and somewhat balde.

Touchynge the qualitie of the mynde he shall bee naturallie verie lecherous, and greately gyuen to the loue of women, behemently desirynge theyr com-panye. A greate Surfetour, greatlye occuppyng hym selfe in bankettyng and Bellye cheare, frequentynge the same wythoute measure.

L. j. Ps

Accandam.

He shalbe verpe couetous and desirous to haue, soz what he seeth he wyl couet to haue. Which dices not withstanding yet geuen to quietnes, greatly embzassinge peace and con corde, and muche abhorrynge dis corde, anoydnyge the meanes thereof, as muche as lyeth in hys power. Lyke wylse, he shall bee en deued wylth a certayne frensie, and shall by a naturall sicknes in a straunge Countrey yelde furth hys bzeath.

Thre principall termes oz diseases he shall suffer. The first, when he is twen tye yeares of age. The seconde, when he is fife and fourtye. And then he shall bee in great daunger of death. But yf he es kape the same, he shall lyue one hundred and twentye yeares, and three dayes. Lyke wylse, touchynge hys good fortune, he shall lyue a longe space with hys Wylse and shall gette muche sub stance and ryches. And althoughe he shall haue great losse, yet he shall haue plentye. Touchynge hys euyl fortune, he shall be without a head, and depriued
of

Arctandain.

of hys Parentes , and Brother . In a straunge Countrey he shall ende hys lyfe, as befoze is remembred.

The.iiij. Chapter entreateth of Aquarius iudgement touchyng the male.
And to learne the disposition of the bo-dye , recourse must bee made to those thynges that bee repozted in the thre Chapters befoze mencioned, where very largely is intreted the particuler so-tune of Aquarius. Duer and besides he shall haue a great audacitie of speache.
Semblablpe touchyng the disposition of the mynde , and especiallpe concernyng hys lyfe , he shalbe couetous, lecherous, prone to angre ; contencious, a lyer, because he shal speake one thyng and do another, and that shalbe by foze of hys principall constellation.

Not withstandyng the sayde byces , he shalbe very ware and circumspect, wyse, pollitike , trustyng in hys owne wysedome, and shall haue a certeyne excellencie of arte and knowledge . Carefull ouer his affayres euen from his youth.

L.vj.

Singul

Arctandam.

Singularlye beloued, courtelye honest and good. Honest he shall bee for that he shall bee conuersant with the honest. Good he shall bee by vertue of the Constellation, and therfore naturallie inclined to goodnes, singularlye embracing all thyngs good and honest. Mercifull, for that he shall extend the same to such as haue neede of mercy, specially Orphanes and wydowes, to whome he shall not onely bee pitifull, but a benefactour and defender. He shall wander into manye places, and thereby by lytle and lytle shall bee enriched.

Lykewyse, touchyng hys lyfe and maner thereof. He shall haue two speciall sickenneses. The first when he shall bee ffire and thyrtye yeres of age, wherby he shall bee verry vehement and daungerous, whercof yf he bee acquieted, then he shall feeble the other, when he is foure skore & ten yeres of age, & of that laste dysease wythout fayle he shall dye. In lyke maner touchyng hys good Fortune, he shall bee happye, for that he shall

Acandam.

Shall be skylful in Arte and knowledge by reason whereof, he shall attayne to preferment. He shall haue the charge and gouernement of manye and diuers sommes of money, and by a straunge man shall vnlooked for enioye muche treasure. And concernynge hys euyl Fortune, hys abode shall not continue in the place of hys owne natiuitie, but wanderynge abrode shall perambulate straunge places, and in them shall continue. And not withstandynge thys hys peregrination and dwellinge in suche places is indifferente either to good or euyl Fortune. Therefore as seemeth to me, it tendeth indifferentlye bothe to good and euyl fortune. He that is thus borne, hys firste wyfe shall not long tarye with hym, and after she is dead, all thynges shall haue moore prosperous successe wyth hym.

And the losse also of thys wyfe, as specialllye I doe note, seemeth not to me to belonge to euyl Fortune, but to indifferente.

Lij. Lyke

Arcandam.

Lyke wyse, vppon the water he shall bee very vnfortune, which by nature he shal abhorre. He shall bee entwapped wyth many and sundry daungers and amon- ges others speciall ye with his wyse and woman. Saterday is his contrarpe and vnhappy day. Therefore vpon that daye he must attempte no notable enterpryse or acte, nor yet vpon that day washe his Head, put on newe garmentes, or doe other nouelties remembred and spo- ken of in the treatise before.

The.ii. Chapter of this.ii. treatise describeth the iudgement of Aquarius touchynge the woman. And here is to be noted, that the woman borne in thys signe touchyng the disposition of her bo- dy, shalbe delicate and tender, and by force of this constellation shall haue a marke in her ryght hande. She shall bee trewe, saythfull, constant, wyttie, and of a good complexion, and disposed to all goodnes, speciall ye to mer-cy and pitie. Lyke wyse, touchyng her lyfe and maner thereof, she shall haue a great disease in her

Arctandant.

her eyes, and shall haue two speciall sickenesses, whereof the chiefest and moste dangerous shall bee when she is of eyghtene yeares of age. And the seconde she shall haue (yf she chaunce to escape the first) when she is foure score yeres olde, and then shall dye accordyng to the effect of this constellation.

Also touchynge her good fortune, she shall abounde in Chyldren. She shalbe enryched with other mens goodes, and shall attayne to an indifferent wealthe.
When she is .xv. yeares of age, Fortune shal sauour her better, and she shal enioye a better state. Muche euyl Fortune shall happen vnto her in her tyme, and amonges others, her good name shall be blotted with infamy, and shall be defamed with the corruption of her virginitie, and shall haue experience of straunge places, and be verie odious to her enemies. Her first Husbande shall put her from hym. She shall be hurte wyth foure footed beastes, or shall bee very neare the same. But it seemeth to gibet

L.iiij,

me

Strandain.

me the shall passively receyue a hurts or daunger.

The.vj. Chapter entreateth of the common and generall fortune of Aquarius, whiche consisteth speciall in tillage and in beasts meete for tillage together, and in all beasts of great quantie and fatnes, as Asses, Hoxles, Swyne, Oxen, Kyne, and such lyke. Lykelypse, fortunate in buyldings, in earth, in stone, in wod, in hydes of beasts, specially the beasts afore remembred. Furthermore, it is commonly and for the most part fortunate in those things which be done with great labour and exercise. This signe is fortunat toward the west, therfore they muste dispose their affayres that waye.
The Sunday is vnfortunat for them, therfore that daye let them not doe any newe notable worke, as is laide in the other treatises. They shalbe vexed with long feuers quotidian and cold. According to the vertue of the constellation, their tyme is diuided into. xij. so that the first. xij. yerres going befoze, are good and lucky,

Accandain.

lucky, the .xv. yerres folowing are vnluky and vnfortunat: and neuertheles in the god fortune of the first .xv. yerres the Sunday is alwayes vnfortunat. As touching the god fortune of the first .xv. yeres, amonge the vnfortunate dayes, the Tuesbay and Saterday haue the principall poynt in the god Fortune. They be naturally sanguine, whote, and moyst, and therefoze they must weare redde and blacke garmentes,

A.b.

Prices

Pisces the .xii.
celestiall and principall
sygne.

The

Arctandam.

The.xij.treatise of this Booke speaketh of the.xij.and laste principall signe of Heauen, called Pisces, and is diuided into two principall partes, the Head and the Tayle. Thys treatise conteyneth fyue Chapters. The firste, maketh mencion of the Head of Pisces. The second of the Tayle. The.iiij.of the iudgement of Pisces for the male. The.iiij.of the iudgement for the female. The.v.and last, of the common fortune of Pisces, bothe of the male and female together.

The first Chapter maketh mencion of the Head of Pisces, which is the.xxiij. particuler signe of Heauen, called Algafayser, and conteyneth two starres thus set. He that is borne in thys signe, shall bee Whyte, and soft of body, and namely of a whyte face. He shall haue a large brest, a comely beard, a fayre forehead, fayre eyes, moze blacke then whyte. He shall hane

Arctandam.

haue many naturall markes on his body, by the which according to the vertue of the Constellation rulyng, he shalbe naturally inclined to fidelitie and wise-dome, but rather he shalbe saythful and wise in deeds. Moreover, he shall haue a naturall marke vppon hys Elbowe or in hys Foote, and shall peraduenture lose one of hys members, or elles it shal fayle hym. He shalbe of a simpling countenaunce, merrye, and louyng pleasure and playe, naturally enclined to equitie; but yet couetous accordynge to the con-iecture taken of his Constellation. And thoughe he be naturallye subiecte to the payne of the Head, he shal bee healthful, of a sounde wytte, and of a wholesome complexion. By the vertue and lyuely-nesse of hys complexion, he shall lyue naturally thye skore and ten yeres without any notable sickennesse, sauinge the head ache, whiche he shall often tymes haue. As concernyng hys good fortune, he shall gette muche money, and pos-seesse manye possessions. He shall haue three

Arcandam.

three Wyues, and shall bee troubled wth the thyrd. When he shall bee in publycke offyce, manye woulde hurte hym, and yet they shall doe hym no hurte, because of theyr weakenesse, and finallye he shall surmounte them: for theyr enuye and malyce shall haue no power agaynst hym. As concernynge hys euyl Fortune, he shall fall into manye aduersities and troubles by hys Constellation: Yet not so but that all these fore sayde thynges in this Chapters be generall as touchynge the influence and efficacie of the Signe, and that they doe appertayne generallye to all that be bozne in thys Signe. For yf it chaunce that anye be bozne in the thyrd houre of the daye, as touchynge the disposition of the bodye, he shall haue a naturall marke in his Nostrilles, and shall haue longe eyes. As concernyng the disposition of hys mynde and wytte, he shall bee a verye suspecte man harde of beliefe, and therefore not beleued.

As

Arcandam.

As concerning the maner of his liuing, he shall haue a great sickennes and feruent in his Postrels, so that by the feruentnes of it he shall dye where he was bozne. He shall haue.iiij.greuous sickenneses. The first at.xxviij.yeres. The.ij.at.liiij. The.iiij.at.lxx.yeares. And then he shall dye of this sicknes, yf he escape the other twayne, or elles bee in great daunger. As concerning his good fortune, although by the effect of the Constellation, he shoulde fall into a ryuer, yet he shall be saued from it, and shall rise oute of it againe yf he fall in, whyche thyngge belongeth to hys good fortune. He shall haue many Chyldren. He shall bee myghty, and rule in Ilandes.

By the mercy of GOD, and the goodnes of the Constellation, he shall escape from all his trouble.

As concernynge hys euyl fortune, he shall fall into a ryuer as is aforesayde. And also into the handes of a myghtye man, and into muche trouble. Yet not wythstandynge that these thynges doe apper.

Arctandain.

appertayne to his euill Fortune, they shall haue a good yssue and ende. For he shall bee deliuered from these variations as afoze is sayde. Whercof it foloweth, that this fortune is euil by accident. Furthermore, because of the marke that he shall haue in hys Postrelles, he shall burpe hys Parentes, whyche he shall lose accordynge to hys Constellation. Whiche thyng belongeth somewhat to hys euill Fortune.

He shall lose some of hys temporall gooddes, whyche he shall haue gotten wpyth great labour, and shall wholly be spoyled of them, or of the moste parte of them.

The seconde Chapter maketh mention of the Tayle of Pisces, whiche is the.iii. and laste particuler Sygne of Beaucn called Luaten, haupnge twentye Starres, sette and disposed in betwe order, in suche maner and forme as here soloweth.

He

Arcandani.

He that is borne in this signe in the first houre of the naturall day shall be fayre of looke, hauynge fayre eyes, fayre face, and fayre of all his bodye.

He shall naturally haue ma-nye markes.

As concernynge the mynde & wytte, he shalbe witty, and prudent, and amiable, hys voyce well sownyng, and liberall more towarde straungers then to hys neighbours. Staungers shall haue much ryches of hym that is thus borne.
He shall haue thre behement sicken-nesses. The first at. ccviij. yeres. The second at. lvi. The thyrde and last at. lxxx. yeres. v. monethes, at the second houre of the fifte moneth. He shalbe a good wyle without Children in wedlocke, yet he shall haue many. He shall haue a charge

Arcaudain.

charge in a straunge countrey: But he shall dwell in hys olone native countrey. And if it chaunce he be bozne at the seconde houre, than as touching the disposition of his body, he shall bee marked in the bzeast, and in hys fpynger.

As concernynge the disposition of hys mynde, he shall haue naturally all the signes and markes that he shall haue whiche is bozne in the first houre, or in another, sayynge the seconde houre, for he that is bozne in the seconde, is naturallye lyberall, and yet couetous.

As concernynge the maner of hys lyfe, you muste saye of hym that is bozne in the seconde houre, as of the other that is bozne in another houre of thys signe. He shall bee aboundaunte in vittayle and ryches. He shall oute lyue two wyues that he shall marrye, by whom he shall haue hys goobdes and possessions. He shall bee myghtye and stronge by sea and by lande, and shall haue a some of power and myghte, of whome he shall see great thynges, and shall p.j.      haue

Accandam.

haue generation of him . Some of hys members shalbe diminished : and yf he eskape such a passion, he shal fal no more into it , whiche thinges appertaineth to hys good fortune. And finally, he shalbe delyuered from all aduersitie.

Touching his euyl fortune , he shall lose some of hys goods by violence . He shall fal into a ryuer , wheroute he shal ryle agayne, and shall take no hurte at all, as is also sayde . He shall come into the handes of a pufsante man , from whome he shalbe delyuered . He shall lose by violence muche ryches whiche he had gotten, without recovery oꝝ hope of recouerye.

The thyrde Chapter determineth of the iudgement of Wisces for the male. The man chylde borne in this Sygne shall haue a naturall marke in his head shulder, oꝝ foote, and a scarre in the midst of his bodye, oꝝ some where elles. He shall bee a player , merrye , a dyspyser of Fortune , verys harde of beliefe, lecherous beyonde measure , and haue great

Accandain.

great fanſye to women, whereby he ſhall ſuffer greate contumelye and hyn-derauunce. He ſhall bee furious and ha-ſtye to anger; but as he is ſoone angrye, ſo ſhall he bee ſoone pacified agayne.

He is naturally conetous, hardye, ſtandyng in hys owne concepte, frendelye, vniuerſall, a lyer. Yet not withſtandynge theſe vices he is wittie, accoꝝdynge to hys nature, auaricious, conetous and greedye of learnynge, eloquente, obſti-nate in hys learnynge, defendynge hys concluſions obſtinatly and wittilye.

And though he haue a ſmale witte, yet it is readye, ſharpe, and prompte. Suche a one boꝝne thus is geuen to the com-panye and loue of good men, earneſtlye louynge hys frendes, and wyllynglye wyl venter hym ſelfe foꝝ them, whereby he ſhall ſuffer hurte and detriment.
He ſhall haue ſeuē greate ſyckennesſes; whereof thre ſhall bee verye extreame; and ſpeciallye the ſyrte, whiche he ſhall haue at foure and thyt-tye yeares of age. And yf he eſcape it,

Arctandam.

he shall lye. lxxv. yeares, and. iij. monethes, and. xij. dayes, he shal dye of the vy. sicknes. Antyll. cccij. yeares of hys age, he shall not be ryche no; pooze, no; shall come to any honour. He shall bee ryche by the death of hys kynskolke.

He shall gette muche gooddes by hys labour, trauell, and notable industrie.

He shall haue the reuenge of hys enemyes, and see the punishment of them.

He shall marrye at. cccij. yeares, and yf he marrye besoze, he shall not keepe hys Wyfe longe, but shall marrye another.

He shall bee called the father of Chyl-dren, and shall haue manye, yet he shall not haue a sonne at the begynnyng.

If he wyll remedye hys styll fortunes, and be delyuered from them, he muste cal earnestly vpon GOD, desiring mercy for Iesus Christes sake, and by that meanes he shal be delyuered. In marryng a Wyfe he shall bee somewhat infortunate, because it shall not bee expedient for him then, but in the age of xxxij. yeares as is sayde. He shall bee hurt

Arcaudain.

hurte by his neyghbour in hys gooddes.
He shall haue manye slytes in the law, becaule of hys gettyng: and shall suffer much and diuers tribulation, and specially in hys youth, wherein certayne thynges shall come luckely to passe with hym. The Waterdape shall bee vnfor-tunate for hym. Therefore that dape he maye not attempte nor take in hande any newe thyng.

The. iiij. Chapter describeth the iudgement of Wisces for the female.
The mayde that is bozne in this signe, that haue a marke by nature in her head or face. She shall be feruent and earnest verye honest, louynge the deckynge of her body: desyring to haue braue apparell: hardy, eloquent, haunyng a readye tounge to speake, wyttye, wysc, pittifull, mercisfull, saythfull, amiable, liberall, of a mercede heart. She shall bee tormented wth the greppynge and frettynge of the Bellie, payne of the stomache, wth the Lunatike passion of Franke, whereby she shall haue greates trouble

Op. iiij.

the

Accandam.

the space of eyght monethes : and after that she is eskaped from it, she shall lyue two and seuentye yeres. She shall comme to greate honour, and haue manye Chyldren, and shall bee called the mother of Chyldren: yet hereof she shall haue some misfortune: because her selfe Chylde shall bee a daughter and not a sonne accordyng to the constellation. As for the mans parte beyng enclined to the contrarye, and surmountinge the naturall complexion of this mayde, sometyme for the meetynge of certayne peticuler causes, whiche maye alter the complexion of the man and of the woman, and maye sonne thynge chaunge it. She shall bee burned and hurte with sper. And yf it chaunce that her selfe Chylde bee a sonne, he shall not bee a trewe male, because of the opposition and inclination of the mother, whereof I haue already spoken. At .xxv. yeres of her age, she shall haue lvyte with her father or mother, or agaynst them both, yf they lyue. The waterdaze shall be

Accandain.

shalbe contrary to her & unlucky, therefore that day she maye not beginne anye notable worke.

The.v. Chapter reciteth the common fortune of Pisces. They that be borne in this signe, haue their fortune, in art of a handy crafts man, and in marchandise of cloth, if thei be faire, also in metalls, and in marchandise of fleshe, and namely in marchandise of corne & wheate and barley: and moreover in horse, in divinitie & the ciuill law, thei shalbe subiect to whot sicknesses & burnings, as to feuers, fretting of the belly, poison, specially at þ yerres of 44 & 68, thei shal haue 3 lucky daies in þ weke, Monday, thursday & fryday, the tuesday & saterday unlucky, þ wednesday & sonday indifferēt.
Furthermoze thei haue 6 good yerres & 6 bad, thei haue their good fortune toward the south therfore thei must dispose their dwze, bed, & such like affaires that waye, thei be cholerick, wherby thei be balde, & thei must weare grey apparell o; black, and not red, greene, white, o; blew.

¶.iiij.

Besides

Accandam.

Besides that whiche is written in the Prologue set before the treatises here expressed by Chapters, you muste number & reken this letter A. amonge þ numerall letters that signifie þ number, and it is as much as two beyng compounded and made twise of the letter A.

Nowe, for to finde the totall or principall signe, you must divide the number by 12. Of a thousande there remaineth the number of 4.

Of 900	nothing.	Of 140	8.
Of 800	8.	Of 120	nothing.
Of 700	4.	Of 100	4.
Of 600	nothing.	Of 80	8.
Of 500	8.	Of 60	nothing.
Of 400	4.	Of 50	2.
Of 300	nothing.	Of 40	4.
Of 200	8.	Of 30	6.
Of 180	nothing.	Of 20	8.
Of 160	4.

The number that cometh of the letters of number, muste bee divided by 30, for to finde the particuler signe of the childe that is borne, because there be 30 particuler

Accandam.

particuler signes, and because of the taylor of Virgo, whiche is divided into two partes, whereof foloweth the division of the numbers by 30.

Of 1000	10.	Of 180	nothing.
Of 900	2.	Of 160	10.
Of 800	20.	Of 140	20.
Of 700	10.	Of 120	nothing.
Of 600	nothing.	Of 100	10.
Of 500	20.	Of 80	20.
Of 400	10.	Of 60	nothing.
Of 300	nothing.	Of 50	20.
Of 200	20.	Of 40	10.

Furthermore, you must note that the number whiche cometh of the name, rall letters of the name of the Chylde and of hys mother muste bee divided by 29 whereof the division foloweth.

Of 1000	remaineth 14.	Of 300	10.
Of 900	1.	Of 200	26.
Of 800	17.	Of 180	6.
Of 700	4.	Of 160	15.
Of 600	20.	Of 140	24.
Of 500	6.	Of 120	4.
Of 400	23.	Of 100	13.
		99.9.	99.

Accandam.

Of 80 22. Of 40 21.
Of 60 2. Of 30 1.
Of 50 21.

The numerall letters signifying the number.

I.	one.	L.	fiftye.
II.	two.	C.	a hundred.
III.	fyue.	D.	fyue hundred.
IIII.	tenne.	M.	thousand.

Some men wyll not admytte M. for a signifyinge letter of two amonge the other seven: yet there bee certayne names wherein this letter may serue in the steede of other letters.

TABLE

10	100	1000
20	200	2000
30	300	3000
40	400	4000
50	500	5000
60	600	6000
70	700	7000
80	800	8000
90	900	9000
100	1000	10000

OF PHISIO- nomie.

Nowe, for as muche as the ma-ners of the mynde do folow the temperature of the bodye, I haue thought it meete and conuenient to adde here some signes of the Phisionomie, according to the quantitie or qualitie of some partes of the bodye,

Accandam.

Ceyned.

Great.

Werpe smale.

Deane.

Sharpe poynted lyke a bougar lofe.

The head

Wylth Heare ryght vptwarde.

Wylth Heare ryghte downewarde.

Wylth Heare much curled.

Wylth thicke Heare.

Wylth Heare curled at the ende.

Werpe smale.

Rounde.

Longe.

Square.

Wylthout wyznckles.

Rough and wyznckled.

Hangyng ouer
the eyes.

Wygh and lostye.

The forhead.

Accandam.

Cature.

Of a dulle wytte. Asses.

Fooles.

Of a good wytte. Naturall.

Unshamefast. Naunters.

Fearefull. Passion.

Symple.

Fearefull. Ethiopians.

Enyll.

Of good courage. Lyons.

Hard to be taught. Hogges.

Of a dull wytte. Asses.

Flatterers. Dogges.

Couragious. Lyons.

Flatterers. Passion.

Hardye. Lyons.

Sadde. Passion.

Liberall. Lyons.

Smale.

Armandam.

Smale.

Great.

the cares.

Blacke and hangyng.

Deane.

Joyned together.

Seperated muche.

Fyne and softe.

Thyn and hard.

The eye.

holwes.

Thycke hangyng downeward.

Somewhat redde.

Moyste and shynnyng.

Matrpe weepyng.

Runnyng.

Werpe lytle.

Werpe great.

Deane.

Farre into the head.

But a lytle into the head.

Bolt out of the head.

the eyes.

Somewhat great, and not farre inwarde.

Oft wyntyng.

Redde.

Werpe blacke,

Gellers

Accandam.

Gesters.	Appes.
Dulle.	Asses.
Folythe.	Asses.
Of good wyffe.	Natural

Hadde.
Fooles.	Hogges.
Couragious.	Lyons.
Uncleanelye.	Hogges.

Fooles.
---------	--

Shamefaste.	Passion.
-------------	----------

Merre.	Of good maners.
--------	-----------------

Drunkehardes.	Passion.
---------------	----------

Sleepe.	Passion.
---------	----------

Faynte hearted.	Apes.
-----------------	-------

Blowe.	Dren.
--------	-------

Of good disposition.	Naturall.
----------------------	-----------

Malicious.	Apes.
------------	-------

Couragious.	Lyons.
-------------	--------

Fooles.	Asses.
---------	--------

Mecke and gentle.	Dren.
-------------------	-------

Fearefull.	Passion.
------------	----------

Angrye.	Passion.
---------	----------

Fearefull.
------------	--

Blowe.

Armandain.

Cyngnes.

Blewe.

Blacke yellowpthe.

Chollerycke.

Sparkelynge.

Of many colours.

Wyght and cleare.

---

Rounde blunt and great.

Lyke a Haukes byll.

The nose With great endes.

Sharpe at the ende.

Flatte in the middes.

Wyde and open.

Werye blacke.

Werye white.

Somewhat browne.

Aberne.

The face Freckled.

Redde.

Enflamed.

---

the Chyn Sharpe poynted.

Wyth a rough nodde.

Great.

Longe.

Sklander

Of the body humaine.

Qualities.

Fearefull.

Of a good stomacke.

Furious.

Wery shamelesse.

Fearefull.

Lecherous.

Couragious.

Couragious.

Couetous.

Angryc.

Lecherous.

Angryc.

Fearefull.

Fearefull.

Stronge.

Of a good heart.

Subtell.

Wyttye.

Angryc.

Faythfull.

Liberall.

Stronge.

Fearefull and eaters.

Coates.

Dogges.

Passion.

Cokes.

Lyons.

Egles.

Oren.

Dogges.

Buckes.

Passion.

Ethiopians.

Women.

Peanesse.

Lyons.

Fores.

Passion.

Dogges.

Lyons.

R.i.

Sklander

Phisyognomye.

Cygnus.

the necke	Skender and smale.
	Fleshye.
	Shorte.
	Meane.
	The backbone hearye.
the hands	The fingers coupled.
	Short and great.
	Fayles large and whyte.
	Narrowe and longe.
	Obyque o; awhyte.
Bycast.	Smale.
	With heare.
	Wythout heare.
	Ample and large.
	Farre from the byest.
the place about the prync members.	Equally distant.
	Full of bones o; sharpe.
	Fleshye and fatte.
	Full of sinowes.
	Fleshye.
Thighes	Full of sinowes & thicke.
	Full of sinowes and smale.
	Great and euyl fashioned.
	Take

Of the body humaine.

Nature.

Meake.	Women.
Angrye.	Bulles.
Deceytfull.	Wolues.
Couragious.	Lyons.
Unshamefast.	Brute beastes.

Uncleanlye.	Hogges.
Kashe and cruell.
Manlye.
Cruell.
Impudent.
Craftye and subtyll.

Inconstant.	Bydes.
Shamelesse.	Women.
Stronge.	Lyons.

Gluttons.
Praise worthy.

Stronge.	Male.
Meake and delicate.	Female.

Stronge.	Male.
Meake and delicate.	Female.

Stronge.
Lecherous.
Unshamefast.

R. H.

Full

Phisognomye.

Cygnus.

Legges. Ful of sinows & euil fashioned Fleshy and well formed.

Feete. Full of sinows and equally proportioned.

Parrowe and smale.

Wyth croked nayles.

Wyth ryght nayles.

Werye smale.

Werye great.

Meane.

Bodye. Euill proportioned.

Well compassed.

Of a lyght fleshe.

Of a soft fleshe.

Of a harde fleshe.

Lyghte.

Mouyng. Slowe.

Heauye.

Stronge.

Graue endynge sharpe.

Soft and lowe.

Moyce.

Graue and moderate.

Sharpe and stronge.

Stronge.

Of the body humaine.

Qualitate.

Stronge.

Pale.

Weake and tender.

Female.

Stronge.

Pale.

Weake and tender.

Unthamefaste, rauinous, greedye.

Commendable.

Naturall.

Wytte, sharpe.

Slowe.

Wyle.

Craftye.

Stronge.

Wyle.

Forgetfull.

Dull and beaue of spirite.

Inconstant.

Of a grosse wytte.

Grave, couragious.

Grave inturions.

Asses

Fearfull, egre oꝝ fierce.

Oren,

Gentle.

Shepe.

Stronge.

Dogges.

Angrye.

Goates.

P. 14.

Hers

Phisyognomye.

Here by the nature you muste vnderstand the inclination and naturall complexion, whiche speciall ye we maye coniecture by the coloure of the bodye. For naturall ye blacke men are fearefull as the Ethiopians be.

Whyte men also bee timorous and fearefull: and they that bee of a meane coloure Blacke and Whyte, bee strong and bolde. They that bee yellowe of the coloure of Golde bee couragious as Lyons. And yf they bee to yellowe, they bee malicious as Foxes.

They that bee somewhat pale and darcke coloured bee fearefull: and this is referred to the perturbation that commeth of feare. They that bee very pale, and almoste greene for palenesse bee colde: and therefore they are vnapt to moourynge, slowe, and negligent to worke. They that be of sanguin colour and somewhat redde, are nimble and ready to worke. They that be of a fiery and enflamed colour become oute of their wits, and be like mad men, when they

Of the body humaine.

thei be to muche chafed. So you muste cōiecture of other colours that take part of the aforesayd. They that desire to see many other signes & tokens of the natu rall inclination, muste haue recourse to Aristotles litle booke intituled of the phi siognomy: & to the works of Galene, spe cially to his litle booke, where he sayeth that the maners of the minde do solowe the temperature of the body. Further more, you muste note y we haue foure humours, which Galene calleth the ele ments of liuing thinges y haue blood, to wēte: blood, flemc, colloz, & the melanco ly humour. The blood is whote, moist & swete. The spettle called flemc, is cold moist, & without qualitie, as the water is, if it bee not depaured. The colloz or flaua bilis is whote, dry & bitter. The me lancoly humour is cold, dry, bitter & ear thy. The blood nourisheth. The flemc hel peth the moving of the ioynts. The col ler clenseth & maketh cleane the flemc like excrements of the bowels: & prouo keth the power or strength excretiue.

The

Whisvognoinye.

The melancolicke humour helpeth the belly in hys actions: For, because it is egre and bitter, it constreyneth and presseth the mouthe of the Ventricle or belly called the stomacke, and maketh it embrace and reteyne the meate, vntill the digestion bee made. The bloode maketh men moderate, merce, pleasure, saunte, sayre, and of a ruddy colour, which bee called sanguine men.

The fleame maketh men, slouthfull, sluggish, neglygente, drowsye, fatte, and soone to haue graye Haires.

The Choller maketh them angrie, prompte of wytte, nymble, inconstante, leane and of a quicke digestion. The melancolicke humour, whiche is as it were the substaunce, the bottome, and leese of the bloode, maketh men rude, churlyshe, carefull, sadde, auaricious, deceynours, traitours, enuious, fearefull, wsahe hearted, and dreaming and imaginynge euyll thynges, vexed with the trouble of the mynde as though they were haunted with a malignaunte spirite.

Of the body humaine.

Spirite. These humours than maye bee referred to the Phisikonomye: for by them a man maye knowe the naturall inclination of men. You maye also referre therevnto the temperature of ages. For the puerilitie or Chyldehode, whiche is from the byrthe vnto fiftene yeares or there aboute, is whote and moyst. The adolescencie or yowth, which endureth vntyll fife and twentye yerres, is of a good and meane temperature. The yowthe or flozysynge age of mans state, whiche endureth tyll fife and thyrtye yerres, is of a whote and drye temperature. The fourth age is the first parte of olde age, whiche endureth tyll fourtye and nyne yerres: and then men begynne to ware colde and drye, and lyke vnto a plante that dryeth bp and wythereth, and they bee called in Latyne Senes. The seconde parte of olde age endureth vntyll end of the life: and the men be called in Latyn Seniores. And this age is also diuided into two or thzee degrees. They that be in the first degree

¶.b.

Phisvognoinye.

degree, haue yet they greene olde age, whiche yet maye handle and erecute ci-uill matters. They bee of the seconde degree, whiche drawe them selues by lytle and lytle from the sayde affaires because of theyr weakenesse. They of the thyrde degree are in extreme feeblenesse. If you desyre to knowe anye moore of the signes of Phisogno-mie, you shall finde them by diligent readyng of authours.

The

age, e ci nde s by ires
y of e

The prediction of the maners and natures of men, by considerynge of theyr face and other partes of theyr body.

Of the iudgement of the head.

The
Synge that the head is the part that is most scene of al the parts of mans bodye, Hippocrates in his. vi. booke of common sicknesses, not without cause sheweth how to iudge of the whole bodye by the consideration of the head. For that which is either greater or lesser then it oughte to bee is alwayes faultie and not good, and they that haue this fault or lacke, haue also those thinges that do evidently appartain to the faulty & hurted myndes. And now euen as the head whiche is litle, is neuer without faulte, so that whiche is great, is not altogether perfecte and good: but sometyme good and sometime yll. It is a signe of goodnes or of wickednes.
But

Phisognomye.

But the best fashion is the round head, and somewhat low on both sydes, as yf you shoulde imagine a verye rounde sphere made of Ware to bee some what lowe of eche syde. The best forme then and shape of a head, is that whiche is meanely greate, and hath a comelye comenient roundnesse: whiche appeareth before and behynde somewhat lowe. The principall cause why the head is lytle, is the lacke of matter or substance. And the cause of the greatnes of it, is the abundaunce and superfluitie of the substance and seede man. But yf there bee lytle matter wyth the force of the firste formative vertue, it shalbe of a good forme and shape, and lesse euil, for as much as in the creature the noughtines of the fashion is ioyned with smalenes of the head. The brayne foloweth the forme and fashion of the skull. For yf the skull bee corrupte, the brayne shalbe also corrupte. The head of man hath more brayne proportionally then all other beastes. The male hath

Of the body humaine

hath moze bryaine then the female. The head of man hath moe ioyninges then allether thynges : and the male moe then the female. A well fashioned head is lyke a mallet, whercof the foze parte and the hynder parte, be lofty and high. The forme oz fashio of the meane ventricle, muste bee a lytle pressed together, and so the cogitatieue is the moze noble. If the forme before be lowe, the man hath no iudgement. And the hynder parte bee lowe, he hath no memo-rye, and hath a weakenesse of mouyng his synowes, and consequentelye of all his bodye: soz by the force of the bryaine is declared the force of the necke and synowes: and also the brodenesse of the Shulders and of the bzeast, and the partes of the sydes called Hypocondria, whiche be ioyninges to the lyuer and lunges. The head that is of a reasonable fashio augmenteth the witte and vertue, and declareth a magnificence in the man: but when it is euyl is fashio- ned it sheweth the contrary.

The

Phisyognomye.

The iudgement of the head.

They that haue a great head, and yet not out of measure, are commonly faire and well condicioned.

They that haue a greate head oute of measure be fooles, idioles, dull heades. When the head is great propoztioned to the body, and specially to the necke, so y<sup>e</sup> the necke be stronge, and meanelye great with the sinowes great & strong, it is a very good signe. The head fashioned lyke a Sugar lose, declareth the man to be paste shame, a deuourer, bold and rashe, which thing commeth of the heat and drynesse of the brayne. It is a another thyng when the head is great and the other members are not great accordynglye. The head is of a good fashion, when the ventricle before is also of a good fashion, and moyste ynoughe. For the takynge of the kindes commeth of the moysture, and the re- teynyng commeth of drynes in the part behinde. The head with a meane ventricle

Of the body humaine

tricle somewhat pressed together about the sides, declareth the ventricle cogitative to be ready to comprehend and deuise, that whiche is comprehended, and that because of the vnitie of the spirites that are in that place.

The head rounde signifieth, mobilitie, vnstabilitie, forgetfulness, smale discretion and lytle wysedome in the man, for sometymes the mouing of the spirites stayeth. The lytle head necessarily sheweth an euill signe, for as much as it soone falleth into a sickennes, because that in it there is litle brayne, and the ventricles narrowe, wherein the spirites to straightly kepte doe not theyr office: for they are oppressed, enflamed, and choked vp, wherefore they imagine not well, they dispose nothing wel, they haue no memory. Suche men are commonly sone angry, & are fearfull, & kepe their anger long, by reason of the great drought, and whote temperature of the braine. Thei take in hand false matters thei speake yll, & haue a double tongue.

The

Phisydognomye.

The longe head withoute measure, ha-uyng the Organes a wyse, and not ryghte, noteth vnshamefastnes and follye. The head lowe and flatte betokeneth insolencie and dissolutnesse.

The head high befoze betokeneth pride.

The head that hath as it were a holow hoole behynde and is lowe and holow, declareth man to bee subiecte to angre and decepte. The greates head wpth a large forehead and a face lyke a Gyaunt, is a signe of a slowe man, gentle, stronge, and not easye to be taught.

When the head is ryghte and almoste flatte in the myddest, and of a meane greatnes, it sheweth the man to haue greate wytte, and to bee couragious.
If the head bee in all poyntes of a good measure, it is a signe of a great wytte and that the man is sharpe and liberall. We meane the head not to great nor to smale, but accordynge to the quantitie and measure of the bodye.

The

Of the body humaine

The Judgement of the body by the colour.

Blacknes in a man like a glistering horne is a token of adustion as wel in the members as in the heare . A blacke colour sheweth the man to be of a small courage in feates of warre fearefull and craftye and is to be compared to them that dwell in the southe.
A greene colour, darke , or blacke, declareth the man ready and prompte to anger . Men that haue a verie redde or redde headed in colour are subtile and craftie. As the common sayeng among the Frenche men is l'ay veu bein peu de petites gens humbles , & rousseaux fideles, that is to say I haue sene fewe litle me humble or lowlye , & fewe redde headed men faithfull and true. They that haue a pale and a dead face , and yet a redde forehead and lowe eyes, are altogether shamefast . And to them you may attribute passion. The white colour & somewhat ruddye, signifieth the

D.i.

man

Whisfogndyne.

man verye stronge and courageous. Suche are the northen men. The colour that is verye whyte sheweth the man to be contrarie to vertue. A pale colour signifieth the man to be withoute courage in deedes of warre, fearefull, and a turner of his backe, yf sykkenes be not the cause of thys palenes. When a browne colour is myred with a pale, it declareth the man to be a blabbe of his tonge and a prater, sone angrye, and a speaker without any temperature. This colour then tendeth to an extreeme folly. They that be but a lytle red and freckled and haue quauering and moouinge lippes and wyde nostrittells be commonly couragious and readye to wyathe and anger: and to theym also is passion attributed. A meane redde colour noteth a readye and pregaunt wytte and vnderstandinge. They that be of a fyre colour or verye nere, keepe theyr anger longe and are harde to pacysse or to be ruled when they are angrye. When the

Of the body humaine

the baines of the braine and of the temples be seene and the eyes sanguyne, it is a sygne that the man is subiecte to vehement wrath, and that sometime he is folyshe & out of his wits. When the face is redde, it is a sygne of shame or dyonkenesse you shall then knowe this colour by the sygnes of the eyes.

The iudgement of the heare by the substaunce.

The heare smooth and thicke betokeneth meekenes, colde and moisture. The further that the brayne is from heate, the more hearpe is the head. The heate of a man that goeth to the vpper partes percinge throughe from all partes goeth throughe the skinne of the heade and maketh an humour to come oute of the holes that it maketh, and the fynest parte of this humour banysheyth away but the grosser remayneth wythin and is turned in to heare. Whyche is harder than the skins

¶ All

Whisvognoinye.

skinne and that by the meanes of the outward colde, & the heare is as bigge as the pore or hole, and as longe as the violence and force of thrusting it out is great. When the heare commeth oute slowlye, it is a signe of a moyste complexion and not sanguyn. If they come a pase the body shall enclyne rather to drynesse than to moysture. And whan heate and drygth doe ioyne together the heare commeth out the sooner, and therewithall groffer. The multitude of heares declareth a hote man and the grossnesse of theym sheweth him to be full of fumosite. And therfore that happeneth moze in yonge men than in yonge childezen. For in childezen the substance is moze vaporous than moyst.
But in yong men it is contrary wherfore contraries folow their contraries.
Abundaunce of heare in yong childezen sheweth their complexion that increaseth and augmenteth, to tende to melancolicks. The curlinge of the heare signifieth heate and drynes, & cometh of
the

Of the body humours.

the crookednes of the pores. The beares that be right vp in the head & the beares also that standeth vp right in the rest of the body betoken fearfulness in y<sup>e</sup> man. The beares right o<sup>r</sup> thicke declare the man to be cruell and whan they be rare then they shewe him to be a deceinour and if they be curled and turninge vpward it is a signe of a hoate complexion. And they be fast together appearing vpon the forehead they declare a myghty courage and a brutall as the courage of beares. The beares that be pressed downe and couched together vpon the myddle of the forehead ryng together vpon the toppe of the heade shewe the man to be hoate, and without knowledge of honestye. The beares that be thine slender and fewe in number beside the temples declare the man to be colde and without force. The reason is so<sup>r</sup> in that place, are the great arteres & that place ought naturallp to be hoate, and consequentlp to haue aboundance of beares so<sup>r</sup> as much as the generation

Whisvognomye.

and growynge of heares commeth of heate. Therfore whan the heare is thin and slender in that place, there is lacke of heate, and this ought to be ascribed vnto women for thei neuer haue a bon- dance of heare in that place. The heare thynne and hard besyde the temples de- clare the man to be colde and feareful. And when they be thicke in the same place and besyde the eares it is a sygne of heate & whozdom. And thei be there stable, blacke or yelow, they signify a violet mind or courage. If thei be grosse and somewhat whiter, it is a signe that the man shall be indocible whom men shall not rule nor tame. The abundace of grosse heares & pressed downe, with the abundance of heare in all the rest of the body, doe shewe in an infante a me- lancolmes to come, that is to saye, that he shall fall into a furey or folly. When heares growe in a man that is already aged it is a token of great abustio by na- ture, by which engendzeth folly & priua- tion of wytte and sense. Women are ne-per

Of the body humaine.

uer bald, for their nature is like the nature of infantes or chilozen. The gelded men lykewyse neuer were bald for they be almost of the nature of womē. The heares yare made curled by touching like vnto the winking of pepper doe signifye weakenesse in the vertue digestive and age comminge hasteslye on.

The Judgement of the colour of the heare.

The signification of the colour of the heare is not veryfyed for the most part but in temperate climates. Yet a man maye Judge thereof some thinge in euery climate in making comparison of men of y climate vnto other as to y Flemynges & Ethiopians. For the Ethiopians be blacke & their heare is curled and extreme crooked. Yet therfore their complexion shall not be hoate but thys heate and curlynge of heare commeth of an outward heate.

For they be rather colde, for as much as the heate goethe oute by vapours.
But Fleminges whiche dwell in cold regions, are whit and haue their heare some what of a yelowe colour flatte and playne. And yet for all that we may not say that generallly they be cold but rather that their complexion is be-rye hote: for the heate is within them as it commeth to passe in winter &c. A white colour signifieth either a behe-ment colde, as it appeareth in olde men that haue white beares or elles a great dryenesse, as it happeneth in things ve-getatiue when they drye up, the which for their blacknes or greenesse turne in to whitenesse. And that neuer happeneth vnto men but at the end of sicknesses dryinge vypp. Beares haue fo-wer pñcipall colours to wete blacke redde, aberne and whyte or graye.
The regions and ayre doe some thinge in the aperation of the beares. The whyttenesse of beares commeth by wante of naturall heate or by rotten fleame

Of the body humaine

beame. And is a sygne some tyme of wanton maners and conditions. The blacke beare cometh of superabundant coler aduste or of bloode aduste, redde beare sygnifyethe heate whiche is not aduste for they be of a diminished heate The beares that be very redde declare the man to be a craftye deceiuour, deprived of wytte colerycke, ful of wrath and furious withoute reason. The beares that be of a chesse notte colour declareth the man to be vpryght, iuste and well beloved of men. Golden beares, that is to saye yellowe beare or of the colour of golde, come of colde diminished. The abern coloured or yellowe beare hold something of cold, and the heate is dead in the moyst, and this is referred vnto infantes. The people of the northe notwithstandinge haue thys beate because of the region. And therefore this muste be noted for suche thynges doe manye tymes deceyue the Iudgers of Physyognomye. The blackenelle of beares whiche is lyke

D.b.

to a

Phisognoinye

to a bryghte horne wth some roughnes and crookednes declareth the heate of the complexion : but the heare that is onely blacke sygnifyeth fearfullnesse and couetousnes. The colour that is as it were a bryght glistering horne, is like to the nature of Mars . Penertheles the heares be not grosse, but sonis what fyne of the finesse of the humours , and are made blacke wth a greate heate, which thing appeareth in breade tolled upon the coales bycause the moysture is gone. But when the rest of the body is to heary then Mars & Saturne doe employ their forces . And suche men are commonly theues and robbers and when they haue their breast onely hearie, it is a signe of heate & of a great courage. When all the body is couered w heare, it is rather a signe of y courage a fowerfooted beast then of a mā : when the nod of y necke is couered w heare euen from the heade it is a sygne of strength and of courage and in that the man is like to the lion.

The

Of the body humaine

The Judgement of the forehead.

The face is the onely partie where the man onely becommeth. They that haue a great forehead are commonly slouthfull and are compared to oxen. They that haue a broad forehead commonly chang their minde and yf it be very great, they be folles of lytle discretion and rude of witte. Understand take this broadnes wth the iust quantytye of the length and largenes. They that haue a rounde forehead are subiecte to wrath and anger specially if their forehead be open & plaine. And they be also insensible like vnto Asses. They y<sup>e</sup> haue a litle forehead and narrow be folles, & doltes, not easely to be taught, slouens, deuourers lyke swine. They y<sup>e</sup> haue a metly long forehead haue good wits & are easely to be taught but yet they are somewhat behemēt as dogs be. They y<sup>e</sup> haue square forehead of a meane greatnes for small to the heade are vertuous, wyse, and

Phisognoimye

and couragious like lions. They that haue a plaine and flatte forehead and w<sup>o</sup>ut wrinkle will not bowe, & be w<sup>o</sup>ut wytte contumelious, and much subiect vnto anger, obstinate, and full of contention. They that haue a longe and stretched oute foreheade be flatterers and such haue their parte of passions. They that haue a darcke and couered foreheade be audacious and terrible. A lowe forehead and obscure, maketh the man readye to weepe, and in that he folowethe the peacockes. The forehead that is great hath euer muche grosse fleshe, and contrarie the lytle forehead hath fine & thinne fleshe. The lytle forehead and finesse of the skynne betoken a fyne wytte and wauerynge. Nowe than the spirite or wytte, is a fyne body engendred of the vapours of the bloode. And this spirite or wytte beareth the vertues of the soule to the spirituall members. And therfore where there be grosse humours there a good wytte cannot be. When a foreheade is
to

Of the body humaine

to much wrinkled, it is a signe of a man wythout shame, and this wrinkling cometh of to much moysture, although that sometime it proceedeth of drieth, & if the same be not in all þe forehead, it de clareth the man to be full of anger, and very subiect to anger and kepeth longe by his anger and hatred wythoute cause.
They that haue a shorte foreheade, the temples and the cheekes flatte presse downe, & large chawbones be subiecte to the disease called the kinges euill.
They that haue as it were a litle cloud on þe toppc of their nose or in þe middes, as narrowe are coumpted angry men as bulles and Lions. A hygh forehead large and longe signifieth encrease of goods. A low foreheade is no signe of a manly mā. The forehead that is some what swelling bp aboute the temples wyth a grossenes of fleshe wyth the Jawes also full of fleshe, declareth a greate courage anger, pryde and a grosse vnderstanding.

The

Phisognomye.

The Judgement of the eyebrowes.

The eyebrowes are places in the iointure of the bones, and therefore they growe in manye men when they be olde. The eyebrowes that be very heary declare folyshnes of maners and mischeife. The eyebrowes thicke with abundance of haire ioyned to the beginning of the nose do signifye a great aduersion, & such men are of an euyl nature. If the eyebrows þ be hygh vpward do descend to the beginning of the nose and aboue are rysing to the temples, it is a signe that heat & droughth do rule, and such men be crafty & malefactours. If þ eyebrows descend downward on þ side of the nose, & rysing vp-ward on the syde of the temples, they declare men to be without shame and dulle and that bycause of a faryous heate. The eyebrows thinne and of a competent greatnes, declare the temperature and goodnes of the humours

Of the body humaine

mours and they that haue them so are of a greate wytte . The eyebrowes longe shewe the man to be arrogant and wythout shame , but when they be longe wyth much heare they signi-fye the man to thinke and to haue hys mynde vppon great thynges . The eyebrowes whiche descende downe warde on the syde of the nose, and ray-sed vppward on the syde of the temples, and hangyng downeward on bothe sydes declare the man to be wythout shame ciuions , folysh insatiable, and lyke vnto hogges . The eyebrowes which descend crooked on the side of the nose declare the man to be witty in naughty thynges, and whan they be crooked on the out side of the eye, they signifie the man to be recreatife & merry. If the eyebrowes be right as though they were drawen with a lyne and lōg it is a signe of an euill minde weake and feminine and as womens mindes bee . When the eyebrowes comme together . , they shewe the man to be

Whisynognoynye.

to be very pensyfe and not very wyse. Hanging eyebrowes and falling downe vpon the eyes, declare enuye: but yf they be crooked they sygnifye a smalle memoꝛye. The eye browes that be rounde compassed lyke a bowe, so that they ioyne almoste to the nose, declare the man to be subtyll wytty and studious. The eyebrowes thynne meete or measured by the diamenter, and greates betoken a good wytte.

The Iudgemente of the eyeliddes.

The eyeliddes are sette aboue the great coueringes of the smal baines by a grosse vapour. The fynesse of the skynne declareth the substance of the matter that is to saye of the humours and that coler hath the domynion. And they that haue such heare, be malycyous and vitious vnto whome you maye also ascribethe other passions of colere.

And

Of the body humaine.

And when that place is verie fleshye (as the eyes of the Dules) it is a signe of fraude and guyle. The eye libbe ap-pearyng hygh aboue, and seemeth fuller then it is, deelynyng a lytle aboue the eye, declareth the sight to be other then the common sight of men, and to muche fixed and set vppon one thyng.
But yf the sayde eye lybbe tend down-warde, it is a signe that the man is full and fatte, and namely when it is redde rounde aboute, it is a signe that the man is a dyonkarde and riotous, &c, whyche thyng I haue tryed in manye men which dyd haunt sauernes. The reason is, because suche a disposition of the eye lybbe signifieth weakenesse of the eyes, and consequentye of the bwayne. Wherefore they that haue them so, feare often tymes the wyne.
If thei be thynne and fine downward, so that the whyte of the eye bee coue-red, it is a signe of drynesse of humors.
And if that happen in any sharpe passion, it is a signe of death. When the

W. j. hears

Phisognomye.

heart of the Evelyddes is croked downewarde, or naturally tourned or wreathed at one syde, it is a signe of lyinge and subteltye. They that haue verye great or grosse Evelyds, see farthest of, for they conserue theyr syght wyth heate and outwarde colde.
When the corners of the Eyes be broad, it is a sygne of diseases of the Eyes. And yf they haue anye fleshye appareance, they signifye Drunkennes, and specially when y Eyes be apparent and cleare, and haue theyr coue-rynges dyed by.

The Evelyds aboue the Eyes, whiche couer them beneath signifye longe lyfe. They that wagge and remoue often theyr Evelyddes, be fearefull, and wythoute good sence or wyfte.

The Evelyddes thynne, signifye bealthe, and declare the thoughte of the man to be nygh vnto god.

The iudgement of the eyes.

Thy

Of the body humaine.

The complexion of the Eyes is myst, & they be made of. by. lids, whiche are called in Latyne

Tunicæ oculorum, with three humours.

The passions of the mynde be declared specially by the Eyes, as tribulation, mytch, loue, hatred, & suche other.

The Eyes haue soure principall colours; to wytte, blacke, somewhat whyte, chaungeable, darcke, and taupe. The forme of the Eyes that be rounde, are the moste waucrynge and rolling that be, the most perfecte, and vncoꝛrupt, because there is no squarenes in them. The Eyes that haue corners are most fylled wth superfluities in y<sup>e</sup> same corners: the eyes y<sup>e</sup> be great betoken fearfulnes & weakenes, so: their grossenes cometh to a great abūdance of moisture in y<sup>e</sup> brain, wherin ther is a certeyn coldnes, which is spred amōg y<sup>e</sup> mēberes, & quencheth y<sup>e</sup> blood: wherfore euen as the spryte of the blood maketh the man bold, so the cōplexion that is cold and moiste maketh him fearefull.

P.ij.

The

Phisognomye.

The eyes that bee bolt forwarde, declare follye in the man. But when they bee hollowe inward they shewe a malicious subteltye in the man. Broade eyes tendinge to the largenes of the bodye, and lyke vnto Hogges eyes, declare a moysture of the bodye. They that haue theyr appearynge outward and lostye see not verye well: so their eyes bee farre of from their fountaine whiche is the brayne. And suche men are commonlye greate babblers and praters. The hollowe eyes farre in the head haue a sharper sighte than the other. The rollinge or wagginge of the eyes commeth of heate and betokeneth wrath, lecherie, and boldenes. When the eyes moue deformeely, so yf now they runne, and now they stande still, it is a signe of great malice, and that suche men are full of wicked cogitations. They that remoue theyr eyes swiftly with a sharpe sight, be theues, vnfaithfull, and full of deceipts. Suche men haue a subtell witte, but it is readier

Of the body humane.

readier to euill than to good. A stedfast looke, commeth of two great and steadfast cogitation, and oftentimes of a desyre they haue to deceyue. They that haue a looke lyke women, are whozemaisters and withoute shame: so that disposition commeth to them by such a complexion as women haue. When a man looketh as though he were a chyld, so that his face and eyes, be alwayes smyllyng, it is a signe that he shall be of a longe and merrye lyfe. Merye and laughyng eyes with the rest of the face, betokeneth flattery, lecherye, and backebytinge. The eyes that bee as it were yellowe, signifie crueltye and deceyte, as it appeareth well ynoughe in baudes and murderers, this colour commeth of a Choller raignyng and adust. Litle eyes signifie malice, folly, and weakenesse in a man. The hollownes of the eyes commeth of a dyeth, whiche dyeth by the muscles and ligamentes. Whereof ensueth a contradiction in the inward partes,

Whispyognoinye.

partes, & that the man becometh brain-les. The eyes are set & situate naturally in man accordyng to the largenes of the body. The Eyes that are of diuers colours & dimme in the balles of them betoken folyshnes. The boltyng oute of the Eyes doth represent diuers obiectes, whereby it cometh to passe that the man is confuse with this diuersitie of obiectes, goynge aboute to beholde them all together. The Eyes that tend bpward, signifie goodnes, but if they be red & great tending bpward, thei signifie wickednes, folly, & dronk-nes. And that cometh of the weakenes of the brayne, whyche is verie moyste and not temperate. The eleuation of the Eyes cometh by accident, for the cause of it is to muche heate, the sygne whereof is the redde colour; whereof also cometh the perturbation of the reasonable soule.
As we see in the great anger of men.
The extention of the Eyes and of the face, sheweth the malice of the man; because that heafe and dymnes bee the cause thereof . And the whote soule, bryngeth commonly some euill signe.

Of the body humaine.

The Eyes that bee as it were hidden in the head , see further of then other and signifie suspicion , malyce , daungerous anger and naughtye conditions ; they declare the man to haue a great memozye, and speciall ye of Iniuries: audacious, cruell, full of crasse, a lyer , vicious , and a Whoremonger.
etc. When the Eyes are nowe shutte nowe open , and by and by stande styll , suche men haue not yet committed any crimes , but they haue them in theyr heart . The Eyes haue diuersities of colours because they bee Diaphanes and of a rare substaunce and fyne . And therefore the spirites of the syght shew their qualities in the Eye. As a womā that hath her flowers spotteth the looking glasse , & marreth chilozen in the cradell , & somtime hurteth whole & sound eyes: when there be many apparent spots in the ball of the Eye it is a signe of noughtynes.

P.iii.

And

Whisvognoinye.

And yet shall the spotted eye be moose, yf it bee of diuers colours. The chaun-geablenes of the eyes commeth of nothyng but of heate rapsynge by the vapours vnto the eyes. And the greater the varietie is, the greater is the heate.
For as much as the spottes be diuers, the aduision of the spirite rased by, is the greater, whereof commeth the diuersitie of maners, and the multitude of vices. And of this great varietie, the honeste and commendable iudge-ment is corrupted. The eyes that bee redde as coales, signifie wickednesse and obstinatie. For by the colour of fier, is signified greate Choller. They that haue meane eyes, enclinyng towards the colour of the skye, or somewhat blacke, haue a sharpe and pearsong vnderstandynge, and be faith-full and curtesye. Almanso saith that the best and most commendable colour of the eyes is betwene blacke and changeable, yf they bee not full of beames, or yf there bee not any rednes

Of the body humaine

oꝛ pelloynes in the, those eyes declare discretion & vnderstanding. His reason is, because they bee withoute Choller oꝛ Melancoly aduſt. The colour of the eyes graye and blacke, ſpecially where bee no ſpottes, is cauſe of moſte humours and temperate without aduſtion, whereof foloweth the ſpirite lyke vnto the nature. And of this ſpirite commeth the vnderſtandyng and ſpeculation: the diuers coloured is made of a moore cleare viſible ſpirite, therefoꝛe ſuche men are well boꝛne, and ſe-kers of knowledge and ſcience. The woꝛſer eyes haue whyte ſpottes oꝛ blacke oꝛ redde, oꝛ of ſome other colour. And they that haue ſuche eyes are woꝛſe then all other, and moꝛe to be reſproued. The chaungeable great and of aberne colour, yf they haue lytle redde ſparkes very duſtye ſignifieth the man to bee troubled in hys mynde and vicious: but yet holde and wyttye.
When there be lytle redde ſpottes in the eyes, and tourne moore to blacke

P.b.

then

Whispyognomye.

than to red so that they seeme blacke, it is a sygne of a noble heart, iuste, good & witty. The Eyes that shyne wythin as spottes of white betoken cleane men, stable, and verie courtise.

The Eyes that haue lytle spottes all together red, & yet not round but square, and shynynge lyke fyre wythin & be-derneath, & that there bee other besyde them that bee pale, & other blood colour, & that the circles whiche close in the ball of the Eye bee sanguine, & that the Eye bee of a good greatnesse, & that the Eyelids & the ball do remoue & wagge much, it is a sygne of a cruell heart, moore than a man would thinke; the redder those lytle spottes bee & the smaler, so much the moore do they shew the great anger & wickednes in the man: the spottes that bee greater & darker, diminish those great vices: but they take them not away all together: the blacke spottes or sanguine in the blacke ball of the Eye or browne do signifie malice

Of the body humaine

or poysonyng. The pale spottes signifye secrete wyckednesse. And you muste note that as muche as the colours are moore vehement, the moore efficacie they haue.

Yet there bee some Eyes coloured lyke the Rainebowe, the whyche yf they bee drye, declare great lacke of wytte: But yf they bee moyst, they signifye magnificence & wysedome: yet wyth wrathe & infamous whozedome. If the ball of the Eye be blacke, & closed in with the foresayde yellowe colour, or if it seme lyke gylt (as the Philosophitions say) it betokeneth the bloody flire in the neather partes.

The great Eyes & long Eyebrowes, betoken shoit lyfe. They that haue in theyr Eyes a blackyshe Whyte, are commonly great Personages, & lyue in great honour.

The waneryng or moouyng Eyes & sharpe, signifye theft, whych is attributed vnto Haukes.

The

Whispyoghomye.

The dye eyes and full of beynes, betoken priuation of wytte to come or present. The eyes compassed about with dimme darkenesse, declare that the man is seasoned with euill doctrine, and that he is vnfaithfull and temperat. But when they shyne much and be without spotte, it is a token of goodnes. When the eyes shyne verye much, and are browne, and sanguine it is a signe of rashenes and of priuation of wytte: But yf they be well proportioned, they betoken good state of the wytte. The colour of the eyes meane betwene blacke and changeable is commendable aboue all other sortes aforesayde, yf they bee not full of beames and streakes, eyther yellowe or red. If the eyes bee great, and verye cleare and cleane, they signifie iustice, docilitie, prouidence, and good aduertisment. If they bee eminent, red, and smale, it shal bee a signe of the thought and the tongue unrulye, and of an vnconstant mynde. Trembling eyes and browne browne, betoken a man without shame, vnfaithfull and vntruſte.

Of the body humaine

When the eyes haue a competent greatneſſe, and be verie bryght, it is a ſigne of magnanimitie, & that the man enterpryſeth greates thynges & byngeth to paſſe great matters. Sometime it is a ſigne of anger, and that the man is ggeuen to wylpne, that he is a thefe, and couetous beyonde meaſure.

When the eyes bee great and ſmiling it is a ſigne of a dull man, lecherous, and that foreſeeth not what ſhall come after. Hollow eyes and ſmiling as it were lying in wayte, or to ſpye, ſpecially, yf the cheekes, the eye browes, and the lippes do moue all together, it is a ſigne of wycked cogitations, deceptes, and namely, yf ſometime the eye lids bee ioyned together, & touche one another, it is a ſigne of moſt wycked thoughtes. Sad eyes are not much to be feared: for they bee to the cogitations of moſt eyes, & betoken ſtudy of good ſciences. But yf the eye browes
and

Phisognomye.

and the Forehead be of a good bjecteth & skyll, & that the Eyelyds be good, it is sygne of a faythfull mynde, graue & gentle: the sad Eyes & dry wpth shar-penes of the Forehead & stedfast looke, & castyng down of the Eyelyds signi-fie hurt & cruelty, & that the man hath a rash boldnes: they that haue wa-try Eyes are louers of Wyne, and become bald, and such men haue always a moyst Brayn & weary: they that haue theyr Eyes very watry & running, are slepy & loue to sleepe. Blerines or watrynes of the Eyes commeth of grosse blood, & of a melancoly humour whych falleth into the Eye lyds: the watrynes of the Eye by the looke of the disposition, betokeneth drunkenes: yf it bee wpth depression of the Eyes, it declareth slepe.

The flat Eyes sygnifye slownes: wherein the man is compared to Oxen. The meanes of the Eyes sygnifieth goodnes and puritie. The Eyes that be somewhat hollow, betoken magna-

Of the body humaine

magnanimitie. But yf they be moore hollow, it is a sygne of mekenes. If the ball be black, it is a sygne of a stouthfull and dull man. The ball of the Eye that hath round about certain Pearles, signifieth the man to be envious, a babler, fearfull, and very dangerous. The Eyes that stand awry wyth a vehement ague, signifiye death. If the Eyes tarry longe open, it is a sygne of folyshnes, and that the man hath no shame.

The Eyes that bee very blacke, betoken fearefulnesse, and desyre to scrape together gooddes. And yf they bee not very blacke, but somewhat yellow, it is a sygne of a good and vertuous mynde: the Eyes that bee Browne, or Whyte, signifie fearefulnes, and specially the Whyte: the eyes that be not altogether Browne, betoken a good courage and mynde: the Eyes that be full of baines, signifie folishe men and destitute of their wittes, and that is referred vnto Goates.

Rowe

Phisognomye.

Now the eyes are called full of vaines which haue many lytle lynnes or strea-kes, as the minutes of daynes bee, by the which the colour of the eyes is made diuers. The eyes that bee enflamed signifieth the man to bee paste shame. The eyes are enflamed when they shyne and are brighte, & glyster lyke fier: for they bee kyndled wth yre and wyath. And yf they see one thyng, they thynke they see twayne. The eyes and the cheekes red betoken dronkenes And when they bee red & dye, it is a sygne of wyathe & angre. When the eyes bee browne or troubled, it is a sygne of feare. The meane eyes and lowe, betoken shamefastnesse & honesty. The fteddye eyes and somewhat red betoken whozedomme & deuouring The chaungeable eyes & shorte declare a couetous man & desyrous of goods. But yf he haue the forehead and eye browes halfe retyerd he is the moore couetous.

The

Of the body humaine

The Judgement of the face.

THE face is taken synplye for a naturall looke: but the bysage is vnderstand of the qualittie of the mynde. The face of them that be very cleane is meane in the cheekes and temples and somewhat fatte . And that face is a trewe face , louing and not disdaynefull . The merrye face comyneth of a merry harte, and so the contrarye . The meane foyme that is to saye neyther to greate nor to lytle , is very handsome . He that hath a full and fatte face is importune , a liar , a deuourer , and not very wise. A fatte face maketh the man circumspecte in his affayres , and sygnifyeth a sharpe wytte . The thynnes of the face betokeneth the man to be pensue. A rounde face sygnifyeth folly: and a greate face sygnifyeth slouth . The face that is very litle sygnifieth naughtinea, craft, flattery, no liberalite: & fearfulness. They y haue a croked face, are of a naughty and wicked dyspofition. A longe face testifyeth the man to be without shame and iniurious and that cometh of heate. The temples swollē with great veynes and arteries, signifieth wrath and anger. If the fleshy face be somewhat thicke, and not very neat it is a signe of fearfullnes and of great follye. A grosse and rusticall face wyth broade Jawes, signifyeth a rude and blount nature.

Phisognomye.

The Judgemente of the visage or of the face.

The asperite or sharpnes of the face, of the state of the lipps, of the chekes, of the forehead, and of the countenance, signifyeth a folysh man and without sence or wytte. The face that smeteth often, yea with a lytle mouing betokeneth heate, lecherie, glottonye, and that the man is a great eater, and therefore falleth into indigestion: and at the last into great sycknesse. When the face is hollow lyke a valley, more leane

Of the body humaine

leane than fatte, it sygnifyeth the man to be iniurious, enuious, a lyer, a rioter cruell, and specially yf he be of an adust colour and somewhat blacke or elles yellow. The face well proportioned of fleshe, of colour, & other things appertaining, declare a commendable lyfe, and aboundaunce of vertues. Euerye fatte face & full signifyeth an ignorant man, and gyuen to pleasures. Take heede you be not deceiued in the iudgement of Lazer men for their eyes be come round and their balnes appeare. The lyttle visage beareth witnesse of a lyttle vnderstanding, of wyckednes, of folly and of ignorance.

The iudgement of the nose.

The nose that reacheth downe euen to the mouth of a competent bignes declareth the gristle and the brayne thereof to be of a hoate complexion and signifieth goodnes and audacitye. When the nostrills be greate and wyde it is a sygne the mans cobbis

Q.ii.

and

Phisognomye.

and stones be greate, and that he is a whoremonger, a traytour, false, audacious, a lyar, enuious, conetous, a nyggard, and but a little fearfull and of a grosse vnderstandinge. The nose sheweth the disposytion, of the hart: yf it be great, it is a sygne that the man is subiect to wyath. A lyttle nose and a greate also declare the secrete partes of the man, and of the woman.
The pryue member of a man great, commeth of a grosse and hote matter.
Yet the foote of the woman declareth her matryce. A narrowe foote, longe leane sheweth the lyke of the matryce of the woman, and so the contrarye.
The measure of halfe the foote beyng bare, is the measure of the length of the matrice, yea in all women. Greate lippes declare the skynne of the lyppe of the gate to be great, and so contrary And specially in a maide. The nostrells of the nose shewe the stones of the man. If they be greate and wyde it is a sygne that his coddies be greate
and

Of the body humaine.

and large : but if they be smalle it is a sygne that the coddies be narrow and smalle . Wherefore the rule cannot saye (vnlesse it be by accident) that is to saye by sykkenes and yll rule , as dauncyng , or suche lyke . For tra-uayle and labour encrease the member . And so manye haue theyr righte hande greater then the lefte bycause it laboureth more . A hawke Nose signifyeth magnanymyte and courage , cruellty , rapacitye , and boldnes whych thyng cometh of heate.
And therefore they that haue thys hawke Nose are commonlye angrye and full reuenge and gyue themsel-ues to vnlawefull thynges . A flatte Nose signifyeth violence whozedome and yet neuertheles weakenes . For that cometh of cleame & of moisture If the nose be short the mouth litle and the teeth short & great, that cometh of moystnes and colde , A sharpe nose, a longe necke , and the voyce fayer & shrill come of colerike temperature.

R.iii.

Whan

Phisognomye.

When the nose is broade in the middes toward the tpype, it is a token of superfluitie of wordes, of lyeing of anger. I haue knowen such men exceedinge in bices and chieflie in lyes. They that haue their nose sharpe at the ende are commonly lyars hurtfull, and contentious. For that procedeth of coler. The nose that is great at the end, declareth desyours of thynges as oren are. And such men couet all that they see, and specially in carnal voluptuousnes. And mozeouer are commonly very angrie. Large & wide nostrills betoken slothedom. The nose that is great at the end signifieth insensible men past shams and vnapt to be taught. The nose turned backward and round at the ende is a sygne of magnanimitie and greate courage which is in lions. The nose thynne and small at the ende like a birds byll signifieth lightnes and folly.

The Judgement of the nose and nostrills.

The

Of the body humaine.

THE nose that is crooked and hard from the forehead to the mouth, is a signe that the man is without shame. A hollow nose and the forehead rounde and eminent aboue, declareth lecherous men. If the nose be crooked nigh vnto the forehead it is a signe of a man past shame and without honesty. The nostrilles crooked are ascribed to men of a good hart. The Nose tending to the laterall partes of the man, yf it declyne onely to one parte of the posytion, goyng from the gyrdle on the side of the last part betokeneth some hurt. But deuyded into both the partes of the posytion, it sheweth syckenes or hurt, and that commeth eyther of the primatyue cause, or of the cause goyng before. The Nose that is in hys begynnynge almoste flatte. Betokeneth lyberalitee suche are the Lyons. A redde nose whyche hath a hole at the verpe foundation, and the bredth of it somewhat swellynge, after the fashion of strawberies , betokeneth drunkenes ; and suche men are commonly moyste and lecherous , specially yf that sygne be on the body of a small measure . And thys hath bene tryed . Open and wyde nostrelles sygnifye readynes to anger . The thynne and verry open nostrelles , betoken crueltie and disdainfull thought . The nostrelles thynne and longe sygnifye vnstabilenes and lyghtnes . And yf they be thynne and sharpe they signifye quarelyng men . When one part of the nostrelles is myxed wpyth the forehead and taken honestly from the forehead and seperated by a good composition so that it be not to hyghe nor to lowe with some lyne descendyng it is a signe of constancie , manlines and prudence . The nostrelles ryght vp betoken distemperance of tonge . The nostrelles that be in all things greater , are better than the lesser . The lyttle nostrelles are naturallye ascrybed vnto seruile and bound wyttes and to vnfayth

Phisyognomye.

Of the body humaine

Unfaithfull men . The wyde No-strills shewe a token of mythe and strength . And when they be verye narrowe , rounde , and almost stopped they betoken follye . The large-nes of the nostrills , the Jawes fatte, and the small quantitie of heare on the cheekes, sygnifye a moyst complexion.
If the heare that groweth in the no-strills of a man be great thicke , and much , it is a sygne of a hard wytte and spirite and immouable . But yf there be lytle heare and softe , it betokeneth a gentyll and easye wytte, and good to be taught.

The iudgement of the eares.

The greate Eares are engen-dred of aboundaunce of matter and suche men haue commonlye a lytle necke , and fayer.

They be sanguine somewhat colericke wyth grosse bloode and some thyng

A. b.

adulle

Phisognomie

adulte . And those men are very impatient and prone to anger . When the eares be great and right beyond measure it is a signe of follye , and abundance of manye superfluous wordes and longe lyfe . If they be so greate that they maye be compared to Asses eares , it is a signe of follye and stonyness . And when they be greate and hange downeward , they signifye riches . If they be thynne and drye , it is a signe of greate unstaiblenes , and that the man shall not haue much goodes . Very small eares betoken folyshe mentheenes and whozemongers . The small eares signifye the same thyng that the other before doe and therewith all they signifye deceyte and malignite . When the eares be narrowe and very long it is a signe of enuye . And yf they be verye longe they shewe and declare an enuious man . Lytle eares , signifye shorte lyfe . The eares that be to rounde declare an indocible man . If the muscle of the eares

Of the body humaine

eares be ioyned fast wth the fleshe of the throte . it is a sygne of follye , and vanitye . Plyable eares declare the proportion of the heate and moysture . The right eares thicke and full of gristles , declare that dynes hath dominion . The eares that be lyke halfe a cyrcle meane , and hollow , and ioyned to the line and middle somewhat pressed together toward the centre , syckinge neare to the head declare goodnes of nature . The eares that be couched close to the head signifie dull men slow and slowthfull . The eares that be hydden and tyred ryghte to the head betoken slowth . The eares that be hearye betoken long life and a good hearing .

The meane eares amonge all the sortes aforesayde are good , and tokens of goodnes , If there be anye greate quantytye of longe heare and thicke in the eares it betokeneth a boate courage and a desyre of carnall pleasure .

The

Phisfognoimye
The Iudgement of the Iawes and chekes.

MAlke be the emynent partes vnder the eyes and Maxillæ is the diminutiue . The chaffes be the parts of the Iawes oute of the whych the beard groweth . The Iawes are taken often times for the chaffes. The Iawes specially declare the complexion of þ man. The Iawes that is to say the eminent cheke of the vpper part of the mouth with the length of þ Iawes of the parte of the composition sygnifye malicious men . The short Iawes and farre out from the vpper part of the mouth sygnifye malyce backbitting violence enuie, specially whan in those partes there is no fleshe . The leane Iawes & of a thinne substance browne or somewhat yellowe declare a hote & a dry complexion. The Iawes that be as it were black, wyth a purged substance of fleshe signifye exces of dryenes and colds as it appeareth in a melancolye man.

Of the body humaine

man . The grosse fleshe of the Jawes is a signe of a grosse nature of cowardnes and sometyne violence . The Jawes that be to thynne betoken malignitye . And they that be softe and long signifye importunate babbyng and prating . The cheekes that be full , with full and blowen temples , betoken great wyath . When the cheekes are small and so sytuate , that they appeare cutte and seperated from the eyes , it is a sygne of aboundance of euill humours .

The roundenes of the cheekes declare enuye . When the cheekes be lyghte and euill sette , they signifye length of tounge , importunitye and much talke . Redde cheekes ( as is aboue sayd ) signifie drunkennes .

The nature of the mouth.

The mouth great & wyde betokeneth wyath , boldnes & warre . And such men are comonly glottons .

Phisognomye.

A wyde mouth withoute measure. as thought it were cutte and stretched out signifieth rauening inhumanite, wickednes, a warlyke hart and cruell, like vnto beastes of the sea. Such men are greate talkers, boasters, babblers, enuions, lyars, and full of follye. The mouthe that hath but a lyttle closynge and a lyttle openynge, signifieth a fearful mā, quyet & yet vnfaithfull. The mouthe that is verye apparent and rounde wyth thickenes of lippes, signifieth vnderlynes, follye, and cruelltye. The mouthe whyche hath a quantitie in his sytuation with a lyttle shutting, and smyllynge eyes wyth the reste of the face, signifieth a carnall man a louer of daunces, and a greate lyar. When the mouthe turneth in speakinge it is a sygne that it is infected wth some catarre or murre as it is manifest ynough. The long chynne declareth the man to be verye lyttle subiecte to anger, and of a good complexion; and yet he is somewhat

Of the body humaine

a babler and a boaster of hymselfe.

They that haue a litle chinne, are much to be auoyded and taken heede of, for besydes all vices wpth the whych they are fylled they are full of impietye and wyckednes and are spyes, lyke vnto serpentes. If the ende of the chynne be round it is a signe of feminine manners and also it is a sygne of a woman. But the chynne of a man muste be almoste square.

The iudgement of the lippes.

THE lippes be of softe fleshe with a good moouinge bycause of the speech. The greate lippes are meete for fooles and dullardes. The redde coloure of the lippes, on the syde of the openinge of the mouth, commeth of the baynes that be in that place. The naturall coloure of the lippes is redde in the vtter partes bycause of the synesse of the skynnes, and sygnyfyeth cleanes
of

Whisvognoynpe.

of complexion and withoute myrtition of troubled bloode in great ver-tue . The blacknes of the Lippes sygnifieth the contrarpe , for the ver-tue of the bloode and naturall heate is gonne and those that haue suche Lippes are syckely . The neather lippe lose and verpe redde sygnifyeth greate fleshelynes , and vnshamefastnes in a woman . The lippes grosse declare great substance of matter drawen of heate . And the grossenes declareth the humours and the grosse spyrtes, of the whyche proceedeth dulnes of vnderstandynge . If they be ryghte and thicke , that is to saye sygne and fast, and Joyned togyther Mars is theyr planette . And lykelysse whan the mouthe is greate.
Softe lippes and somewhat syn-lynge whyche be in a merye face be-token flesshelpenes . Yet sometime they be also deceyuours , theenes and full of fraude and gyle.

They

Of the body humaine.

They that haue not red lippes wyth, in are syche, or very neare to sickenes.
The lippes of the mouth very great, and slacke, or to muche tourned outward signifie simplicitie, and readines to wyath and grosse wytte: and fleame ruleth in them. Thynne lippes and lose in the vppermost partes, so that the vpper lippe be bowynge downe to the lownyng of the lippes, signifieth magnanimitie: thynne lippes and hard appearing aboute the teeth signi-fie a beastly vnderstandyng and wytte vnapt to be taught. The lippes that bee great beneath in the neather part, betoken folyshe men, and lyke to Asses.
The vpper lippe very apparent in the Gummes, signifie men that loue con-tumelies and euyll claunderynge, and are alwayes in bysolvynge and contra-uerfies: the lytle lippes wth a lytle mouth, signifieth weakenesse of the spirite and naughty crasse. The best maner or sorte of lippes and mouth is when they are not to moyste, for the

R. J. moyst.

Whisvogndurpe.

moyltines of the mouth and lyppes, sygnifye fearefulnesse and malignitye. The greate blabbe lyppes, betoken greate follye, babblyng and audacitie. The lyppes that bee neyther to thycke nor to thynne, and some what tourned outwarde, sygnifye, secretenesse, pollicie, wyathe, and a great wytt. The lyppes that bee well coloured, moore thynne then thycke, signifie a fayre condicioned man, and chaungeable to two wayes: But rather vnto vertue. And of suche men Jupiter is the Planette. The lyppes that bee not equall, so that one is greater then the other, declare the man to bee lyse and of a chaungeable fortune. The vpper lyppes smale and some what lostye, signifie the man to bee a blabbe and a longe tongue, beere enuious, and an accusour. Thynne vpper lyppes, hangyng and tourned insyde out, betoken a theefe, and a deceyuour. You maye not iudge of the Ethiopians lyppes vnlesse you haue

Of the body huaine.

haue bene conuersant amonge them and diligently noted and observed they qualities. But of our regions and countreys, we maye geue iudge-mente.

Of the teeth.

When the teeth that bee lyke Dogges teeth, bee long and fast, and that they stycke oute of the mouth, it is a signe of a glotton, sub-secte to angre, wicked and a foole.

Weake teeth thynne and smale, declare all the bodye to bee weake, and the lyfe of the manne to bee shorte and weake. The sownde made wyth the teeth betokeneth follye or lacke of wytte, whyche thyng happeneth sometyme to Chyl dren sleepeinge, whyche is a token of Wormes.

Great and broade teeth, apparente eyther wythin, or wythoute, signifibanstie in a man, slouth, simplicitie, but yet a good wytte.

R. G.      Sonys

Phisognomye.

Some saye that it is signe of a grosse wytte , procedyng from grosse humours: the teeth that bee extreme drye altogether without moisture, signifie in a sicke man death , and in a health-full man they shewe a sicknes verie nigh at hande, for the moyst roote seemeth to be consumed. And the bodies of suche men are as a lampe withoute Oyle: teeth that be full of reume signifie a fault of the head, or elles of the Stomacke , throught the communicatyng of the head and the lunges, which be causes of a descendyng or runnyng at the nose (which goeth by the throte) of coughing or quinsies , and of swelllyng in the throte . Beastes that haue theyr teeth gagged lyke a sawe drinke lyckynge : but those that haue them vniforme and even drynke suppyng.

Of the tongue.

The

Of the body humaine.

The tongue is made to tast and to pronounce woordes and to utter the voyce. The tongue that is tourned right downe, or that stutteth or stumblleth, signifieth the fire of the belly: they that be subiect to laskes and fires become stutters, because of the matter whiche descendeth from the head, whiche entreth into the poores of the tongue and muscles, wherof it commeth to passe, that the tongue is the greater, and thereby made broder, and so shorter: and therfore some stammer and stutte. The tongue that is tied before, can not well pronounce woordes or letters, but pronounceth C, in steade of S: and that maketh the man to stutte. And yf it be tyed behynde it can not well pronounce the letter R, but in steade of R, it pronounceth L, they that stutte feare wyne, for they wyll bee dronke commonly, and therfore drunkards doe stammer, and can not well pronounce this word (Trematry). The heaviness of the tongue in R.ij. youth

Whisfognoinye.

youth, signifieth soddayne death after it wareth once lyghte. The greate and broad tongue declareth a rude wytte and vnderstandynge and flematycke humours. He that stutteth and repeateth often the fyrste syllable of a worde is readye to melancolynes. The tonge that is touched wyth a lyght mouynge and is cause of repetyng the wordes by corruption of speeche, betokeneth follye violence and wyathe: because of the moouyng of the spirites, and of the heate whiche hasteth the prouocation vnauidedlye. When the tongue is longe and redde withall, it is a sygne of wysedome: for it declareth good and commendable humours. A whyte tongue betokeneth pouertie and miserie. The tongue that is hurte or marred wyth heate vnnaturall signifieth distemperaunce and cruell disposition specialllye of the belly and breast. A longe tongue, grosse and so rounde that a man maye wype his olone nose with it, declareth a nature lyke an

Oris

Of the body humaine.

Ore. The tongue that is shortened wth some humours loseth hys taste.
All men that stutte be rude of bodye and proude.

Of the voyce.

They that haue a slowe voyce and grauē, are quiet men and easye to bee spoken to, merry and well manered. The voyce that is graue and drawen long, betokeneth strength I meane the grosse voyce, and that soundeth lyke a trumpet. The force of the voyce, sheweth the wydenesse of the Veynes, and the multitude of spirites; all the whyche thynges come of heate. The men that haue a grosse voyce are verie iniurious and are compared to Ases. They that haue a grosse voyce by nature, wthout forcyng it are stronge, and that is referred to Dogges. They that haue a grosse voyce, and soundyng well, are warrelke and eloquent.

A sharpe or shrill voyce signifieth fear-fulnes. By this voyce I meane a smal voyce and not a great: the voyce shrill and soft, and broken betokeneth a wo-manlyke feare, and is attributed vnto them y<sup>e</sup> be effeminate: the voyce sharpe and stronge, declareth men to be full of anger, it is the proprietie of Goates.
A weake voyce betokeneth narrow arteries, and want of spirite, which thin-ges come of cold. A soft voyce and not drawen or stretched out, betokeneth meekenes, which is in sheepe. For you muste referre and compare the voyce as well as all other thyngs to the like-nes of beastes. The antinocates, that is to saye, they that speake great at the first and smale at the laste, and haue a sharpe voyce are full of wrath, and yet they be some appeased agayne, & are of a gentle affection. A meane voyce in founde and in greatnes, declareth the man to bee wise, circumspecte, iuste, and trew. They that haue an vnplea-sant sound of theyr voyce, and discorde dyng

Of the body humaine

being are numbred amonge the fooles: they that be hasty in theyr speache (spe- cially yf they haue a shyll voyce) are commonly wycked and greate fooles, impoxtune, and lyers. But yf the voyce be great, the man will common- ly be angry, and of a noughty nature.

They that haue a soft and sweete voice are enuious, and full of suspicion.

They that moue muche and often and speake with mouinge of theyr handes, are vncleanely, eloquent, and decy- uours: But they that moue not so theyr handes, haue a perfite witte and vnderstandynge, and haue also a good disposition and good counsel: they that speake in the Rose are lyers, euill wyl- lers, and enuious.

The maners and condi- tions of men & prouinces.

The Spanyards are meanly strong but for to doe all other thynges, which are possible to be done, they surmount & passe many other nations.

R.b.

And

Whysognoynye.

And there be many among them very excellent, and that in diuers maners in castyng the stone, in nymblenes and in manye other thynges.

In Portugale the men are melan- colye and sanguyne for the most parte: manye of them are sufficient stronge, althoughe they haue no lyuelynesse of witte or spirite.

The Sicilians are collericke, and melancolicke, and stronge of bodye: they exercise them selues in wastelynge, or at the castyng of the barre, and are nymble and quicke.

The Italians for the moste parte are weake men, and some amonge (althoughe the number bee smale) haue greate strength, and are wont to bee moore excellent than other, but yet rather of imitation then by inuention. They bee slender, and of a stature betwene greate and meane.

In Germanye the men are stematike, whiche shewe manifestlye the nature of that complexion, that is to saye,

Of the body humaine

saye, that they bee flematycke and verye Chollerycke. Furthermoore, they bee of a greate bodye, but yet selwe there are amonge them that haue great bodye strength, or anye greate actiuitie and nymblenesse, to doe anye harde thynges, though they bee verye industrious to doe materiall thynges, whiche concerneth anye worke of the handes.

The Frenchmen be made and proportioned of fleame and of Chollere, and are for the moste parte slowe and weake. Yet there are some of them singular, and surmounte others in manye thynges, but the number is smale. They bee robute and stronge, but they haue not the meane and waye howe to vse theyr strength.

The iudgement of other partes of the body.

They that haue a lytle pecke and a long, haue a good voyce & great & are fooles, fearfull & malignāt.
But

Phisyognomye.

But they that haue a short necke, are very whote and great deceyuours.

They that haue a greate necke, are great fooles, and great eaters: the nob of the necke long and broad, signifieth good courage and pryde: the cleuation of humour, signifieth a rude & vnfaithfull nature. When the armes of the body that is right vp, are so longe that the hands reache to the knees, it is a sygne of actiuitie and nymbleresse at woꝝke, of audacitie, and of goodnes, with liberalitie: But when they bee shorter it is a sygne of a louer of discorde, and of an ignorant person.

The paulme of the handes long, with longe fyngers, signifie an apte man to manye artes, namelye to mecanycall & handye craftes, & prudent and ware in all hys affayres. For there is in hym a sygne of good regiment and governaunce: the greatnes of the fingers signifie folly and imprudencie.

You must also measure the place from the nauell vnto the ende of the bꝛeast
and

Of the body humaine

and to the beginning of the necke. If the parte of the brest be bigger, it is a sygne of prudence and wysdome, but yf that whiche is in the brest vnto the navel, bee greater it is a sygne of a deuourer. If the belly bee to slacke, as though it were emptye, it is a sygne of fearefulness, of wyckednes and of deuouring: the belly that is somewhat softer and deeper, is a sygne of the force and vertue of the wytte, and of magnificence. The sydes thynne and narrowe and deepe, betoken fearefulness: But when they bee moore fleshy and harde, they shewe the man to be vnapt to be taughte. And they that bee round, as though they were swollen, signifye much vnprofitable talke.

The backe broad and sound, is a sygne of manlynes, & the womans is contrarye. If the body of the that haue crooked bodies bee softe, it is not so euill as yf it were in a thicke & hard body. If the lower part of the chyne of the back be hidden in the breadeth and to abundaunt,

and

Phisयोगnoimé.

and enuironed with flesh, it agreeth with women. That whyche is longe and sharpe at the ende, it declareth distemperaunce of the carnall desyre, and fearefulnes. When the chyne of the backe of a man is that whiche is manifest in the bones moderate and sound. The haunches harde and solyde, and seperate from the bones, betoken a stronge and warrellyke man. But yf they bee broade, ample, and full of flesh, they signifie a feminine vnderstandyng and witte: But yf they bee to leane and full of wyrynckles and compassed about with a thyn skyrine, they signifie the wickednes of Apes.

When the knees touche one the other in goynge, they bee referred to the woman kynde. When the lower partes of the thynnes nerte to the heeles, and the heeles, and the vnder parte of the fete bee broade, and full of flesh, it is a sygne of a foolyshe man, or without wytte. The vnder part of the fete seperated from the synowes and arteries

Of the body humaine

terles, sheweth a cleare understandyng, noble, and manly. If the feete bee soft, and enuyroned with fleshe, it is a sygne of a soft and womanlyke wytte. The feete berpe longe shewe the man to bee vigilant and geuen to deceyte, seekynge the hurte of manye men. The feete very thynne and short, betoken malignitie. The shorte feete haunge the sole hollowe is an euill sygne.

Of the goyng of the feete.

They that marche or goe a greate pase are stoute men and attayne to the ende of theyr enterpryses.
But they that goe a lytle pase, and shorte, haue but a lytle courage. The croked goyng, is cause of grieve, and of obscuritie of wytte. When the man goeth lyghtly haunge all his bodys bpyghte, it is a sygne that he wyl take in hande some enterpryse, and by and by doe some great thyng.

But

Phisognomie.

But if a man go swiftly with his eyes looking downewarde, and go altogether crooked, it is a sygne of a nyggard, fearefull and subtile. They that haue the nod of the necke short, are audacious and bolde, and yet fearefull. They that haue a harde brygne, it is a sygne that they bee indocible. The nod of the necke tourned bpwarde, signifieth insolence, rygour, follye and banitie.

When the nod of the necke hangeth on the pectorall partes, they declare the mynde to bee occupied in thoughtes and imaginations. And it is also a sygne of sparynge and of wyckednes. The throte sharpe signifieth lightnes. The shulders thynne, right, and poynted, signifie the man to bee a lyer in wayte to deceyue. The Elbowes thynne, signifie imbecillitie & weakenes. And when they bee verie full of fleshe they betoken weakenes. But when they bee meanely solpde & harde great of artires and muscles, they betoken a noble bodye, & of god courage.

When

Of the body humaine

When the fingers are soft it is a signe that the man is easie to be instructed and taught. When they be hard he is strong and vnapt to be taught. When the handes be short and the fingers strong it is a good signe. If the fatte and lytle hands haue very short fingers they be token a deceptour, a spy, and a thefe. The hands thynne and crooked, shewe the man to be a greate talker & babler. The nayles white brode & some what redde signifye a very good Iudgement. But when they be narrow & very long it is a signe of folly, & cruelty. The nayles if be bowed & crooked signifye impudency, and violent rapacity. The nayles that be depe within the fleshe & sicke to fall vnto it signifye excessive crueltye & great folly. The nayles that be to mozt pale black, and sharpe, declare a naughty malignant man. These signes that be attributed to the nayles of them selves haue no vertue nor force. But whā they be ioyned vnto other greater they haue some efficacye or force. When the

S.i.

fingers

Whisvognoyme.

Fingars be iorned and sticking the one to the other, they signifie vnclenlynnes.
And that be caste & fast together round shewe malignitie, couetousnes and the man to be a whozemonger. Wha they be small and thinne it is a signe of folly.
The short fingars and great signifie enuie, audacity, & cruelty. And whan they be too long and too slender, it is a signe of a wittles man & farre from wisedome.
And if there be to greate distaunce between them, it is a signe of lightnes and of too muche talke. But whan they be meaneley great & of an honest forme and fashion it is a signe of verie good ma-ners. Now these thinges are ment al-well of the nailes & of the toes as of the fingars and handes. A slender & thinne breast & without vertue or strength, sig-nifieth weaknes of heate. They that haue their pappes hanging & their breast en-uironed with softe fleshe, are giuen to wine, and to leachery yea excessiueley.
They that magge their sholders & lyfte up their necke shalbe counted arrogant
and

Of the body humaine.

& proud. But they that wagge all these body thems evidently that they be effeminate. And among all these the moſte tollerable kind are they y<sup>e</sup> bowe down their bodies on the right ſide when they ſturte; and the ſoldeſt are they that ſtuthe body toward the left ſide.

Of the breath.

When the breath ſometime ceſſeth and then a long time after breatheth out in great abundance, beclaſteth the man to be in great trouble of mind. Alſo when the head ſhaketh & ſigheth; it is a ſigne that there is in it ſome naughty and euill framed thing. The ſpíríte that maketh a royle, and is greatly moved and thruſt oute; it is a ſigne of cruelty & that the man is giuen to wine. They alſo y<sup>e</sup> haue their breath troubled and groſſe as they that haue runne longe are voyde of counſell and ſubiect to anger, and haue alſo a facilitie readines to do and to ſpeake. This rule ſhould to be obſerued in all ſignes and
S. li. tokens

Phisognomie

tokens so that you must take the superstitious in euill part and the meane and temperature to be good. The haire of the thighs be to crooked and to heare it is signe of whoredome. This is referred vnto the goates. Aristotle saith more of the buttocks that be very dry signifie virility & malines & they if be very fleshy & moist signifie effemination, & they that be as it were cut, declare the wickednes of man. And this is referred vnto beares and apes. The signes of an impudent man be suche as folow. First he hath bright shining eyes & open, the eyelides far asunder: great face, & great handes he reisseth himself against the y beholde him. He is red of colour & hath a sharpe voice. And beside all these signes of im-pudency he is inuicious. The beare hath which hath blacke beare right & smooth, the mouth, the chinne, and the temples beare, great eyes and glistering, is furious, enclined to whoredome; a lous of fraies and fightinge, euill tongued, Jeronimus Cardanus a Phisition of Milan a man

Of the body humaine

a man truly of great learning & knowledge saith thus in his. xii. booke de Sub-tilitate. Enē as all lame mē are wicked so all they which are in health haue not good manners. For it is moze requisite, & there is moze a doe to fayne a mind without faulte, than a body. Wherefore the most wicked of al other, are h̄ croke backed men seing the faulte of them is neare vnto the hart whych is the prince of all h̄ body. Next are the blind and the squint eyed men, forasmuch as nature hath failed about h̄ bryne. After them come the dome & the desse. And then the halting men & after thē are they ȳ haue their fingers fast, toynd together, or so farre a soulder the one from the other for nature hath failed in them, in members lesse necessarye. They that be ful of wartes haue the nexte and last place and the scarred bodies folow them.

The Judgement of other partes of the body.

S. iii.

The

Phisognomye.

The largnes of the brest and the greatnes of the shulders and back sygnisfe bouyt, and audacisye, with capacite of ioytte and wissebome. But y smallnes of the backe declarcth the man to be of a discomfort nature. The meanes of the brest and equalnes of the backe is a very good sygne. The shulders lase declare weakenes of the mynde and fearfullnes. They that haue a great belly are indiscrete, fooles, proud and whoremongers. The meane belly and narrow stomach sygnifie hyghnes of vnderstanding and good counsell. The smallnes of the legges declare ignorance and the greatnes of the, sygnifie audacitie & strenght of body. Aboundance of fleshe at the knes sygnisfeth debilitie and weaknes or effemination. They that haue a wyde pale in goyng and slowe, prosper commonly in their doynges & assayes. But they that haue a lytle pale are violent, and of small strenght and in their woorkes of an euill will. Finallye be

Of the body humaine

he hath a good memoꝛy and well composed in nature that hath a softe fleshe moyse and meane betwene rough and softe, and whan he is neyther to great noꝛ to litle when he is whyte, declining to reddenes: oꝛ whan he is neyther to much but meanely blacke. Gentyll of continuaunce hauing the heare full and meane. Great eyes somewhat round A meane head, and of a good fashyon, wyth a great necke well and equally sette. The shulders faste and ferme wythoute waueyng to p: fro not hauing muche fleshe in the small of the legges, and knees. A cleare voyce smal temperate: some what smilyng & not mockig: hauing a lyke loke of mirth &c. Yet you maye not be to hasty in gyuing Judgement oꝛ aduise in one of these signes: But take the testimone of them all. And you haue the dyuersyte of signes tending to dyuers things turne alwayes to the better parte and the moste approued. Then may you pronosticate and gyue Judgement moꝛe